

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Governor Glenn Issues Call to the People—Reasons for Thankfulness.

Governor Glenn's Thanksgiving Day proclamation, which was issued last week, is as follows:

While excessive rains have damaged our crops, and twice during the year the public peace was marred by acts of lawlessness, yet our manifold blessings have so far surpassed our temporary ills that they call to us for thanksgiving and prayer.

The percentage of increase in the State (agriculturally, industrially, educationally and morally) has been phenomenal, and far exceeds our fondest hopes. The prices of farming and trucking lands have largely increased in value. Industrial enterprises are being rapidly developed throughout the State and are paying good dividends. Peace and good will now exist between labor and capital; no pestilence or scourge has visited our State, and with the above two exceptions law and order have been maintained.

Our educational progress is a source of congratulation, as longer terms, more efficient teachers, better school-houses and equipment mark a new and progressive period in our school life, while the growing temperance and religious spirit of our people denote a moral condition never before witnessed. Thus in things material and things moral, we, as a State, have prospered during the past year as never before, and it is therefore appropriate that a certain day be set apart for praise to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe for the blessings so abundantly given.

Therefore, that all have an opportunity of showing their gratitude, I, R. B. Glenn, Governor of North Carolina, join with the President of the United States in fixing Thursday, the 29th day of November, 1906, as a day of general rejoicing and thanksgiving, during which day thanks for the past mercies may be given and requests for future guidance made.

On this day I ask all our people, as far as practicable, to suspend all business and grant a holiday, and to assemble at 11 o'clock at their places of worship and offer up thanks to God for His numerous blessings, and to consecrate themselves afresh to His service, and to the protection and building up of the State.

I likewise ask the ministers of all churches on that day to especially hold up before the people the blessings to come from a life of soberness and industry, peace and good order, and by freely giving to the cause of charity, thus making us therefore loyal citizens and better Christians.

I also implore all, while enjoying their holiday, to do nothing that will tarnish the fair name of the State or dishonor God, but that all they do may increase their love of country and devotion to their Maker.

In Witness, whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of North Carolina to be affixed.

Done in our city of Raleigh, this 9th day of November, 1906, and in the one hundred and thirteenth year of our American Independence.

R. B. GLENN, Gov.
A. H. ARRINGTON, Private Secretary.

Value Of Good Roads.

Charlotte News.

Were you to pick up any citizen of Mecklenburg county who is well informed on conditions of the county, and ask him what he considered the greatest advantage Mecklenburg county has over the other counties of the state and country at large and from what source he considers more blessings and benefits arise, without a doubt he would reply, "from her good roads."

There is not a doubt but what this answer would be correct. The public roads of this county have been for years and are now the chief source of pride to our citizens and it is through this channel that we have received more valuable advertising than by other means.

The citizens of this county are soon to have an opportunity to make these roads still better, to extend them further, and we appeal to every citizen interested in the welfare and upbuilding of his county, to go to the polls on election day and vote for the bond issue, which means progress as against stagnation and decline.

In connection with the blessings arising from good roads the New York Herald, of a recent date, pays the following tribute to Mecklenburg county roads:

"In an address at Mobile, Ala., Joan Calt, said that the cost to the farmers of the South is fifty cents on each bale of cotton for an average haul of eight miles.

"If there were good roads the cost would be reduced to sixteen cents a bale. Estimating a crop of 1,000,000 bales, this would mean a saving of $340,000 annually.

"It costs under the present road conditions twenty-five cents to haul a ton of fertilizer a mile. With the good roads the cost would be eight cents a ton.

"Mecklenburg County, North Carolina, has the finest Macadamized roads, and it is being done by convict labor. It costs an average of 25 cents a day to guard, feed and care for convict labor when it is managed on business principles.

"As for the convict himself, statistics show that 90 per cent of those who are worked in the open air, properly fed and guarded, return to their families and cease to be a menace or charge to the State, while of those who are kept in prison, or worked in mines, sawmills, or similar places 85 per cent, become hardened criminals.

"Nor do I think it right to put the honest wage earner in competition with convict labor, or the manufacturing industry in competition with convict labor, or the manufacturing industry in competition with the one that hires cheap convict labor.

"Indiana has more than 17,000 miles of good gravel roads. I remember when Indiana was considered one of the illiterate States of the Union. Today she is prosperous and her people are no longer ignorant, but the State is dotted with the finest schools and colleges.

"Massachusetts spends more money than any other state on her public roads. New York has just voted to issue $50,000,000 to her roads, to be spent in the next ten years. New Jersey has fine roads which have been of great benefit and are the best investment the state has. Missouri is agitating a bond issue of $25,000,000 for her public roads. The Province of Ontario, Canada, has 40,000 miles of good roads."

FALSE IDEA OF EDUCATION.

Foolish People Who Think It Raises One Above His Station.

Charity and Children.

Before we can ever hope to lift North Carolina to a respectable place among her sisters a great deal of missionary work must be done among our people. After all the practical and forcible, as well as eloquent and patriotic, speeches by such men as Scarborough, Melver, Alderman, Aycock and Joyner, and the countless educational addresses by men of lesser note but equal enthusiasm and devotion to the public schools, there are plenty of men in North Carolina right now who are refusing to send their children to school, though they can do so without money or price.

They have a totally false idea of the meaning of the word. They think that to educate a boy means to raise him out of his class, and they appear to dread seeing their children enjoying advantages that were denied to them. They forget that it is harder now than ever for a young man or woman to make their way in the world without an education, and that when they refuse to send their children to school they are committing a great sin for which their children will find it hard to forgive them. It all comes about because of a false idea of the meaning of the word and we suggest to our readers that they begin at the beginning in their educational addresses, and show their hearers that education means strength and light and help, rather than a springboard from which a boy may leap out of the set among whom he is reared. They need to know that an educated man is not proud but humble. The bigoted fool who refuses to speak to his neighbors is not that way because he is educated, but because he isn't. A shallow draught may intoxicate the brain, but drinking largely sobers us again. There are people in this very town of Thomasville who would rather their boys would loaf than go to the graded school. They ought to be led to see their sin and made to tremble for the fearful responsibility they take upon themselves in thus standing between their children and the light. So long as parents look upon education as simply a step-ladder to social ambition (and in North Carolina there are thousands of people who believe that) how, in the name of reason, are we to get their children into the schools? This class of people might learn a valuable lesson on this point from the negroes; and unless they learn it soon they will have to learn it when it is too late to right the wrong they have done.

DR. BOUCHELLE

Dr. L. B. Bouchelle of Thomasville, Ga., a physician well known in the South, is very enthusiastic over the cod liver oil preparation Vinol. He says: "I have used Vinol in my family and in my general practice with the most satisfactory results. It is exceedingly beneficial to those afflicted with bronchial or pulmonary diseases and to create strength."

The reason Vinol is so far superior to old fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, is because it is a real cod liver preparation from which all the useless oil has been eliminated and tonic iron added.

We ask every weak, thin, run-down, nervous and aged person in town, and all those suffering from chronic colds, coughs and weak lungs, to try Vinol on our guarantee.
