

NOTICE

A meeting will be held in Hendersonville on Monday, the 22nd inst. for the purpose of appointing delegates to represent...

The Message has crowded out almost every thing else this week. Our readers will agree with us that it is in many respects a most important document...

It is in the Senate on the 1st there was an unusually full attendance. The Vice President took the Chair. In the House of Representatives there was also a full attendance...

On the 18th of the first time, the celebrated Dr. Braxton, He left them to stand on the fact that the disease was not at all dangerous...

On motion of F. A. Ayler, Esq. Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the Chairman and Secretaries, and that they be published in the Highland Messenger and Raleigh Register.

Congressional Proceedings table with columns for Speaker, Clerks, and other officials.

On the 21st, the President communicated his Annual Message, to both Houses, which we have given in preceding columns.

On the 4th, the following resolution, heretofore offered by Mr. Breves, was taken up for consideration: Resolved, That so much of the 34th rule as requires the appointment of the several standing committees by ballot at the present session be suspended...

On the 4th, nothing of importance took place. The Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, in many respects is of great importance.

The report is decidedly anti-protective—elaborates upon the idea in the President's message that no rate of duty on an imported article is constitutional...

The Sub-Treasury—under the new name of the Constitutional Treasury—is strongly recommended—and, in connection with it, the establishment of a branch mint in New York suggested.

These are the chief points in the report, which is as long, seemingly, as Mr. Walker could make it.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Post Office.—The Postmaster General, in his report, estimates the deficiency in the revenue of the Post Office, during the last fiscal year, at about a million and a quarter of dollars.

We are glad to learn that his recommendation that Congress shall purchase the patent right of Morse's Telegraph, and we hope that his suggestion shall be adopted.

He suggests that the plan of weighing letters shall be abandoned, and the old mode of estimating by the number of pieces of paper in each letter be restored—which we hope will not be adopted.

It is in favor of reducing and graduating the price of the public lands.

The Sub-Treasury—under the new name of the Constitutional Treasury—is strongly recommended—and, in connection with it, the establishment of a branch mint in New York suggested.

These are the chief points in the report, which is as long, seemingly, as Mr. Walker could make it.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Post Office.—The Postmaster General, in his report, estimates the deficiency in the revenue of the Post Office, during the last fiscal year, at about a million and a quarter of dollars.

We are glad to learn that his recommendation that Congress shall purchase the patent right of Morse's Telegraph, and we hope that his suggestion shall be adopted.

He suggests that the plan of weighing letters shall be abandoned, and the old mode of estimating by the number of pieces of paper in each letter be restored—which we hope will not be adopted.

It is in favor of reducing and graduating the price of the public lands.

The Sub-Treasury—under the new name of the Constitutional Treasury—is strongly recommended—and, in connection with it, the establishment of a branch mint in New York suggested.

These are the chief points in the report, which is as long, seemingly, as Mr. Walker could make it.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Post Office.—The Postmaster General, in his report, estimates the deficiency in the revenue of the Post Office, during the last fiscal year, at about a million and a quarter of dollars.

We are glad to learn that his recommendation that Congress shall purchase the patent right of Morse's Telegraph, and we hope that his suggestion shall be adopted.

He suggests that the plan of weighing letters shall be abandoned, and the old mode of estimating by the number of pieces of paper in each letter be restored—which we hope will not be adopted.

quantity. If graduated and reduced in price for a limited term to one dollar per acre, and after the expiration of that period for a second and third term to lower rates...

I recommend the continuance of the policy of granting pre-emption, in its most liberal extent, to all those who have settled, or who hereafter settle, on the public lands, whether surveyed or unsurveyed...

When orders were given during the past summer for concentrating a military force on the western frontier of Texas, our troops were widely dispersed, and in small detachments, occupying posts remote from each other.

Of this authority depended, was not for the convenience of the military, but for the convenience of the citizens of the United States...

The relations with the Indian tribes are of a favorable character. The policy of removing them to a country designed for their permanent residence, west of the Mississippi and without the limits of the organized States and Territories, is better appreciated than it was a few years ago...

