voted to Politics, Literature and General Intellige

ASSEVILLE, N. C., PEBRUARY 11, 1847.

OLUME VR -NUMBER 337. Teriks $2 per an PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

For the Highlet Mestinger.

There is a day wen all must part And bid this med adicu,

Messenger Dest with chilling dart,

His taken a hely mother from my view. The news we awful when I heard. he siddenig news of her dem Feelings the rent my heart appear And tears Edimened my heavy Off in map and eve I've roamed In cost a some sweet rest; But my nuther's loss I mourned, and nothing could case my aching broast. time nor absence will ne'er effice Her memory from my mind, anot in which she lies, lmy dew of Heaven surrounds And echoes back the name of praise.

scher me on where hopes entwine.

Farewell, dear mother, a long farewell, As here no more we'll meet; To me thy love no tongue could tell, To me thy name shall eter be sweet.

Never Fear.

BY GOODWIN BARMBY

Though the clouds are black as night, ogh the lightning's deadly blight, Never feart Phough the thunderbolt is red,

Though the black cloud is in sight,

Though a forman is each Enave, Though a coward Reach slave, God is with the freeman braye Never feur!

Though the bigots' curses rise, Though the martyr's faggots bluze,

Though they treat good deeds with ruth, God is ever with the truth-Though the storm-god flaps his wings, Never toke!

Though the tempest deathsong songs, bever four In the clouds are blue speeks fair, ough the dark boughts blows an air, God is present everywhere-Never fear!

paterellumeons. From the Philadelphia Saturday Courter.

THE LEAGUE OF "THE THRTY."

ATALE OF PARIS AFTER THE REVOLUTION.

wretched habitations, occupid by the lowest file perfection of manty elegance.

population of the feetropolis. But the row of old houses to which we are directing the the closk glittered the hilt of a sword. notice of the reader is but a third of the As he advanced towards the group about way down this narrow passage, which only the table, they all fell back. He stepped at noon enjoys the light of the sun, so lofty before a large book that lay upon it, and, are the buildings and so far towards each placing his right-hand upon the open page, through it, without grazing the doorways the laws of this Society of Thirty, on pain the sun-set on the Boulevards, but while, oath!" responded every man in the half, it was already deep dock in Roe de Maitre, in a startling bass tone, as if it were one a person entered the close from the river, voice. began carefully to traverse its dingy "Now, Messieurs," said Pierre Robert, in the ball! way. He was a gentlenian by his bearing, lifting his hand from the book, "having and wore a short cloak, such as were in renewed my oath, as each one is bound to vogue in the first society in Paris. He do at every meeting, I trust you will be walked on until he came near the Maison de convinced that I am still a worthy member Segre Louis, or the Black Hous, which of this confraternity!" we have alluded to; and well did it deserve its appellation. Time had covered its plais- said a man who was a leader among them, ered walls with a moist dark mould, which "by recordingthe success of your mission!" ne places, particularly about the muls of the windows and niches of the answered, laving upon the table, before all es, was of inky blackness. The sombre eyes, a dazzling coronet. together with the low and obscure The man who had sporen, took it up, tion of the house; its heavy, cumbrous and glaring over it, said, turning to the of structure, which dated buck three rest, while his face manifested great r centuries; its numerous turrets, m in ruins, with the general ped upon the whole exterior, bears the marks of blood! ers with awe, while at

The comparing multiple searches make the immandation searches and immandation of the comparing multiple searches make the properties of the comparing finally flower in a figure of the comparing finally flower in a figure of the comparing finally flower in the comparing a comparing finally flower in the comparing a comparing finally flower in the comparing a comparing finally in the comparing a comparing comparing a comparing comparing a comp sponse of the doorkeeper, who could not see that fraced their descent from the knights of Charlemagne's chivalric for the purpose, almost reodered it necessanother, standing that, grasped the new and with the bias positive descent from the same way, as if with scissors made for the purpose, almost reodered it necessanother, standing that, grasped the new and with the bias positived the could be a human being, and with the bias positived the could be a human being, other lean over the projecting stories.— and the left hand upon his heart, he real the profoundest secresy, they pledged there is no sidewalk in the street, and sloud what he saw written; There is no sidewalk in the street, and aloud what he saw written; themselves, by the most solemn and feachul scarcely room for the rodule to pass of, Pierre Robert, do swear to obey, all on the rodule to pass of Robespierre a Franchman One evening, about half an hour before ... Accursed be he who shrinks from his slay and citizen every day, and if a day leasure— "Aye, blood!-that never lies!" was

The building was long and rambling satisfaction

saux of the young noble, their leader.

lo this hall, with closed doors, and in bis cobwebs and dust and moisture, had obscured all the richness of these things; and his found my ear gone; and upon looking at murdered man was a few minutes after effect it by each one, but it failed. Pierre which had given the name of "The Black to the throne. The family of this young little wound. I thought le diable had been guillotined. But the Bourgeois had been contained and rethrese contained and ret which had given the same of 'The Black House' to the chateau, pervaded the room. The lamily of this young House' to the chateau, pervaded the room. This decorate which had been visited with the deepost hostility of the national assassin. His attention in the room was a group of men, comprising about thirty in number, who were standing together in the centre of the were standing together in the centre of the agency of a voltage of a given being twenty four days: and as we have a standing together in the centre of the agency of a voltage of a given being twenty four days: and as we have been at home all day, feating to go out; but when first I heard how many had been called for the murdered prince and the police were at work. I thought I would tell to the throne. The lamily of the specially when I could thind myear on the ground. I have been at home all day, feating to go out; but when first I heard how many had been called for the murdered prince and tyrant.

