

The Asheboro Courier

PRICE ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

Wm. C. HAMMER, Editor.

It is said that Postmaster General Cortelyou, who is also executor of the Republican party of last campaign, kept busy these days watching and thinking about that New York grand-jury, which has returned indictments against so many of the New York Life Insurance companies for paying money belonging to the policy holders for campaign purposes to the National Republican executive committee during the last campaign. Smarting under the charges made so parallel against him for corrupt methods, Andrew Hamilton, Atty. for one of the New York Life Insurance companies has produced a receipt for seventy-five thousand dollars signed by Cornelius N. Bliss, the treasurer of the National Republican executive committee. The New York Evening Post has an article in reply to this matter in which it says:

"Now that the whole system of voting of the corporations to carry on Republican campaigns has been made so clear, the wonder continues here that President Roosevelt and Chairman Cortelyou find it possible to remain silent. Testimony offered before the Armstrong committee that Chairman Babcock, of Wisconsin, took $3,500 from the Mutual Life as the company's share toward preventing tariff revision, has gone unheeded. Senator Platt's lucid testimony, telling of the annual cash contributions of $10,000 which he received, has never been disputed. Now comes the receipt for another secretly-made contribution for $75,000 to add fuel to the flame of resentment. The President's silence in the face of this accumulation of evidence, showing how the party of which he is the titular and actual head buys and pays for elections, and its sources of income is difficult to understand. The facts disclosed cannot be ignored, as every important Republican here realizes. Nor will the issue that has been raised blow over; no answer is made to specific sworn testimony and disclosures backed by written documents."

Chairman Taggart, of the National Democratic committee has promised to get proof from any authorized committee when summoned today, and make a statement, from whom the moneys were received by the Democratic committees and for what purpose they were expended and dares the Republican chairman to do likewise.

Every now and then we hear someone say that the Republican party should be united. This is a false delusion; for that party has been weighed in the balance and found wanting by the people in North Carolina. There may be a respectable number of North Carolinians, who believe in the so called Republican party principle, but there are very few who have any confidence in the particulars of that party, quoting from the Wilmington Star of recent date:

"Oh no, the people never had their minds clouded but they had wet blankets a plenty thrown over them, and we should think their experience was enough to cook the goose of the Republican party until doomsday."

So far as prosperity is concerned, North Carolina has her share of prosperity that is world-wide—that is even more markedly shown in financial circles in Europe than it is in America. The Republican party is not responsible for prosperity across the waters and when times go to the bad over there we would be pretty apt to find out that the Republican party would be powerless to save us from depression in the United States. Anyhow, North Carolina is getting her share of prosperity despite any Republican party in North Carolina, and it is pretty safe to say that the Old North State will go on enjoying her share in prosperity without any change in her State administration.

Prof. C. L. Coon, an experienced educator recently made an address in which he said that many teachers were paid too much and that many of them were paid more than they earned. Prof. Coon is a man of ability, but he is "very much off" to use a slang phrase, about this after. You may hold educational picnics and rallies all you want to but you cannot have schools without capable teachers, and you cannot get these at the prices which are paid lower than we pay convicts from the penitentiary to work on public roads. We have increased the price of the lower school officials and have to some extent increased the price of school teachers but there is not a corresponding increase in the price paid to teachers.

The nomination of Hon. J. Milton Brown for the State Senate by the democratic convention at Albemarle in Stanly county on Tuesday of this week, was a goods election by the democracy of Stanly. Mr. Brown is a Randolph county boy, a nephew of Col. J. R. Lane, and a good democrat and a gentleman of fine ability and the highest integrity. He has served two terms in the House and was chief clerk of the Senate for four years.

Mr. Brown is an eloquent speaker and fine campaigner.

Until two years ago Stanly county has had only one Republican official in forty years and that was a sheriff elected by accident several years ago. He served two years. Two years ago feeling the security of a large majority for many years, many of the democrats did not take the trouble to vote. They will vote this year. They held their convention on Tuesday of this week, and never was there a more determined assemblage in any county in the State. It is an inspiration to hear them talk. They mean to win and Stanley will give an old time Democratic majority of from 500 to 800

Hon. H. B. Varner, Chairman of Democratic County Executive Committee of Davidson county has called the county executive committee to meet in Lexington next Monday for the purpose of calling a county convention. Mr. Varner has declared his intention to resign as Chairman of the executive committee and asks that his successor be re-elected at an early date. For five successive campaigns Mr. Varner has been the official head of the party in that county, and has been a successful and brilliant leadership. The county has become one of the rock-ribbed Democratic counties. In the last campaign Davidson was one of the few counties which gave a greatly increased democratic majority.

