SUN IN ECLIPSE AUGUST 21, NEXT

Total in Part of Asia and Europe and Partial in America.

MOON GOES BETWEEN THE EARTH AND SUN

Coming Eclipse Is Attracting Attention of Scientists All Over The World.

Washington, May 20.—The eclipse of the sun on August 21 next—total in part of Europe and Asia and partial in northwestern America—is attracting the widespread attention of astronomers and scientists, various expeditions being arranged to witness this phenomena. In view of the public interest in the event, Prof. C. G. Abbott, head of the astronomical branch of the Smithsonian institution, and a recognized authority on solar phenomena, gives the following popular account of the eclipse, and the scientific results sought from such events.

On August 21, 1914, the moon will pass exactly between the earth and the sun, and there will be a total solar eclipse. It will not be observed in America, except as a small partial eclipse at sunrise in the northern states and Canada, but in Persia, Russia and Scandinavia the full effect will be seen.

Although the moon looks about the same size as the sun, it is very much smaller and nearer. The sun is 865,000 miles in diameter and 93,000,000 miles away, while the moon is 2163 miles in diameter and 239,000 miles away. On account of the moon's small size compared with the sun the shadow cast by the moon is a cone, and the point of this cone just barely reaches the earth.

In the August eclipse the diameter of the cone at the earth's surface is only about 85 miles, so that the eclipse is visible as total only in a belt about 85 miles wide stretching over the countries named above. The important cities of Bittis, Trebizond, Kief, Minsk, and Riga lie near the center of this belt. It passes about a 100 miles north of Stockholm and Trondheim. The eclipse will be seen as partial over a very wide area, including northwestern America, Greenland, Europe, half of Asia and half of Africa. Within this region only a portion of the sun's disk will be hidden by the moon.

Wherever the solar eclipse is seen as total, the sky will become nearly as dark as full-moonlight, and a few of the brighter stars and planets may be seen. The duration of the totality is longest near Kief in Russia, where it is two minutes 13 seconds. Sometimes the moon and sun occupy such positions that although the moon passes directly between the earth and the sun the shadow cone does not quite reach the earth. Such solar eclipses are called "annular" and are nowhere total eclipses. In the most favorable case a total eclipse may last over seven minutes at a station, but such occasions are very rare. The very long total eclipses of this century are as follows:

- 1919—May 29, 6.9 minutes—Peru, Brazil, Central Africa.
- 1927—June 8, 7.1 minutes—Pacific ocean, Peru.
- 1935—June 20, 7.2 minutes—Ceylon, Siam, Philippines.
- 1973—June 30, 7.2 minutes—South America, Africa.
- 1991—July 11, 7.1 minutes—Pacific ocean, Hawaii, Central America.

There will be total eclipses visible in the United States on June 8, 1918, September 10, 1923, and January 24, 1925.

As the glare of the sun in the sky is removed, and yet the moon hardly more than covers the sun, it is possible at times of total solar eclipses to see all the celestial objects near the sun. They can not be seen at other times because they are lost in the bright sky light. It is this which makes astronomers so eager to observe total eclipses. The most striking thing seen is the solar corona, a beautiful pearly light stretching away from the sun in all directions, something like the Aurora Borealis seen in northern countries.

The corona extends from one to three solar diameters away from the sun. Its form changes from year to year in connection with the number of sun spots which prevail. As the present year will be one of comparatively few sun spots the corona is expected to have short but well marked polar rays and long equatorial streamers. In 1918 a total eclipse will be visible in the United States, and as the sun spots will then be numerous the corona will probably extend nearly equally in all directions.

Formerly it was believed probable that one or more planets of the solar system exist nearer the sun than Mercury, and it was hoped to discover these during total solar eclipses. But the sky has been so carefully searched that no such objects large enough to be worth counting exist.

Formerly it also was regarded as necessary to wait for eclipses and to see and study the beautiful rosy flames of hydrogen and other gases, called prominences, which surround the sun. But these may now be observed at any time by means of a special apparatus. While value of total eclipses has therefore somewhat diminished, there still remain many studies which are confined to them.

Astronomers make very careful preparations, and rehearse all details of their program long before the precious time should be wasted. They observe with the eye and the photographic plate to determine the exact times of totality, and the form and extension of the corona. They photograph the spectrum of the corona, and also that of the bright colored

THAT TIRED FEELING IN THE SPRING

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition in which it will be easy for you to contract disease if exposed to it.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. Get Hood's today.

ring of light which lies at its base just on the edge of the sun. They measure the brightness of the sky and of the corona, and make many other observations useful in learning about the nature of the sun.

Many European and American parties propose to observe the coming eclipse. Russians and Scandinavians, being on the ground, will be most numerous, but all the other principal European nations will furnish both government and private observing parties. No official expedition is proposed to represent the United States government. The Lick observatory of California will send an expedition in charge of Director W. W. Campbell to Russia, and Professor Todd, director of the Amherst college observatory, proposes to observe in Persia.

SEVERAL MEAT DEALERS MUST ANSWER CHARGES

Charged With Conspiracy to Force Competitor Out Of Business.

Savannah, Ga., May 21.—Several of the meat dealers and individuals connected with these concerns indicated by the federal grand jury for the alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law will have to go to trial on one of the charges. This is the substance of the decision rendered by Judge W. I. Grubb upon the demurrer argued in the federal court Tuesday. The case will probably be tried at this term of the court. It has not been assigned, however. The defendants are the Cudahy Packing company, Schwarzschild and Sulzberger, Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Morris & Co., Emmett B. Adams, F. H. Hull, Jr., and W. D. Cooper, the latter being local packing house managers. There were two counts in the indictment. One charged the dealers with forming a conspiracy to force the South Atlantic Packing company out of business. The second charged them with a general conspiracy to reduce the price of meats to the detriment of their competitors. The judge overruled the demurrer in the first count and sustained it in the second instance.

The defendants will go on trial, charged with forming a conspiracy to put the South Atlantic Packing company out of business.

SEVERE CRITICISM OF HENRY LANE WILSON

Senator Stone Refers to Him As The Somewhat Discredited Ambassador.

Washington, May 21.—Severe criticism of Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, was made on the floor of the senate yesterday by Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee. Senator William Alden Smith had read a letter from Mr. Wilson expressing his views on the Mexican situation.

The letter was ostensibly to correct a date in Senator Smith's recent Mexican speech. The diplomat took occasion in calling attention to the error to reiterate his belief that the Huerta government should have been recognized by the present administration.

"This is an attempt of the somewhat discredited former ambassador to exploit himself in the public press after his repeated fulminations have become somewhat stale," said Senator Stone.

Senator Smith protested that Ambassador Wilson had done everything in his power to protect American interests in Mexico and deserved the highest appreciation of the nation.

"Oh, I don't think he is entitled to the grateful consideration of the American people," insisted Senator Stone. "The secretary of the embassy he left behind is deserving of every praise."

Railway Association Meets.

New York, May 21.—One hundred and seventy delegates representing 240 railroads were present yesterday at the opening session of the American Railway association. The executive committee reported that the membership now comprises 493 members, operating 253,000 miles of road.

To Transfer Flag.

Washington, May 21.—Admiral Badger has reported that he would transfer his flag from the battleship Arkansas to the Wyoming. The Wyoming, regular flagship of the Atlantic fleet, reached Vera Cruz with the special service squadron under Rear Admiral Winslow.
