People Must Pay For Meat Inspection.

THE LABELS ARE NOT TO BE DATED

Your Patronage In the Hands of the Administration-Senator Ladge Acknowledges That Tariff Fostered Monopolies Breed Socialists and Unrest-An Audacious Thrust.

The progress of the meat inspection measure through the house and senate was both interesting and instructive because it brought forth many things that throw light on the characters and motives as well as the views of pub-lic men who control the great parties of the country. It revealed the presi-dent us an officer desiring to increase his own powers and patronage under the precent of serving the people and also as a man whose words are chosen without due regard to the facts—ready without due regard to the facts—ready to compromise and shuffle, to claim credit that is not his due and to shift blame from himself to his friends.

If readed the fact that even the president's stanchest friends, such as Henry Cabot Lodge, have at last discovered his true character and sims and were willing to let their disgust be known. On June 20 Lodge severely denoted the Roosevelt-Walssworth common last although be said it might compromise, although he said it might denote of the Roosevelt-Wadsworth compromise, although he said it might be considered "audacious to do so in view of the amouncement that the house had perfected the measure and the pesalent had accepted it." He pleaded on adult for the dating of indels "anse the public has the right to know what it is engine.

He also opposed the provision of the "compromise" which placed the burdon of impection upon the public treasury, but declared that wherever the expense of inspection might fall the puckers would get the airvantage. Justing the future by the past, the packers would find in a tax of a few mills an excuse for an increase of several cents a pound on the meat they said and a similar arrows on the stock thay buy.

Senator Proctor, without saying that Sention Proctor, without saying that it accused "authelous" to oppose a measure which the president had approved, declarred that it would be exceedingly unwise for the government to pay the cost of inspection. He did not consider it a proper fax on either the cattle raiser or the consumer. It was a good advertisement for the puckers, giving the stamp of government approval to their output. Other industries, he said, would be glad to pay for the government's approval of their approval to their output. Other nonservies, he said, would be glad to pay for the government's approval of their products, and all these will six for inspection at government expense if the house provision is adopted.

This shows that the Roosevelt-Wads-This shows that the Roosevelt-Wadsworth compromise must result practically in a subsidy of many million dolars to these monopolists and that it is only the beginning of a system by means of which the government is to inspect and stamp at its own expense every kind of manufactured article, as it now stamps the coin of the country. And this is the latest Rooseveltan fasco.

The beef trust is just as good as any other trust. The methods of all trusts are the same. They are all actuated by the principle of a monopoly, which is to lower the cost of its product and in the battle smoke, it seemed almost alone, carrying the flag for deanocrae the price of it at the same time, alone, and that this end justifies any means or and good government, and I aptending to bring it about. The men ply the principle, the horse that who manage the beef trost, the men whom Mr. Hoosevelt is now denouncing as poisoners and thieves, are the same as poisoners and thioves, are the same

THE GUINEA FOWL.

Increasing Interest in It as a Choice Table Bird.

"A growing market for guinea fow" in the United States has led to a recent farmers' bulletin. No. 234, on this bird and its use as food. Among other interesting statements made are the following:

Of the domesticated birds of the ordinary type the so called pearly guinea fowl is by far the most computed for increasing regularity dotted or "pearled" with white (whence its name), and it is so handsome that the feathers are frequently used for ormanemata purposes. The birds have bright coral red wattles. The ears and the sides of the lead are ordinarily white and are not unlike kid in appearance.

On the continent of Europe guinea fowl are considered very delicious table birds, and in England they are birdly reized as substitutes for game.
