

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Equal Justice to People and Railroads.

DEMOCRATIC POLICY OUTLINED.

Republicans Invited to Join in Making the Hepburn Bill Effective—The Shippers Must Be Protected From the Law's Delays—A Reasonable Proposition.

That was a most interesting debate on the railroad rate regulation bill which occurred in the senate on March 7, in which Senator Bailey of Texas outlined a policy for the Democrats on what Senator Tillman termed the "spinal cord of this whole question." Senator Bailey stated that when a rate is once established by the interstate commerce commission "it is not unreasonable to require that that rate shall remain in force until the question has been thoroughly determined upon its merits by the court. To say that a rate established by a commission of men supposed to be especially fit for the performance of that duty shall be set aside by a judge who may know everything about the law, but may know very little about the justice of a railroad rate, is, to my mind, conceding more than congress in under the necessity of conceding to what are called the inherent equity powers of the court."

But Senator Bailey clinched his contention by saying that "in view of the fact that in most of the states in the Union when the railroad comes to take the citizen's property and they disagree about the price which shall be paid the carrier is authorized to apply to the court for the appointment of a commission, and when that commission assesses the value of the property actually taken and the damages to the remainder of the tract the carrier can deposit the assessment with the court and appropriate the citizen's property to its use, it seems to me we are not asking too much when the citizen is compelled to apply to the commission to assess the value of the carrier's service to permit the citizen to have it at the value assessed by a commission, just as the railroad was permitted to take the citizen's property at the value assessed by a commission."

"It does not seem to me that there is any difference in principle, and I suggest that we all agree upon an amendment which provides against the suspension of rates by interlocutory decree, and then in justice to the carrier—because I want to be just to the railroad as well as I do to the shipper—expedite the decision. I have never seen the hour when I would consent to close the doors of the courts of this country to any person, nor have I ever seen the time that I wanted to obstruct the free and open access of every man to the courts of this country for the protection of his property rights. But opening the doors as wide to the railroads as to the shipper—and I want them to stand equally open and as widely open to one as to the other—still it seems to me that we should provide for the rate established by the commission to remain in effect until finally suspended by the court upon a full investigation into the merits of the case and provide that when this suit shall be instituted it shall have precedence over every other case on the docket of a different nature, first in the trial court and then in the court to which it might be appealed. When that is done there can be no serious delay in the final adjudication of the case upon its merits."

That should appeal to every one as a fair proposition, and if the Republicans are really in earnest to enact a law that will protect the shippers from unreasonable rates and prevent the railroads from taking advantage of the law's delay they will join Senator Bailey, as he invited them to, in perfecting and voting for such an amendment to the Hepburn bill as will insure relief, because it will stand the constitutional test that the supreme court must eventually decide.

Partisanship Defeated.

The rank injustice of the Republican statehood bill as passed by the house has been remedied by the Democratic senators joining with a few Republicans, voting to amend the bill so as to give statehood to Oklahoma and Indian Territory and leaving to the future the question of admitting New Mexico and Arizona. The Republican partisan plan of forcing the two last named territories into the Union as one state when their people are bitterly opposed to such a partnership because it is expected that the Democrats will carry Oklahoma and thus increase their vote in the United States senate, but cannot carry New Mexico and Arizona combined, was thus fortunately defeated. It now remains for the Republican partisans of the house to back down in accordance with common sense and fair play or take the responsibility of defeating the bill.

Sees Breakers Ahead.

Representative Littauer, of army glove contract fame and the warm personal friend and close political adviser of President Roosevelt, has announced his intention of retiring at the end of his present term. After the voters get through with their job next November there will be a good many other compulsory retirements. Littauer evidently sees rocks ahead.

Played Out Polley.

At the rate the dirt is flying at Panama we of this generation are quite as likely to enjoy the millennium as to see the completion of the canal. The Republicans should wake up. This standing pat on everything is played out.

