We are but minutes; when we bring A few of the drops from pleasure's spring, Taste their sweetness while yet we stay, It takes but a minute to fly away.

We are but minutes; each one bears A little burden of joys and cares; Take patiently the minutes of pain ; The worst of minutes cannot remain.

We are but minutes; use us well, For how we are used we must one day tell; Who uses minutes has hours to use, Who loses minutes whole years must lose.

Jennie sighed, and Robin squeezed her Pretty little trembling hand; Then, with clasping arms, he seized her Half reluctant form, and-and-

"Loose me!" but he clasped the tighter-"Jennie, say, wilt thou be mine?" Then her bright face grew much brighter, And she whispered, "I-am thine."

Then they clasped each other fondly, Close together as two bricks, And they kissed each other fondly, And-I left them in that fix !

STRETCH IT A LITTLE -A little girl and her brother were on their way to the grocer's the SIX MILES SOUTH-EAST OF CHARLOTTE, N. C. other morning. The roofs of the houses and the grass on the common were white with frost, and the wind was sharp. They were both poorly clad, but the little girl had a coat over her, which she seemed to have outgrown. As they were walking along, she drew her little companion close up to her saying:

"Come under my coat, Johnny." "It isn't big enough for both," was his reply. "I guess I can stretch it a little," she said. And they got as close together and as varm as two birds in the nest.

How many shivering bodies, heavy hearts, and weeping eyes there are in this world, just because people do not stretch their comforts a little beyond

One of the most annoying and painful of socalled "little" troubles is a felon. A genuine remedy is worth circulating. It is said that a poultice of onions, applied morning, noon and night for three or four days will cure a felon. No matter how bad the case, lancing the finger will be unnecessary if this poultice be used; the remedy is a sure, safe and speedy one.
