PRIVATE LETTER FROM GEN. LEE

The original of the following private letter from General Lee to his son was found at Arlington House, and is interesting as illustrating a phase in bis character:

ARLINGTON HOUSE, April 5, 1852. My Dear Son : I am just in the act of leaving home for New Mexico. My fine old regiment has been ordered to that distant region, and I must hasten to see that they are properly taken care of. I have but little to add in reply to your letters of March 26, 27 and 28. Your letters breathe a true spirit of frankness; they have given myself and your mother great pleasure. You must study to be frank with the world; frankness is the child of honesty and courage. Say what you mean to do on every occasion, and take it for granted you mean to do right. If a friend asks a favor, you should grant it, if it is reasonable; if not, tell him plainly why you cannot; you will wrong him and wrong yourself by equivocation of any kind. He advanced in the direction of the Yankee lines, flourishing a paper in his hand, in token of his ob- ject, and after proceeding some distance was met by a Yankee officer. An exchange of papers was effected, and Mr Pryor had turned to retrace his steps, when he was suddenly seized by two or three armed men who were lying in ambush, and hurried away. The whole transaction, we under- stand, was witnessed by some of our men, but at too great a distance to render any assistance. Mr Pryor had frequently exchanged papers with the enemy, and his name and character had no doubt been reported to them. They resolved to have him by fair means or foul, and descended to the basest treachery to accomplish their purpose.
