Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. Scott & Bowser Chemists 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50 cents and $1.00 All druggists

MUCH LOVED PASTOR.

Mr. Lambeth Forced to Leave Pulpit on Account of Nervous Breakdown.

The resignation of Rev. Wm. Lambeth, pastor of Homes Memorial church, at Salisbury, has caused wide spread sorrow in that town. He accepted the pastorate there last November, fresh from college, and entering upon his work with a characteristic earnestness and zeal his church was soon taxed to its utmost to accommodate the throng which sought counsel under his preaching. Mr. Lambeth was compelled to give up his strenuous work for a time that he might regain his strength which suffered through the duties demanded in strengthening the cause of his Master.

Mr. Lambeth is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lambeth, of Thomasville, and his many friends regret to learn of his health giving away so early in life, because he is today one of the brightest young men of the State.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes, "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by Standard Drug Co., Asheboro, W. A., Underwood, Randleman.

E. P. Hayes, J. P., had before him on Monday J. M. Brown, on a charge of forcibly entering the house of his son-in-law, Mr. Buck Goins. From the evidence it appeared that Brown had been drinking and was inclined to make trouble. He was bound over to court in $100.—There was an eruption Monday at the chair factory. Two of the employees quarrelled and clinched. It was tooth and toe-nail for a while. One bit the finger and the other one held on while her received about fifteen slight jabs of a pocket knife. Dr. McFadyen patched things up.—Miss Ethel Hinshaw, of High Point, is visiting her father, I. G. Hinshaw, near Millboro.—Randleman Times.

SAYINGS OF SUSAN B. AN. THSOY.

"Who can doubt that when the representative women of thought and culture, who are to-day the moral backbone of our nation, sit in counsel with the best men of the country higher conditions will be the result?"

"I do not agree that we have too many voters now. Instead of that, I say we have just one half enough, for a majority of the opinions of all the people combined is sure to be better than the opinion of any one class. They call it a 'mistake' giving to poor and uneducated men the right to vote; whereas the greatest wrongs in our government are perpetuated by rich men, the wire-pulling agents of the corporations and monopolies, in which the poor and the ignorant have no part."

It is in order to lift the millions, of our wage-earning women into a position of as much power over their own labor as men possess that they should be invested with the franchise. This ought to be done not only for the sake of justice to the women, but to the men with whom they compete."

"I urge all to study the intricate problems of bettering the world; not merely the individual sufferings in it, but the general conditions. Such study will show the great need of a new balance of power in the body politic; and the conscientious student must arrive at the conclusion that this will have to be obtained by enfranchising a new class—women."

Right Thinking and Self-Control.

Zopyrus, the physiognomist, said, "Socrates' features showed that he was stupid, brutal, sensual, and addicted to drunkenness." Socrates upheld the analysis by saying: "By nature I am addicted to all these sins, and they were only restrained and vanquished by the continual practice of virtue."

Emerson says, in effect, "The virtue you would like to have, assume it as already yours, appropriate it, enter into the part and live the character just as the great actor is absorbed in the character of the part he plays." No matter how great your weakness or how much you may regret it, assume steadily and persistently its opposite until you acquire the habit of holding that thought, or of living the thing, not in its weakness; but in its wholeness, in its entirety. Hold the ideal of an efficient faculty or quality, not of a marred, or deficient one. The way to reach, or to attain to any thing, is to bend oneself toward it with all one's might; and we approximate it just in proportion to the intensity and the persistency of our effort to attain it.

If you are inclined to be very excitable and nervous, if you "fly all to pieces" over the least annoyance, do not waste your time regretting this weakness, and telling everybody that you cannot help it. Just assume the calm, deliberate, quiet, balanced composure, which characterizes your ideal person in that respect. Persuade yourself that you are not nervous or excitable, that you can control yourself; that you are well balanced; that you do not fly off on a tangent at every little annoyance. You will be amazed to see how the perpetual holding of this serene, calm, quiet attitude will help you to become like your thought.—O. S. Morden in "Success Magazine."

Character needs no recommendation. It pleads its own cause.—"Success Magazine."

Do Not Vote.

The Wilmington Dispatch has the following sensible words to say which are worthy of consideration:—

"Do not vote for any man unless you know his platform. If he expects and asks your vote it is in justice to yourself that you know where he is at. Won't it be mainly for him to come out and say what he advocates. If he doesn't give an opportunity of knowing which side he is on don't vote for him. Be careful that he doesn't try to fool you with subterfuges, or to 'soft soap' you into forgetfulness. Let him tell you his position in plain, positive language and if he doesn't don't vote for him, for a man who won't state his platform doesn't deserve office and cannot be relied upon if he obtains it.

"And above all else don't pledge yourself in a careless, foolish way. Don't pledge yourself at all unless it be to get in the race. There is no necessity for a pledge, save in the case mentioned, and even then be careful about that exceptional pledge. Don't take anything for granted. No matter who the man is find out his platform. There is many a day before the primary, but be on the alert nevertheless. "Be warned in time."

If you want blank deeds we have them. If you want almost any sort of a blank we have it.
