Singular.—One of the workmen, in the employment of Mr. John Thyfe, Murray street, dealer in ivory, was employed in cutting some piano keys; the saw was interupted by some resisting substance, and on splitting the piece of ivory an English tifle bullet was found. As the piece was from the centre of the tusk, it is presumable that the bullet was lodged there when the animal was quite young, especially as no trace of the passage of the bullet can be found although a dark line or seam runs longitudinally in the neighborhood. The outer coat of the ball was much coroded.—