The factory owners at High Point declare that they have more at work than at the beginning of the lock-out while the lock-out men declare that many accessions have been made to the union. Both sides state positively that they will not give way an inch. The union men say that they will not give up the union to get back to work and the factory men assert that their factories shall not before they will employ union men.

Senator Overman recently made a very sensible speech, in the Senate on the rate bill. In the close of his argument he told of the danger of power conferred on federal judges. He declared that in the James case a federal judge denied justice to a widow whose husband had been killed by a railroad in North Carolina.

Judge Peebles suggests that the justices of the peace be required to attend court Monday of the first term in every year at which time the presiding Judge when he charges the grand jury is to instruct the magistrates as to their duty.

DEMOCRATIC THOUGHT.

Sena or Knox, the eminent corporation attorney, who was elected to represent the Pennsylvania Railroad interests in the United States Senate, declares that the railroad rate bill, as it stands, is unconstitutional.

The New York laboring men are quite anxious that the Department of Justice shall take the necessary steps to prepare the coffin trust for burial, but the Department has received such a shock over the decision in the beef trust case that it will require time before it gets into the ring again. Then the Administration has declared its hostility to most of the things Labor wants anyway.

That $100,000 appropriation for a private car for the President has been side tracked until the amount actually necessary can be discovered, for it has been found that however much is appropriated the Administration expends it all.

As the Beef Trust magnates have been set free by the court, through the blundering of Mr. Garfield and the law officers of the Administration, the price of beef cannot be expected to come down, nor the price of cattle to go up and yet the Republicans are trying to make out that this is a trust-busting Administration.

When such expert lobbyists as "Judge" Hamilton and "Lou" Payne agree that the admitted amounts paid by the Insurance companies as campaign contributions was "a mere bagatelle" how the people will open their eyes when they know the whole truth about the connection of the Republican committees with the "yellow dog fund."

All the cabinet but Mr. Moody are said to be out of harmony with President Roosevelt on the control of railroad rates, which shows how the leading Republican statesmen are owned and controlled by the corporations. No similar conditions have prevailed under any former Administration, and it is safe to say that a house so divided against itself can hardly endure. It may come to this that President Roosevelt in self-defense will have to compromise with the corporations, or if he is an earnest reformer, he will have to invite Democratic statesmen to join his official household.

When the Democratic party was disrupted over the financial issue at the beginning of the second term of President Cleveland, how jubilant the Republicans were and how confident of success in the then coming congressional elections. Now history reports itself and the tables are turned, for it is the Democrats who are now jubilant and encouraged and the Republicans discouraged and facing defeat.

A Degenerate Party.

The Republican party has brought the country to a shocking state of affairs and there is no end to the scandals and exposures that are constantly being brought to light. That keen observer of affairs, the New York Post, says:

"The present is a period of havoc and upheaval. The gale of reform that rages over the land lays bare most hideous conditions. A dollarized society, insensible to all but pricking selfishness, makes possible corruption high and low. Bribe, graft, knavery, exploitation, investigation, disclosure, confusion, shame, in all the avenues of activity the public ferret is at work. This is a period of iconoclasm. Idol after idol crumbles in the fierce glare of revelation. An age whose mighty achievements are grounded on confidence finds itself at the apex of its triumph preoccupied in revealing vast betrayals of trusts. And the bewildered soul shocked into uncertainty snatches desperately after fragments of that primal faith which binds society together, fearful lest the slow fruits of an age long altruism be lost to this universal exploitation."

Senator Bailey's Triumph.

Speeches on political subjects delivered in the United States Senate are said to but seldom change the votes of Senators. The forensic ability of Senator Bailey and his unanswerable argument that Congress has the power to prohibit the inferior federal courts from issuing temporary injunctions against the enforcement of orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission, proved one of the exceptions. Senator Hale, a political opponent, acknowledged that he and other Republicans had been convinced by Senator Bailey's arguments that the power to restrict the courts was inherent in Congress.

No Senator of the present day has such a record to boast of, and it is a personal and political triumph that lifts Senator Bailey to the pinnacle of fame as a Democratic orator, debater and Constitutional lawyer.
