MAKE YOUR MONEY MULTIPLY

Little Sums Saved will Become a Working Capital

How often have you said, "If I had a little capital right now I could get into a business that would make me a good deal of money." Now give THIS SUBJECT some serious thought and you must conclude that there are ALWAYS opportunities for the man who can command the "Little Capital." The more you reflect upon it the clearer it will become that ALL fortunes are built upon the wise use of a "little capital" and that this foundation of capital is composed of small savings.

For the first year or two it may be that it seems a slow process, but then you are only working a sum in addition. But when you get a substantial sum in the bank with which to "do something with" you may be sure that your opportunity will come and you will advance to multiplication. The spendthrift knows only subtraction and division. He never has, at any one time, enough of a "remainder" to enable him to take advantage of a favorable business opening.

You will be at a disadvantage unless you do business as the rest of the world does it. Ninety per cent. of the business in the United States is done with bank checks. Your checks become as good as bank notes; your balance at the bank will keep growing; your credit will become firmly established—and you will soon have the working capital that makes money multiply.
