Removal.

I wish to inform my friends and customers that I have removed my shop to main street, north of the counthouse. As some of you are weary with so much boasting, I will not tax you very heavy. However, I can assure you my work shall not be inferior in any respect to any done this side of Boston, since I have been daily practining for the last five months under one of the best "Crocks" in the city of New York.

I will teach two of three of the best systems of garment cutting known in the U. States, for a small compensation. I wish to inform my friends and customers that Cutting will be done cheap for those who wish to have work made up by females.

If I make a mis-fit you have nothing to do but leave your goods on my hands, and I will pay for it.

Chronical Diseases.

These diseases would never be known if the principles of Brandrethianism were adopted to the commencement of disease. Let purging regalable purging be universally adopted, and bleeding and all mineral medicines absorbed and there will soon be no chronicat diseases if our land.
All discress are chronical whose duration has exceeded forty days. No care can be expected unless the Pills are used four or five limes every week. The empea-sion for a few days or a week, or more, must depend upon electrostances.

During the suspension of the purgation, the nations recovers new humors in place of those deceased ones he has evacuated. But as long as any of the diseased humors remain in the system, they will tend, according to their quantity, to vitiate the new sound humors. So the purgation must be repeated, suspended, repeated and suspended, until the continuous will do no have said sure, that the continuance will do no have further, that all the good will be done tow perfect cleaning of the blood, that it is come undicine to do, as has been proved thousand cases.

To obtain a perfect cure, not a particle of humors, which were deprayed while rick, our main in the system. New sound humors be supplied when the old withsted ones as gioved,—common sense tells us this.
