THE HUMAN HEART.

The human heart-no mortal eye Hath seen its strings laid bare :-A beauty and a mystery Is all that resteth there. In Love how silently 'twill brood, O'er feelings unconfessed, The bird that feeds in solitude, The younglings of its nest.

Its Hate is like volcanie fire ; We reek not of its wrath, 'Till bursts the lava of its ire, Around our scorehing path. Its Friendships-oh ! the blessed seeds It strews through Time's dull bowers, Which spring through misery's bitter weeds, To crown life's cup with flowers.

The heart's despair-what simile Portrays its gloom aright ; It is the bell of memory, Unutterable night.

Its Holiness-the tree whose bloom

Eternity supplies. And flocking to whose branches come, The birds of Paradise.

Through every human change the heart, Is but a living lyre, Where each fierce passion plays its part, Upon a separate wire. But harsh and wild the notes will be, If passion round them clings, It never yields pure melody, 'Till God hath touched the strings.

A wicked wag says the reason young ladies look so bold and fierce in the latter days is, that they tie their hair so tightly on the back of the head that they cannot shut their eyes, which gives them their fierce look, and then their tremendous waterfalls so balance their heads up that they seem to "cock their chins" at everybody, hence their bold, defiant look.

THE STRONGEST MAN .- A Mr. Butts, of New York, has entirely "taken the sails out of" Dr. Winship. He writes that he can lift two pounds two ounces. He says: "I have eaten plain, simple food-fow kinds at a meal, avoided knick-knacks, pork and condiments. I have used mostly vegetable food and milk when that would answer, but I found it necessary a portion of the time to introduce animal food into my diet." It is stated that Methodism is more largely developed in Philadelphia than in any other city of the world, and that there are in the city, of all kinds, 211 Methodist ministers, of whom 63 are pastors.

"Dr. Ramsay and myself used the Pacific Guano last season, and are very much pleased with it. We intend using it again is preference to Peruvian, at the difference in prices of the two articles."

A. B. Springs, Esq, York District, S. C., wrote us as follows on the 15th ult :

"I applied 250 lbs Pacific Guano to the acre on very poor land, and although the drought was the severest we have had since 1835, I calculate the increase of cotton at 400 lbs to the acre.'

On the 19th he wrote us again, saying :

"I wrote you a few days ago, stating that I should want 15 tons Pacific Guano. 1 forgot to mention that some of my neighbors have become excited at the result of my experiment, and have spoken to me in reference to procuring it for them. I shall want been bought since the late 25 tons."
