A HEROIC ADVENTURE.

On Thursday last, while about a dozen oyster smacks were on their way to the "banks" in Mississippi Sound, they were surrounded by a number of launches from the enemy's ships; all were seized in the name of the Gorilla Government, der the guns of the ships of war. One of the smacks thus seized was the Clide, commanded and owned by Capt. King, a man who has resided in this city since boyhood, and who is well known as a brave and determined seaman by all of his acquaintance around the New Basin. A sergeant and one soldier was placed aboard the Clide, with orders to steer for the New London, then some twelve or eighteen miles off. The wind was ahead and the boat had to beat all the way. The Clide, somehow, worked bably; all the rest of the smacks were soon several miles ahead, and still the contrary wind was blowing and the lazy boat dragged slowly along. So passed the greater part of the day, and at 5 o'cleck in the afternoon, the fleet the Clide grew hungry, and asked Capt. King if he had anything to eat aboard. He politely told them that there was plenty in the cabin-a sort of little hold in the after part of the eraft, reached by a narrow scuttle and two or three crooked steps. The sergeant volunteered to go down and get the victuals, directing the soldier to keep a sharp watch while he did so. He started down the steps with rifle in hand, Capt. King standing near, officiously showing the way. As soon as he had got into the cabin and was about to stoop and go forward, the hitherto polite and kind Captain suddently seized his rifle, and jecking it from his hand, shot David R Jones. S C, army of Potomac. him dead on the spot. Not stopping to swap jack knives, Capt. King jumped forward, and seizing the other soldier's gun before he had time to recover from his fright and astonishment, commanded him to surrender. The soldier saw there was no use to resist, gave up and was securely tied and laid in the hold.

Capt. King then set all sail for Fort Pike, and as if understanding the necessity for haste, the Henry H Sibley, La. Texas Frontier. little craft recovered from her languor, and sped over the water at railroad speed. And it was well she did, for the men on the other boats had heard the musket shot, and suspecting something wrong from seeing the Clide suddently change her course, made chase, one and all. The affair then grew exciting, and for a while Capt. King's chances for safety were rather squally; but his gallant little Roswell S Ripley, S C, coast of S C. craft was in earnest, and rushed on towards the Isaac R Trimble, Md, army of Potomac. haven of safety, as if she understood the whole affair. Night soon came on, and darkness hiding her from the view of her pursuers, enabled her to get safely to Fort Pike, where Capt. King recited his adventures, and excited the admiration of the Joseph R Anderson, Va. coast of N C. garrison. Leaving the fort on Friday morning, Simon B Buckner, Ky., Kentucky. ne arrived in the New Basin on Saturday, with Leroy Pope Walker, Ala, Alabama his prisoner and dead sergeant, which were placed Albert G Blanchard, La. GROCERIES.

HARDWARE, &c.,

We call the attention of our old and highly valued cusomers, and buyers generally, to the fact that, anticipating their tastes and wants, we have neither spared toil or expense in order to suit and please them, and we sincerely assure them that with these views and intentions, we will sell on terms entirely to accommodate all who call on us. KOOPMANN & PHELPS. Jan. 1, 1862.

$75 REWARD.

RUNAWAY from where we had them hired, near Chester, in June last, our three negro men, viz : Bill. Giles and Henry. Bill and Giles we bought the 14th of last November at the estate sale of Ed. Leach, on Broad River, in York District. They being brothers and having relations in the neighborhood where we purchased them, it is more than likely they have made their way back to their old neighborhood. Bill is about 26 years old, 5 feet 8 inches high, will weigh 150 or 160 pounds; is very black; rather sharp faced, speaks quick when spoken to.

Giles his brother, is about 24 years old; 5 feet 9 inches high; will weigh 160 lbs., is very black, and walks with his head up and feet turned out in front. Henry, we purchased Jan. 1, of Col. C. Rives on the Catawba river. He is 28 years old, well set, 5 feet 10 inches high, and will weigh 175 pounds; has a heavy brow and speaks slowly; has some character as a runaway. May go to Charleston or Washington city, it is hard telling where he will go as he is a gentleman

They all ran off about the same time. We will pay $75 reward for the 3 men; or $25 a piece for either of them delivered in any jail so that we can get them. These boys may attempt to make their way North as some others from this place have at-PRIDE & DUNOVANT.
