

The Old Folks.

Oh! don't be sorrowful, darling, And don't be sorrowful, pray— Taking the year together, my dear, There isn't more night than day.

'Tis rainy weather, my darling, Time's waves, they heavily run; But taking the year all round, my dear, There isn't more cloud than sun.

We are old folks now, my darling, Our heads are growing gray, But taking the year all round, my dear, You will always find a May.

We have had our May, my darling, And our roses long ago; And the time of the year is coming, For the silent night of snow.

And God is God, my darling, Of night as well as day, And we feel and know that we can go, Wherever he leads the way.

God of the night, my darling, Of the night of death so grim; The gate that leads out of life, good wife, Is the gate that leads to him.

WHAT IT COSTS TO SEE NIAGARA.—A correspondent writes: "To see Niagara you buy eleven silk dresses for your wife, and six shirts for yourself. You then get all the ready money you have, borrow all your friends have and make arrangements for unlimited credit at two or three good solvent banks. You then take six trunks, some more money, a nurse, a colored servant, some more money; and then, after getting some more money, and extending your credit at one or two more strong banks, you set out. It is better, if possible, just before you leave, to mortgage your homestead and get some more money."

Recently in Vicksburg there was a large Democratic procession in which were borne several United States flags which at the request of several citizens, had been loaned them by the post quartermaster. The parade of voters being large and impressive, alarmed the carpet-baggers, several of whom called on Gen. Gillen and complained that this officer had furnished flags to a procession which was "impeding reconstruction." "Gentlemen," said the General, "you are the d—dest fools I ever saw, I fought these people four years to make them carry the flag, and now you are mad because they wish to march under it."

"The Republican party has brought no peace, no repose, no prosperity to the country. It never can, because it lives and moves and acts its being outside the Constitution. It governs according to no fixed law, but only the passions of a caucus; and as the winds are not more variable than these, the country cannot expect any permanent prosperity while the government is administered by such a standard."

"TAKE NOTICE" We take pleasure in announcing to the public that we shall remove from our present stand in about 20 days to the stand of Hammond & McLaughlin, in Oates & Co's building, and we would be pleased to see our old friends and customers at our new stand. Preparatory to removing our stock we will sell for the next twenty days at greatly reduced prices. BUXBAUM & LANG, August 17, 1868.

SAVE THE SINNERS.—A gentleman who has recently arrived from South Africa, tells a story about a shipwreck near the Cape of Good Hope, which derives additional zest from the fact that it was one of the clergymen referred to. It appears that on board of the steamer Walden were several clergymen from Natal, going to a synod of the Reformed Dutch Church at Cape Town, and also an English clergyman. The steamer was wrecked near Point L'Agulhas, to the East of Cape Town, and the boats were gotten out. One of the clergymen rushed for the first boat, but Captain Jess, the master of the ship, lifted him out of the boat saying, "You are a minister and prepared to die; the sinners must be saved first," and sure enough the clergy were compelled to stick to the ship until the sinners had been landed.

An old gentleman by the name of Gould lately married a girl scarcely nineteen years of age—after the wedding the juvenile bridegroom addressed to his friend Dr G. the following couplet, to inform him of the happy event: So you see, my dear sir, though eighty year old, A girl of nineteen falls in love with old Gould. To which the doctor replied: A girl of nineteen may love Gould, it is true, But believe me, dear sir, it is gold with U.