Committee which had been called for the purpose of adding his researches, gave amazement; not because it was a new thing cvery intruder.

"Grace de Dieu! It is l'Anglais!" to avenge them and all other victims. He pass two of the men who had been killed fastened itself on the mind of Monsieur le was the unanimous exclamation of a score had lost his patrictiony! He came back in their quarter the moment before they Prefect, who was a man of great judgment rambled in that quarter of this vast moral measurement of frame which is known as measurement frames which is known as five and beauty of a remarkable row of houses that arrest the price of the found one young noble, and then their apparent antiquity and their fantasic style of architectures. The street is which they are situated commones at the Scince and penetrature, like a winding shake, into a dark abysin of this kind curied his chiseled lip—like a winding shake, into a dark abysin of worked habitations, occupied by the lowest disputes. The street of his kind curied his chiseled lip—like a winding shake, into a dark abysin of worked habitations, occupied by the lowest disputes and penetrature, which is kind curied his chiseled lip—like a winding shake, into a dark abysin of worked habitations, occupied by the lowest.

The street is which they are situated to this kind curied his kind curied his chiseled lip—like a winding shake, into a dark abysin of worked habitations, occupied by the lowest disputes and penetrature, which is a winding shake, into a dark abysin of the severest density in black, and then the sound of the severest disputes the addressed wholly in black, and then the found of the severest density in the sound of the severest density in the sound one young noble, and then carried hirteen handred miles from Prance, save among the clergy. Moreover, the assassin deed as all the effect kept his suspicious in his own the suspicious in his own and their fantasic style of architectures. The street of this fine the found one young noble, and then clergy. Moreover, the assassin deed as the Profect kept his suspicious in his own and their found one young noble, and then clergy. Moreover, the assassin deed as the profect kept his suspicious in his own the suspicious in his own the could never the suspicious of the severest density to whom the clergy. Moreover, the assassin deed as difficulty. The symmetry was quadrupoled all over the city and the clergy man watched his chiseled lip—his, with wrongs that by assuming the lowest disguises, by conceulineat by flight, assembled together in the very half in which we now have seen together out such a society, if such addressing his companions on the fourth e very hall in which we now have seen tired. To ferret out such a society, if such addressing his companions on the fourth o thirty men. This hall was one of the existed, he resolved to direct all his ener-morning after the outset of their enterprise the are of Robespierre, a Frenchman should die. They piedged themselves to ber was eighty five, an increase upon that slay and citizen every day, and if a day passed without the life of a man offered been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have been stain in the night, too, the first have had another of the twelve.

The number of the day before. The number of the day I shall add to our number five more been stain in the night, too, the first have had a sman of the day before. These men bad all had to our number five more been stain in the night, too, the first have will all, and you have your reward. Your skill, courage and coolness have mystified by each to the shades of their fathers, ing perished by broad day. The Prethe deliberation of the first have have a stain in the night, too, the first have had a sman of the said another of the twelve.

"And I wo!" said another of the twelve.

"And I wo!" said another of the twelve. wound in the heart as before. The num- well all, and you have your reward. Your thor of the florrible murders, he or they In no land but France could such a had taken alarm at the vigilance which had been formed, could have existed a week. formed their deeds of blood under cover of do at every meeting. I trust you will be convinced that I am still a worthy member of this confraternity."

"You will best prove that, Monzieur," said a man who was a leader among them, "by recording the success of your mission!"

"These are the evidences of it!" be answered, laving upon the table, before all eyes, a dazzling coronet.

