October 24, 1865.

THE CONVENTION adjourned on Thursday last to meet again on the 1st day of May, 1866.

Some important ordinances were passed at the close of the session. One refuses to pay any debt of the State made in and of the war. but requires the Legislature to make provision for paying the old or ante-war debt. Another gives the friendly relations, and immediate, because the County Courts jurisdiction in criminal cases the | war left us on the verge of suffering, and another same as before the war. THE CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR .-- The election for Governor of North Carolina is to be held on Thursday the 9th day of November. William W. Holden of Wake, (the present incumbent under the Provisional Government,) and Jonathan Worth of Randolph county, are announced as candidates. Mr Worth claims to be a thorough Union man-Mr Holden's position is well known to the public generally.

As a public journalist, we have never had any concealments to make in regard to our position on public affairs or towards public men; therefore we announce our determination to support to the approbation of their constituents. Mr Holden. Others may do as they please, but we think that in supporting Mr Holden we are pursuing the course best calculated to promote an early restoration of civil law over the people of the State. We do not claim to belong to the "straightest sect" or the "conservative" partyat present we care nothing for parties-we prefer the restoration of civil law and civil liberty to the success of any party or particular individual. We firmly believe that Mr Holden can do more than any other man in this State to relieve the people from the difficulties consequent upon the failure to establish the Confederacy, and believing this we feel it our duty to pursue the course determined upon, without stopping to consider whether it shall prove popular or unpopular.

We regret that there is to be a contest in the State at the present time. just as we as a people are emerging from a critical and perilous situation. Until within the past week or two it was generally understood that there was to be no opposition to the election of Gov. Holden. One fore they determine to vote against Holden in month ago there was scarcely a man to be found the present contest. anywhere who would say there ought to be opposition, but on the contrary there was a pretty general expression of opinion that there ought not to be opposition. What has caused this sudden movement to defeat Gov. Holden? If there has been a change in his conduct as Provisional our Legislature will first be required. Governor, it has been in latterly exhibiting more leniency and liberality than formerly. We know sketch of Gen. Howard's speech. that some men who are now pretty busy in opposition to Holden, courted and accepted his services to promote and benefit themselves at a time when they could not get along without his aidand their present conduct is ungrateful to say the least of it. But whatever may be the cause of this sudden opposition, we look on it as very elected to the Senate, and A. B. Springs, A. R. unfortunate, and, we fear, injurious to us as a people in our present situation.

We have no personal aims to promote by favoring Mr Holden's election, neither have we had any personal understanding with him or any of his particular friends on the subject-we shall vote for him mainly on the ground that we consider him the most suitable man to fill the office of Governor under the circumstances in which we as a people have been placed by the war, and because there appeared to be a general understanding until quite recently that there was to be no opposition. The State Convention. last week, by a unanimous rote, passed a resolution of thanks to Gov. Holden. Let this fact be remembered. There needed a friend .- Raleigh Standard. are many men in the Convention who heretofore differed with Mr Holden, yet they voted for or raised no objection to a resolution returning him his duties as Provisional Governor. If people will not save their papers containing important Laws and Ordinances, they must not expect us to furnish copies hereafter.

The South Carolina Conference will commence its annual sessions in this town on Wednesday, November 1st. Our country friends will or pleasure. please remember that catables will be in demand about that time.

TRUE,-The Raleigh Standard, speaking of the uncertainty of relying on free negro labor, truthfully remarks:

"It is a settled fact that our lands must be worked. No business can thrive without agriculture. The more improved the state of agriculture, the more improved the whole country and every trade in it. We of the cities do not now especially feel the utter prostration of agriculture, because farmers and everybody else are forced of necessity to buy necessaries. But they spend not a shilling unnecessarily, and are keepng and making all the money they can from their little surplus produce. Now, we do believe that the majority of the negroes will never voluntarily settle down to hard labor, unless the laws of the country bring them to it. These laws must be simple in order to meet their limited comprehension, just in order to secure satisfactory and We invite public attention again to this matter."

RALEIGH, Oct. 17, 1865. GENTLEMEN :- Your letter of the 14th instant, requesting me to be a candidate for Governor at the lection to be held on the 9th of next month, has been received. I beg to assure you that I am very grateful for this proof of your esteem and confidence. I did not seek the place I now occupy, nor have I sought a nomination for election by the people. have been content to do my duty to the best of my ability, under the instructions of the President, and and indulgent people. I do not fear that judgment. My duties have been, in many respects, new, unusual, and very onerous. I had no lights to guide an American State, save the instructions received from time to time from the President; and necessarily, those instructions have been only of a general character. My paramount concern has been, so to do that part of the work assigned to me as to secure the restoration of the State to the Union at the earliest practical period. To what extent have succeeded in this respect it is for the people to say. I can only declare, as I most solemnly do, that I have labored with an eye single to the good and the glory of North Carolina; and that, whatever may be the decision of the people on the ninth of November, I shall always possess the consciousmand, to improve the condition of her people, and to restore her to her appropriate and natural position in the Union. Gentlemen, it is not agreeable to my feelings in a crisis like the present, when everything dear to us depends upon union and harmony among ourselves, to speak of parties. I deprecate faction and bitter party spirit as the bane of the Republic. The evils we are now suffering, with all the calamities that have befallen us, may be traced to this source. As Provisional Governor of the State, in all I have said and done, I have known no party but the sincere friends of the Union. I am neither a Democrat We publish on our first page an interesting | nor a Whig. Both these parties were buried in the grave of the rebellion. All I can say is, I am a North Carolinian, heart and soul-"I am an American," the proudest expression that can issue from human lips; and while I hold, with Andrew Jackson and Henry Clay, that the people are the source of all declare that the only party to which I belong is son is the head.

