The Impeachment Trial.

والموجوعة الأرزين ال

We announced last week the result of the vote on the 11th Article of the charges against the President. Below we publish the proceedings of the Court on the occasion :

MAY 16th .- The Court opened at 12 o'clock. All of the Senators were present. On motion of Senator Williams, it was decided, by a vote of 34 to 19, to vote on the Eleventh Article first. The Republican Senators voting against the calling of the Eleventh Article first, were Messrs. Fessenden, Fowler, Henderson, Ross, Trumbull, Van Winkle and Wiley. On this question Wade voted for the first time during the trial.

Judge Chase, after admonishing the people to quietness, ordered the Clerk to read the Eleventh Article.

When the questions were propounded in the terms agreed upon, those voting not guilty were: Bayard, Buckalew, Davis, Dixon, Doolittle, Fessenden, Fowler, Grimes, Henderson, Hendricks, Johnson, McCreedy, Norton, Patterson of Tennessee, Ross, Saulsbury, Trumbull, Van Winkle and Vickers-19.

Mr Williams moved a fifteen minutes' recess. Negatived. He then moved an adjournment to the 26th.

Mr Johnson suggested the announcement the vote.

Judge Chase said that he would not announc the vote until that on all the articles were taken, nnless the Senate ordered otherwise.

Drake raised the point that nothing was in order, pending the motion to adjourn. Mr Henderson said that the motion to adjourn was not in order, while the call of the roll was pending.

Judge Chase sustained the last point, and directed the Secretary to read the roll; which, being read, the Chief Justice stated that there were 35 votes for guilty and 19 for not guilty, and that the President was, therefore, acquitted on the Eleventh Article.

Judge Chase then stated that the Senate was the Executive Department of the State, and are now in process of carrying out the order to pro- duly elected to the offices herein specified : ceed to vote upon the articles of impeachment, and no motion was now in order, while that was pending. Mr Conness appealed, and the appeal was sustained-30 to 24. Then by a vote of 32 to 21, the Court adjourned to the 26th.

Wade resumed the chair, and after a long debate, a joint resolution, adjourning to the 25th, was negatived, and the Senate adjourned as usual.

After the result of the vote was known, the House of Representatives passed a resolution

We learn that the place of Cashier of the Raleigh National Bank has been tendered to Charles Dewey, Esq., and that of Teller to Mr John Blake.—Raleigh Standard.

SLIGHTLY MISTAKEN .- We learn that at Cabarrus Superior Court last week a negro woman, of the frisky and polite type, was introduced as a witness. After being duly sworn and placed upon the stand the attorney who introduced her, by way of informing her to whom she should direct her testimony, before he commenced his examination of her said : "Now, Aunt Margaret speak to his honor and the jury ;" whereupon the witness quickly turned around to the court and with a polite courtesy said in her blandest manner, "Good morning, Judge." Neither House has been doing much business within the past week, the members being in at. tendance on the Republican Convention at Chicago.

In the House on Monday, a joint resolution was introduced proposing to amend the Constitution, so as to make naturalized citizens eligible to the Presidency. A resolution, appointing a committee of five to investigate the Senator Hen. derson and Missouri delegation affair was adopted The Senate has indefinitely postponed the bill for the admission of Arkansas.

May 22 .- The President transmitted to the Senate the Constitutions of North Carolina. Louisiana and Georgia, which were refered to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr Davis introduced a preamble and resolution appointing a committee of three to investigate the attempts to intimidate Senators. Senator Henderson made a personal explanation, stating that he had been requested to appear before the Impeachment Managers, and desired the sense of the Senate on his duty. A long desultory dis-cussion ensued, the Radicals maintaining that the object of the managers was to elicit facts to support additional articles, the gravamen where. of was the President's attempts to corrupt the Senators; to this end Henderson was to testify. The Democrats maintained that the proceedings were against the Senators. In this sense Henderson rightly refused. A number of hogs have died in various parts

ordering that, for the further and more efficient prosecution of the impeachment of the President, the Managers be directed and instructed to summon and examine witnesses, under oath, to send for persons and papers, to employ a stenographer, and to appoint a sub-committee to take testimony, (the expense thereof to be paid from the contingent fund of the House) was adopted.

A resolution authorizing the Speaker to add two from those who voted against impeachment to the list of Managers, to be present and assist in investigations, was rejected.

Among the witnesses summoned by the Managers are D. W. Voorhees, Perry, Fuller of Kan-Mas. and Gen. Thes. Ewing.

MAY 18 .- In the House, Mr Stevens offered a resolution, calling for the secret proceedings of the Court. He said, "No one could doubt that there was deep damnation somewhere, and he wanted to find out who was guilty." Answering the question whether the Senators would bave been justified in committing perjury, Stevens said : "Well, Sir, I don't think it would have burt them much." The resolution passed.

The Eleventh Article.

The Radicals regarded the eleventh article of impeachment as the strongest of the whole number. This article was drawn by Mr Thaddeus Stevens after the others were adopted by the House. Mr Stevens said this one "was worth all the others put together." We give below his remarks on presenting it to the House :

"This charge is not here contained in the articles reported by the committee, and unless it is inserted there can be no trial on it. If there be shrewd langers, as I know there will, and caviling judges, and if without that article they do not acquit him, they are greener than ever 1 was when I commenced practice at the Court of Quarter Sessions. If that article be inserted, it will show both the removal and the attempt to defeat the reinstatement; and although the Senate should decide the other charges in his favor, how could he escape from this one?"

Washington Items.

No one well advised pretends now, that there ean be a conviction of the President upon any of the ten articles of impeachment remaining undisposed of. The eleventh article was selected by the advocates of impeachment as the one on which they could convict, if conviction could be had at all. It is conceded that there will be as many votes for acquittal on each of the remain- Alleghany-John L Smith. ing articles, and in some cases more than were Anson-D Ingram. cast for acquittal on the eleventh article, and Ashe-Matthew Carson. therefore the President cannot be convicted, as Beaufort-Hiram E Stilley. the case stands in the Senate.