The man who had spoken, took it up, had fallen by their knives!—in proof cost was to be found in Paris. The greatern were and to pass an urdsal of search. Black became a banned colour. In twelve hours not a black had fallen by their knives!—in proof cost was to be found in Paris. The greatof this seventy one victims to their revenge had fallen by their knives!—in proof cost was to be found in Paris. The greathad fallen by their knives!—in proof cost was to be found in Paris. Inc greatof this, seventy-one human cars were est terror prevailed among the Bourgéois, cast into a heap upon the table. Their for the last batch of victims, like the first, victims were from the cannille of the streets. In but three instances had the streets. In but three instances had the assassing rebeived wounds in their attacks; and but one man had escaped who tacks; and but one man had escaped who tacks; and but one man had escaped who
the brave and beautiful of the land like dogs. had been struck and wounded; but his ear These classes now heared to map aurona, inclined to refer the winder to make it was their report: of west out fully armed and took the mid- tions of the Evil Cont. But ha had had? Pierre Robert. "Now, who can give me this way with the confidence of one this server with the confidence of one this server with the confidence of one this server with the server of the server ly and systematically carried on, that the Prefect would have felt himself justified in referring the whole affair to a supernatural agency, save that there were in many of the houses visible proofs of the bodily entrance of human beings. Locks were picked hinges unserged windows removed were standing together in the centre of the hall, around a circular table, upon which hall, around a circular table, upon which burned wax candles. Upon the entrance table stranger, there was a general movement of the eyes towards him, with the quick, active, wary glance of a ment, and returned to Paris, his besom party of conspirators jealously scanning to the stranger to the special constitution. The idea struck the prefect of his car, and exhibited a minute orifice in the fleshy part of his breast. It was plain be had saved his life by the start caused by the sudden loss of his ear. Soon afterwards two other men came, and each torn with indignant grief for the fate of those dear to him, and his spirit burning the screen who had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in the work of death uncertainty all who had perished had been actively engaged in was the unanimous exclamation of a score of deep voices, in accents of surprise and lost his patrimony! He came back in their quarter the moment before they were seen to full dead, and to harry way, and courage, and equal to the emergency of an account of the modern that the modern has ever been in Paris and traily noble they were, so far as maching every noble in Paris to register the modern had lost his patrimony! He came back in their quarter the, moment before they were seen to full dead, and to harry way, and courage, and equal to the emergency. The Prefect had now gained something. The Prefect had now gained something to Paris and the manding every noble in Paris to register the unanimous exclamation of a score of deep voices, in accents of surprise and to Paris poor. Vengeance day and night were seen to full dead, and to harry way, and courage, and equal to the emergency. If any man could be, than he issued an order of their crimes. The authority vested in him, companded in that quarter of this vast moral manding every noble in Paris to register the, moment before they were seen to full dead, and to have were seen to full gies and powers.

The fiett morning the morgue was alias issued. We must to night for the gain filled with fresh victims, and almost fourth time change out diaguise. To night we shall work as nolicemen. We have

"And I one!" cried a whird. "Can you trust them?"

"With our lives! They all lost parents Pierre Robert, as he stood up among them under the axe of the Bonrgeois!"

"Then they may be trusted. We will to receive their adieus, his handsome darkface and nobly expanded tive, seemed as second Lucifer, or his impresunction has ceive them as conferes!"

The next morning Paris was moved as if an earthquake had shaken it to its centre. Every man was appalled, and trembled the body, well fixted to role their by his iron will. Revenge for the blood of his fathers had brought with it opon his heart for himself. The intelligence flew like the fearful corse of blood thirstiness and wild-fire from lip to lip that forty-four Policemen and been murdered by the same. At the end of the year and a day, there nysterious persons in the same mysterious namer; yet all the Police force made outh, to divide the fearful mystery. It's was half inclined to refer the whole to the machina.

The duor was freely thrown lack, and another, standing thear, grasped the new another, standing thear, grasped the new comer by the hand in a pecultar manner, which sign was reciprocated by a similar movement and personance of the fugers are not the palm. He closed the door upon his guest, and, locking as, perceded him through an ompty ancehamber to a large richer a pertnent, with a loff yeelidg, and inchanged the results of the palm. At length, past at night, a Bergeois entered the office of the Prefect of Folice with his breast open and the office of the palm through an ompty ancehamber to a large richer a pertnent, with a loff yeelidg, and inchanged the saver and the victim. But with the steady carved cornice, and large pannels, on which were posited gorgous picking for the palm. The foot of the sources of the standard preference of the fugers of the palm. The project of once more diple to the palm through an ompty ancehamber to a large richer a pertnent, with a loff yeelidg, and the victim. But with the yeeled with his breast open and he early carved cornice, and large pannels, and the palm through throu amazement not because it was a new thing birth to a hint which brought them near for a Prince to be murdered, but because the hand that gave the blow was recognized as the author of "The Marders of the Three Nights" at Paris. The Prince had been pierced to the heart with a stender weapon; as fine as a needle, which scarcely left a visible wound; and his right ear was clipped off precisely as those of the victims at Paris.

likely to be invided, broke up to meet, by command of him who was now their mas. ter, one year and a day from that night; of blood; "you see what order the Prefect ed Louis" Oak Each one, by his command, pledged himself by a solemn oath (for so much had blood become their sugtenance) to put some one to death ere midnight on the full of the moon of every month, whether that one were friend or foe! This pledge given and secured in its performance, by a most fearful penalty, these men of blood parted, one by one, each to seek his own fortune, and sworn tothe patred of their race.' Familiarty with blood had made them demons. The noble and commanding figure of their chief was a midnight neeting held in the Bois de Bulgge. There were but tocaty-seven of the "Thirty" present. Each of ne streets during the night only their own these latter had performed his alibited task, in obedience to the will to which he had, by his own oath, sold his hand and murderous stel. .