If elected Governor by the people, I will do every thing I can to promote the prosperity and happiness of North Carolina, and to secure her return at the earliest moment to her place in the Federal Union. With many thanks, gentlemen, for the confidence United States Bonds, for one thousand dollars rou have reposed in me, and for the very flattering manner in which you have been pleased to allude to me in your letter, I have the honor to be,

Your most obedient servant, W. W. HOLDEN,

A TO SERVICE OF THE PARTY OF TH

We make no claims to having been a Union man-after the war commenced we did all in our power for the Confederate cause-but the people of this section of the State will remember that in the Fall of 1860, five years ago, when secession meetings were being held, we refused to participate in such meetings, and advised caution and moderation-we positively refused to vote for the first secession candidates brought out in this county. For our course then we were abused and denounced as a submissionist. We have no regrets for opposing the commencement of the war, neither do we regret the aid we gave the South after the war commenced. In 1860 we felt it our duty as a public man to use our influence to save the people from trouble and destruction, but after the strife commenced we felt bound to stand by our own section and do all we could to aid the Confederate cause.

And now, in 1865, in advising a support of Mr. Holden for Governor, we claim to be prompted by a sincere desire to promote the good of the people and prevent strife and discord. We have always been willing to let by-gones be by-gones. Since the close of the war Gov. Holden has shown a disposition to let by-gones be by-gones. By his wise management and conciliatory course. peace and quiet have reigned within our borders -no property has been libelled for confiscation -no man has been punished for his past actseverything seemed to be progressing harmoniously, until suddenly a bitter opposition to the Governor has been sprung, and the people are called upon to condemn and defeat him. The Convention gave a unanimous vote of thanks to the Governor and approved his course, and there appears to be no good reason for the violent opposition manifested to him within the last week.

Is strife, and discord, and contention, to be engendered among the people of North Carolina simply because two or three men have not been pardoned as soon as their friends think they ought to have been? No man who has properly approached the Governor has been refused a kind me in the work of reorganizing and reconstructing and respectful hearing. He has not desired to see any of his fellow-citizen. injured or their property confiscated. He has had the power to levy special taxes upon the excepted classes, even after they have been pardoned, but he has not done so. He still has that power, but has thus far refused to exercise it; and yet a great fuss is being kicked up in the State because he has not bowed down to a few individuals who think themselves worthy of peculiar notice and consideration.

In Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia strife has prevailed among the people since the close ness that I am a faithful and devoted son of our of the war-property has been sold under the confiscation act-but here in North Carolina we have been saved from such troubles by the intercession and good management of W. W. Holden. We ask the public to remember these things. Is it right to repudiate him now after he has led us so far out of our difficulties ? We have heretofore opposed him, but we intend to vote for him now if no other man in this county does so, because we honestly believe that he can do more than any other man in the South to restore our people to their ancient rights.

No man can truthfully say that we are actuated by party feeling, for since the commencement of the war we have voted for fifteen candidates, and twelve of the fifteen were old whigs. For the peace and quiet of the country we are still willing to let by-gones be by-gones. If strife, retaliation and bitter feeling should prevail in the State hereafter, and United States troops kept the National Union party, composed of the best ele-ments of all the old parties, of which Andrew John-since he has been Governor he has tried to prevent everything of the sort.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY .- We hear of an awful tragedy that transpired last week in the town of Shilob, Randolph county, Illinois. It appears that two physicians, Drs. Campbell and Minner, of that place, recently sent to the drug store of A. A. Anderson, of Chester, for a quantity of calomel. In one day the medicine was administered to forty patients, when it was discovered that with the calomel there was mixed corrosive sublimate, a violent poison. All of the patients were taken with alarming symptoms, and in the cases of seven of them the result had proved fatal at the date of our advices, and it was feared that others would not survive. Among those whose death ensued were a family named Mellinger, consisting of a man, wife and child. A sister of Dr. Campbell, an intelligent and interesting young lady, died in a few hours after having taken the dose prescribed by her brother. The calomel containing the poison was put up in the ordinary way, and bad not been tampered with after leaving the store of a wholesale druggist in St. Louis, by whom it was imported from England. The presence of corrosive sublimate was probably due to a culpable carclessness, rather than design, at the laboratory of the manufacturer.
