Address to Temperance Forces of North Caro lina.

President J W Baily, of the Anti-Saloon League of this State, has is-sued the following address to the temperance forces of this State:

We congratulate the people of North Carolina upon the progress of the cause of temperance within the last four years, and upon the fact that the situation of the cause at the present time is more hopeful than at any time in our history. Legislative statutes have excluded saloons and distilleries from our rural districts and small towns in whic's police supervision could not be effectual; while under local option thirty of our best towns and cities have voted out saloous. At present saloons exist in only seventeen of the ninety-six counties in North Carolina and dispensaries in seven Within four years about 400 liquor licenses have been cancelled in our temperance movement.

While the facts are gratifying, the conditions favorable to our cause are more gratifying. An examination of the recent political records reveals the fact that the political leaders in North Carolina are in sympathy with the temperance movement, and barring a few localities, are independent of the once powerful saloon vote. Moreover, the temperance people are in a state of great encouragement. They take assurance from the recent successes that the time is shortly at hand when the hopes of the fathers who labored before them in this cause are to be realized, when, with proper effort and sacrifice, we shall be able once and fer all to utterly banish the saloon from our beloved commonwealth.

We recognize from year to year a most wholesome and substantial progress in opinion favorable to our cause. Everywhere new citizens are saying, "The Saloon Must Go." There are strongholds to be sure, but even in them the tide of temper-ance opinion rolls higher day by day.

Moreover, the state of mind, with reference to law-enforcement is inreference to law-enforcement is in-creasingly gratifying. Officers of the law are realizing that behind our temperance legislation is the voice of the people, and that they must enforce the people's will or retire in favor of those who will.

Violators of temperance laws are Violators of temperance laws are at last receiving punishments commensurate with their crime not only against the State, but against Society and common welfars.

Ve have also "made good," The evils predicted by our opponents have not come to pass. Our prohibition cities and towns are more bition cities and towns are more prosperous than ever. Nor have the political leaders who stood for our cause lost thereby. Instead they have grown in favor with the people. With thoughts of this kind we call the temperance forces to the work for another year. Our efforts work for another year. Our enorse in the past have been rewarded beyond our deserts. Let us put on the armour for the battles ahead in the spirit of gratitude to God, and of courage and victory in His name. There is much yet to be done.

While of the present we may be content to strengthen our present policy, enforce our present laws with a view of their improvement and these are objects worthy to arouse our best efforts—we are also filment of our hopes in the final end of the liquor traffic in North Carolina. We respectfully advise that it be-

YOU GO ON YOUR HONEYMOON

Corner Is Wemen, and Other Follow," by Ten Massen. Cappright, 1925, by Modes, Yard & Co., New York. MAN'S honeymoon is a thing that may happen only three or four times in his life, and never becomes what we may term a settled habit. It usually requires, therefore, a certain kind of originality to cope with it. All great joys need to be borne with patience and with due humility, but when we are more or less un-nerved anyway, leaves us usually in an incompetent condi-tion, Instead of controlling our happiness, in-stend of being able to lay it out in highly colored sections like the plots at a smart railroad station, we are carried along by it powerlessly, like chips in a seething current.

It is well to look our honeymoon squarely in the face. If it is a good, bonest honeymoon, nothing will be lost and much will be gained.

One of the peculiar inconsistencies about the average honeymoon is that the best are none too good, when, as a matter of fact, there is no period of our lives when it makes so little difference to us as to what our surroundings are. Then, again, we almost invariably se-lect some place that is really worth seeing when we are in no condition to look at it.

Washington and Niagara are both desirable and highly interesting places to know about, but when we go to these places on our honeymoons we know so much less about them when we have left than when we arrived that it really seems a shame to glid ourselves with so much that is superfluous.

Every man ought to marry a widow at least once in his life merely for the experience, and when he does he may be sure of the right kind of a honey-moon. But to the novices we would make our appeal, and tha is not to exhibit yourself unduly in public during a honeymoon. An otherwise sober and sensible citizen, who has about him sterling qualities, does not necessarily constitute himself an ass when he puts on a frock coat, lavender trousers, a slik hat and, with a flower in his buttonbole, leads a sweet young thing out over the highways and principal rail-road systems of the country. But he will do much better if he settles down in some out of the way place for a few weeks until the glamour wears off and his wife learns the number of lumps of sugar he takes in his coffee. lumps of sugar he takes in his coffee. By and by, when he gets so that he can look at other girls and feel that, after all, woman is a lovely creature, no matter where you meet her, and when his wife begins to catch up with her mind and resigns herself to her fate, then let him lead her out into a Pullman car, where they can both sit in separate seats and really enjoy themselves as if each of them didn't have a chattel mortgage on the other that coy-selves as if each of them didn't have a chattel mortgage on the other that covered everything.

This is the right time to take a conventional honeymoon—about ten years after the wedding—when Love is still with you, of course, but when he has come down off the stage and is sitting so far away up in the gallery that he doesn't disturb in the least the principal actors in the play.
