Extractive Forgation.—Considerable accidement has been minifested in State-street, within the past twenty-four hours, on account of the discovery of a large amount of forgod paper being in the market. The facts on stried to us are, that a broken paried George Miller, who has apeculated largely to stocks and real estate, has between the distinguish, and gives as collateral accurate, notes of hand, purporting to have been aigned by Mr. S. F. Belknap, of Concord, a contenctor.

litter went to New York, on Friday, last week, and was to have retu of Tausday last, but it has been ascertained that he was seen in Philadelphia on Monday, and is still absent. Yesterday Monday, and is still absent. I esterday morning, Mr. Belknap, was notified that four of his notes, for about $10,000 were due, and waiting payment, but upon excomination be pronounced them to be forgeries. Up to this day, at noon, notes amounting to $50,000 had been discovered, all bearing similar signatures, and it being ascertained that Mr. Belknap had given Miller four good notes; no little ex-citement was created among the holders of the paper to learn who was the fortunate of the good notes.

It is believed that a great amount of forged paper is still undiscovered. Rumers on 'change' are so contradictory in more on "change" are so contrauctors in more relation to this matter, that we deem it inexpedient ito publish further particulars sciously perspired during the whole night, to day; others than Miller, however, are likewed in the affair."

The property restored to my usual health.

"The notes have been taken by different individuals, and by them discounted at different Banks in Boston, and vicinity; and therefore it is supposed that the Banks generally will not luse, as the notes dis-

This lorgery is equal in boldness, if not amount, to any one within our re-membrance: and it only goes to show that persons who are in the habit of purch asing paper should find out that it is genuine before they part with their money.

Miller has left behind him a very in teresting family, and, we are sorry to add, a sulfied reputation."