The commerce of the United States, and with it the navigating interest, have steadily and rapidly increased since the organization of our government, until, it is believed, we are now second to but one power in the world, and at no distant day we shall probably be inferior to none.

which has been our general practice, and by the people they think it their duty to maintain their independence...

Whatever may have been our policy in the earlier stages of the government, when the nation was in its infancy, our shipping interest and commerce comparatively small, our resources limited, our population sparse, and scarcely extending beyond the limits of the original thirteen States...

In his last annual message to Congress, Mr. Madison invited attention to a provision for Attorney General as an "important improvement in the executive establishment."

On motion of F. A. Ayler, Esq., Col. Francis McGee was called to the Chair, and John Rolan, Esq. and Samuel J. Finch were appointed Secretaries.

The meeting being organized, the Chairman called for some gentleman to explain its object, whereupon F. A. Ayler, Esq. rose, and in a few appropriate remarks explained the object of the meeting, and in conclusion asked leave to offer the following resolutions...

Resolved, That we fully concur in opinion with the Whigs of Buncombe and Rutherford counties, in the propriety of a Whig State Convention being held in the city of Raleigh early in January next, for the purpose of nominating a Whig candidate for Governor.

On the 18th of the first time, the celebrated Dr. Braxton, He left them to stand on the fact that the disease was not at all dangerous...

On motion of J. P. Spaulding, the meeting adjourned. FRANCIS MCGEE, Chas. J. Rolan, Secs.

On the 21st, the President communicated his Annual Message, to both Houses, which we have given in preceding columns.

On the 4th, the following resolution, heretofore offered by Mr. Breves, was taken up for consideration: Resolved, That so much of the 34th rule as requires the appointment of the several standing committees by ballot at the present session be suspended...

On the 4th, nothing of importance took place. The Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, in many respects is of great importance.

The report is decidedly anti-protective—elaborates upon the idea in the President's message that no rate of duty on an imported article is constitutional...

The Sub-Treasury—under the new name of the Constitutional Treasury—is strongly recommended—and, in connection with it, the establishment of a branch mint in New York suggested.

These are the chief points in the report, which is as long, seemingly, as Mr. Walker could make it.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Post Office.—The Postmaster General, in his report, estimates the deficiency in the revenue of the Post Office, during the last fiscal year, at about a million and a quarter of dollars.

We are glad to learn that his recommendation that Congress shall purchase the patent right of Morse's Telegraph, and we hope that his suggestion shall be adopted.

He suggests that the plan of weighing letters shall be abandoned, and the old mode of estimating by the number of pieces of paper in each letter be restored—which we hope will not be adopted.

It is in favor of reducing and graduating the price of the public lands.

The Sub-Treasury—under the new name of the Constitutional Treasury—is strongly recommended—and, in connection with it, the establishment of a branch mint in New York suggested.

These are the chief points in the report, which is as long, seemingly, as Mr. Walker could make it.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Post Office.—The Postmaster General, in his report, estimates the deficiency in the revenue of the Post Office, during the last fiscal year, at about a million and a quarter of dollars.

We are glad to learn that his recommendation that Congress shall purchase the patent right of Morse's Telegraph, and we hope that his suggestion shall be adopted.

He suggests that the plan of weighing letters shall be abandoned, and the old mode of estimating by the number of pieces of paper in each letter be restored—which we hope will not be adopted.

It is in favor of reducing and graduating the price of the public lands.

The Sub-Treasury—under the new name of the Constitutional Treasury—is strongly recommended—and, in connection with it, the establishment of a branch mint in New York suggested.

These are the chief points in the report, which is as long, seemingly, as Mr. Walker could make it.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Post Office.—The Postmaster General, in his report, estimates the deficiency in the revenue of the Post Office, during the last fiscal year, at about a million and a quarter of dollars.

We are glad to learn that his recommendation that Congress shall purchase the patent right of Morse's Telegraph, and we hope that his suggestion shall be adopted.

He suggests that the plan of weighing letters shall be abandoned, and the old mode of estimating by the number of pieces of paper in each letter be restored—which we hope will not be adopted.

It is in favor of reducing and graduating the price of the public lands.