Thinking of Father.

BY LINA BELL. I have a habit, began in early childhood, of sitting alone and musing, as twilight deepens into night. I always feel the bringing in of lights an intrusion, and keep them away as long as possible. Oh, the lives I have lived, and the dreams I have dreamt in those twilight reveries! Like the German sleeper, no matter that the cares or pains of the day, my dreams and life, make up, with its gorgeous beauty, exquisite harmonies and noble sentiments, for all or any unpleasant reality.

What great, good, beautiful and pure beings. what noble sentiment, what ecstatic harmonies. what grace, what light filled that glorious ideal land! How my heart has ached for words to describe, for power to portray some of its wavy, graceful floating, pictures, to bring to the ear some of its exquisite harmonies, to write down palpably some of its grand and noble sentiments. And when I have essayed, how bald and mean was the ttempt-no more like my beautiful visions than he bone skeleton is to some tropic bird of gorgeous

As time wore on, and the real pressed more heavily on my heart, the glowing light of my dream-land taded from its full noon of gold to a rose hue which gradually deepened through all the shades of purple, more beautiful, because more mellow; till death came, like winter's frost, stripbing the Autumnal forest of its glory. From that hour the light has been grey, growing colder as the picture contracted its dimensions, until now my twilight musings cover only the space of the cemetery lot filled with green graves, and my imagination goes back to the past, and rarely ever goes forward to the future; that is, of this life; and ny communings are only with the spirit of those have loved and lost for a season. And the last. which is so new that the grass is not yet on it, encloses a form of truly noble proportions, and covers a heart that was warmed with the quickest pulse. And the air of my dream-land is filled with its graceful motions, and soltly on my ear falls a familiar voice, that breathes gently the name of " Sister," and my own murmurs " Brother."-The sound startles me from my spirit home, and look down. On my bosom lies a little head, covered with golden curls; two large wistful eyes are gazing into mine, while tears are rolling down the dimpled cheeks; and a sob shakes the little

"What is it, darling, that grieves you?" ask with a kiss. The little mouth whispers, " I am thinking of Alas! must she begin where I have ended?

A Good Shot.-The best repartee we have ately seen comes from Prentice, the wag of the Louisville Journal. The editor of the Alabama Flag called it out, by the following squib: "Why is the editor of the Louisville Journal's career through life like a celebrated tune? Because it is the rogue's march,"

Prentice, who is a "dend shot," loaded his piece, and taking aim, let the Flag man have it right in the teeth after the following manner, to wit : " Why will the editor of the Flag, at the close of his career through life be like a tune of Paganini's? Because he will be executed on a single string."

"THEY WILL NOT BE FORGOTTEN."-The New York Evening Post, the leading organ of Abolition. n alluding to the unanimity of sentiment at the South in lavor of the Nebraska bill, makes the ollowing truthful remark :

" A few Southern men have come out in favor f keeping their plighted faith. Most conspicuous mongst these are the gallant Houston and the eloquent Clemens; and they will not be forgotton.' No, they will not be forgotten. For while they are remembered and taken to the bosoms of the confederates of Seward, Summer and Chase at the North, the true-hearted men at the South will neither forgot them or fail to give them from time to time hereafter practical and tangible evidence of their remembrance .- South Side Democrat.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life, at Pioneer Mills, Cabarrus county. orth Carolina, February 23rd, 1854, Mrs. MARTHA KING, consort of Mr. Robert R. King, in the 25th ear of her age. She was the fourth daughter of Col. Morris, of Mecklenburg county, N. G., and had been parried a little more than 18 months. For months revious to the birth of her infant daughter, (after hich she steadily declined,) she had had such a conrmed presentiment of her approaching decease as inad to expect nothing else.

Mrs. King was an accomplished and a most estimable

ady. For a number of years she had been a consistent ad beloved member of the Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. On the approach of death, she was calm, resigned, and intelligently hopeful. At one time, she expressed a desire to live that she might nurse and train p her infant babe ;-at another, she preferred to be abent from the body and present with the Lord. Whilst er bereaved companion and parents, as well as numeras relatives and friends cannot but mourn the loss of one so lovely and promising of future usefulness; yet, but them not mourn as those who have no hope : but being drawn by a new attraction to Heaven, let them lay their treasures there and quicken their paces thith-

> " Why do we mourn departing friends, Or shake at death's alarm? 'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends To call them to his arms." [COMMUNICATED.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Every sufferer from Consumption, in whatever stage, should try Dr. Rogers' Syrup of Liverwort, 'Tar and Canchalagua, and prove to their own satisfaction that this disease can be cured, even if the symptoms are very discouraging. This medicine acts like a charm in subduing the Cough, and restoring health to the whole system. For sale by Pritchard & Caldwell and Fisher & Heinitsh, Charlotte. Price-in large bottles $1.

See the advertisement in another column of Stabler's 'Good Medicines;" they are not recommended as "Cure Alls," but as efficient remedies for the diseases named, havng received the highest encomiums from Physicians, Apothecaries and Store-keepers who have used them, sold them, and in a multitude of cases heard of their good effects. Give them a trial and tell your friends of the result.

THE REASON WHY IT SUCCEEDS,-The Mustang Liniment attained its enormous popularity, and almost universal use, simply because it gives better satisfaction, accomplishes more good, relieves more pain, and heals more wounds and sores than any other preparation ever before offered to the afflicted. Every bottle that is used, speaks for itself-tells its own tale in the relief it gives, and the cure it effects. And then one who has suffered perhaps, long years with pain, without hope of rebel and finds in thts Liniment an almost instantaneous remedy, cannot help but speak in its praise, and recommend it a the highest terms to all that he sees suffering. It needs no other recommendation than a trial. See advertisement in an-

MEDICAL TESTIMONY CANNOT BE CONTROVERTED .- One of he most startling cases is narrated of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge by Dr. John Butler, of Lowell, Trumbull county, Ohio. The ase was that of a young lady who had been very sick for eight years, and had consulted a number of physicians, who had treated it as one of Prolapsus Uteri. Dr. Butler was then called a, and for a time, believed with his predecessors that it was a case of Prolapsus. He was, however, soon forced to the conclusion that his patient was suffering from worms, and after much persuasion, prevailed upon her to take two doses of Dr. M'Lanc's VERMIFUGE. This medicine had the effect of removing from her a countless number of the largest size. Atter she passed them, her health immediately returned. She is since married, and continues to enjoy excellent health. For sale by

BELVOIR, NEAR LENOIR. CALDWELL COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA. 'HIS place, late the residence of the undersigned, is offered for sale on very accommodating terms, privately until the first Monday in July next ensuing, when if not previously disposed of, it will be put up to the highest bidder at public auction. The tract of

Land comprises 250 ACRES,

50 to 60 of which is first rate bottom under the plow. From 70 to 80 acres of good upland is also in cultivation; the remainder of the tract in woodland. The Dwelling House, a Cottage ornee, contains four large and convenient rooms on the ground floor, with dining room, store room, pantry and library attached by a covered way. There are also on the place a barn 70 by 25, two stories high and very conveniently arranged; stables for milch cows and horses; all other necessarv out buildings, such as kitchen, negro houses, &c.;

a growing and thrifty orchard containing about 100 trees of different kinds of fruit just beginning to bear. The situation is one of the most pleasant and improvable in the State, commanding a full view of the finest mountain scenery and falling off beautifully in every direction from the house. To any gentleman in the low country desiring a cool, healthy and pleasant summer residence it presents an eligible choice. Further information may be obtained of the undersigned, by addressing him at Charlotte or Lincolnton. T. S. W. MOTT. January 13, 1854.
