Ashenoro Saturday et al. Judicial and Congressional conventions. W. N. Elder. of Archdale, was made chairman, and I. F. Craven, of Ramseur, acted accretary. Col. W. P. Wood, of Asheboro, offered resolutions endorsing Con-gressman Robert N. Page and So-licitor Wm. C. Hammer for renomi-tion, and the delegates to the Judicial and Dongressional Conven-tions were instructed to cast the vote of the county for them. The vote of the county for them. The means more than the average man can conceive or see at the present time. It means that capitalists will harness and develope the water power; that there will be towns and villages up and down the river. People will take on new life, real estate will advance and instead of membraic moring out newle will estate will advance and instead of everybody moving out people will move in and kelp us settle up and build up the southeastern part of Randolph county. By the way, we certainly neel a good bridge here. It n ust come. It is a neccessity and the people and the times demand it. We need it now and Randolph county can't afford not to build it. A great many people may not know there is not a public bridge in Brower township. There never was but one and it lasted but three months.
