THE WESTERN DEMOCRAT, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

BAIN IN THE HEART.

The following lines were found by a Confederate soldier in a deserted house on the Peninsula, Virginia :

"Into each life some rain must fall."

If this were all-oh ! if this were all That into each life some rain must fall, There were fainter sobs in the poet's rhyme, There were fewer wreeks on the shores of time.

But tempests of woe pass over the soul-Since winds of anguish we cannot control; And shock after shock we are called to bear, Till lips are white with the heart's despair.

The shores of time with wrecks are strewn, Unto the ear comes over a moan-Wrecks of hopes that set sail with glee, Wrecks of love sinking silently.

Many are hid from the human eye, Only God knoweth how deep they lie; Only God heard when arose the cry, "Help me to bear-oh! help me to bear."

"Into each life some rain must fall," If this were all-oh! if this were all: Yet there's a refuge from storm and blast, Gloria Patri-we'll reach it at last.

Be strong, be strong, to my heart I cry, The pearl in the wounded shell doth lie; Days of sunshine are given to all, Tho' "into each life some rain must fall."

"This looking forward to enjoyment don't pay. For what I know of it, I would as soon chase butterflies for a living, or bottle moonshine for a cloudy night. The only way to be happy is to take the drops of happiness as God gives them to us every day of our lives. The boy must learn to be happy while he is learning his trade; the merchant while he is making his fortune. If he fails to learn this art, he will be sure to miss his enjoyment when he gains what he has sighed for.'
