Second C us Matter.

And amongst others Mr. Marien Butler, the Lew leader of the Re-publican party n North Caroline, got a body blow at Greensboro Friday .- Charlotte Observer.

Thomas Pence writing the News and Observer says Congressman the Attorney General and demand the removal of District Attorney Holton from office. Mr. Blackburn is confident that he can control the State convention when it convener to the state convention t despite the powerful machine operating in the State.

A dispatch frrm Asheville says that there is great dissatisfaction question of interest is, how did they find out how the jury stood.

The Hon. Marion Butler is now in Greensboro. As it has often been stated and never denied that Marion is really in charge of the without any further regulation than Republican party in this State, al-though there has been a shrewd ef-fort to keep the fact concealed, it is freedom from waste and excessive taxation; upon the regulation of supposed he is here to establish corporations, freedom from special headquarters in the city where his favors and from any interference

BLACKBURN ACQUITTED.

After having moved heaven and earth to convict Representative three days' trial, in a dismal failure.

After the evidence was heard and argument of counsel, Judge Goff delivered a lengthy charge to the jury, closing with the following words directing the jury to return a verdict ef not guilty;

"And so, should you return a verdict of 'gailty', under these conditions I would at once set it aside. It is therefore useless to have you go through the formality of considering the case or returing a verdict

This sn lden announcement caused a burst of applause and a large number of ladies in attendance rushed up and shook Judge Goff's hand.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN SCAN-DAL

Disgraceful Condition of the Consular Service.

The President has, no doubt, endeavored to cleanse and improve the service by forcing the resignation of some of the grafters for "the good of the service," many worthless incumbents still remain. "While there has been much progress, says the New York Post, "there are many consuls who do not reflect credit on the country. There was the one at Coburg, for instance, who turned the consulate into a disreputable resort and made every exporter ble resort and made every exporter contribute a 'sample' for use in furnishing the consulate, or to be disposed of for the benefit of the con sul's pocket. Careful investigation would have shown the man's unfit-ness for office before his appointment. The State department re moved him for the 'good of the ser-vice.' but Mr. Roosevelt, in the eyes of the Coburgers, added insult to injury by appointing as his successor that Saylor who obtained unenviable notoriety by trying to defraud the State of Pennsylvania when serving in its Legislature, and when serving in its Legislature, and join the great alleut majority. when serving in its Legislature, and who was officially denounced by the Governor. There are plenty of other cases on record in which the President or the State Department connived at the appointment of unfit men."

Their records and the disgrace they have brought on the country, make the ears of every American, when traveling abroad, tingle with the remarks of foreigners, who point to the official representatives of this country as typical citizens of the United States. The demoralization of the Republican politicians seems ubiquitous, yet there are plenty of honest Republicans who would do us credit but they seem to have no chance in the race for office as they do not generally belong to the political machine.

If we were to get our hell on earth for our sign, this country is a country.

One of the Life Insurance mugnates has been arrested for giving a large sum of money, that should have been sacred to the widows and orphans of the policy holders, to the Republican National Commitpaign, but the evidence shows he was greatly mistaken, for the insurance trust and other corporations "came down" handsomely. The strange part of it is that the Ad ministration are in the company of th tee, President Roosevelt declared before election that no tainted ministration organs before the last national election declared that, the President was managing the campaign on a "business basis" and receiving daily reports of the finances a term in the Federal prison for tainted: No restitution has yet been made, though it would seem that the ethics of the situation de-mand that the money be returned turned to its rightful owners.

Agains: these new follies of budthat there is great dissatisfaction among friends over the Blackburn acquital and that many assert that Blackburn would have been convicted, had Judge Goff permitted the case to go to the jury for a majority were in favor of conviction. The question of interest is, how did they find out how the jury stood.