FOR BOTH

The disease of thinness in children is scrofula; in adults, consumption. Both have poor blood; both need more fat. These diseases thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them; cod liver oil makes the best and healthiest fat and is the easiest and most effective form of cod liver oil. Here's a natural order of things that shows why Scott's Emulsion is of so much value in all cases of scrofula and consumption. More fat, more weight, more nourishment, that's why.

CORPORATION COMMISSIONER.

Hon. Jacob A. Long, of Alliance, Announces His Candidacy for that Position.

To the People of North Carolina: I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination as Corporation Commissioner by the State Convention.

I pledge myself, if nominated, to do all in my power to establish:

- 1st. Passenger fares at two cents per mile.
- 2nd. A reduction of freight rates to a point which will leave the railroads fair and reasonable dividends on the actual value only of their property, after excluding watered stock and bonds and exorbitant salaries.
- 3rd. Taxation of railroads upon the same valuation upon which they are entitled to earn dividends.

I respectfully ask the support of all those who favor these reforms in the interest of the public.

JACOB LONG, Graham, N. C., April 21, 1906.

Judge Shaw.

We wish to go on record for Judge Shaw to succeed himself on the bench.

First, we want him because he is a man who knows the law and gives every man rich or poor a square deal in his court.

Second, we want him because he is a Judge and not a politician. This is perhaps the only reason that ought to be given for his re-election.

Third, he has done more for the cause of temperance than any one man we have known on the Bench.

He has been called "cruel as the grave," but no one who really knows the man will say this of him.

The State owes it to itself and especially to its own moral welfare to re-elect this man to succeed himself.—Catawba News.

Historic Mill.

The dam at Hamburg Mill, eight miles from Greensboro, belonging to Col. James T. Morehead burst Wednesday. A party of negroes camping below the dam narrowly escaped drowning.

Hamburg dam will be repaired, and the old water mill, which for more than a century has ground the old fashioned water meal excellently on the old fashioned mill stones, will continue its blessed career.

When Cornwallis was in Guilford, he used this mill for grinding, it being but a short distance from where he joined Greene in battle at Guilford Courthouse.

OUT OF POLITICS.

Ex-Gov. Chas. B. Aycock Does Not Aspire to the Honors of Senator.

In a recent interview upon the rumor that ex-Gov. B. Aycock would be a United States Senatorial aspirant Mr. Aycock said: "No, I am not a candidate. Whenever in the past I have wanted a public position, I have never hesitated to announce the fact. If I were a candidate for the United States Senate or intended to be, I should long since have notified my friends of my purpose. I am out of politics, and if I ever return to it my friends shall know at once."

Randolph Mill Improvements.

North Carolina is year by year becoming a recognized factor in the manufacturing world. The Manufacturer's Record, of Baltimore, has devoted much space recently to exploring her progress in cotton products. Among a large list of mills to be enlarged or machinery improved we note in Randolph:

The Cedar Falls Manufacturing Company expects to overhaul the machinery of both mills and add some new equipment.

The Franklinville Manufacturing Company are adding new spinning frames. The Worth Manufacturing Company, at Worthville, are contemplating new looms.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yun Yun, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by Standard Drug Co. Asheboro, W. A., Underwood, Randleman.

Rural School Libraries.

There are now in the state 1,259 rural public school libraries, established under the act of the legislature providing for libraries where the citizens of the district, the county board and the state appropriate $10 each for the purchase of books. Wake, Durham and Forsyth are among a large number of counties that have the full limit of eighteen libraries each. New Hanover has twelve.

It is possible to obtain relief from chronic indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA. Some of the most hopeless cases of long standing have yielded to it. It enables you to digest the food you eat and exercises a corrective influence, building up the efficiency of the digestive organs. The stomach is the boiler wherein the steam is made that keeps up your vitality, health and strength. Kodol digests what you eat. Makes the stomach sweet—puts the boiler in condition to do the work nature demands of it—gives you relief from digestive disorders, and puts you in shape to do your best, and feel your best.
