Northern Elections.

On Tuesday last, elections for State officers and members of Congress were held in Pennsylvania, ohio, Indiana and Nebraska. The Republicans I am sure it will be rewarded in the end. have carried all four States. The Democrats have decidedly Republican.

Each one will form his own conclusions about the effect these State elections will have on the Presidential election. We commenced the advocacy of sermour's election because we believed his principles were right, and we intend to vote for him, no matter what happens; but we tell the people that whether Seymour or Grant is elected there will be no war or interruption to business. Those who are apprehending some great calamity to befall the country on the election of one or the other candidates, holders of State Bonds: will find their fears groundless after the 3d day of November It is some consolation to know that there will not be another election for a long while after the Presidential election is over. Our colored population, and all others, will then understand for a certainty that only those who work hard and are sober. honest and conomical, will enjoy plenty of food, clothing and prosperity and happiness-they will understand that voting does not feed them or their Besides, it is not only bad policy but wrong to desert a friend under c roumstances that may be considered adverse. Let are beaten, submit in good faith, but try and do better next time.

The Governor's Proclamation.

We publish a Proclamation issued by Gov. Holden in regard to preserving peace in the State. We endorse every effort to maintain peace and good order, ami to that extent we are willing to co-operate with Gov. Holden or any one else, but we think the Governor has been misled in regard to the importation of arms into this State. We know that Government aforesaid. detectives have been traveling on the Railroad lines, and they saw several gun boxes which they supposed contained arms, (and no doubt so reported,) but on investigation it was ascertained that such boxes contained only axes with handles. These axes were rold as Government property and bought by Southern merchants, and put up in gun boxes as a convenience for shipping. These facts have already been established in this section, and ought to convince any one | tion says: that there is no danger of force being used by the friends of Seymour and Blair to effect any purpose.

What we all want now is peace and quiet, and protection by civil law to persons and property. If any one is aggrieved or injured, let him appeal to the lence. The Governor ought to understand that many Mories he hears of outrages are altogether one-sided. Before he acts, fairness and justice demand that he give both sides a hearing.

Good Counsel.

The Democratic party of South Carolina invited address the people. Mr Adams made a speech in meeting ever held in the State.

Mr Adams' speech is reported by telegraph, and we make an extract from it because it is somewhat different from political speeches generally, but nevertheless contains good counsel:

"Most of you doubtless regard the success of the Democratic party as essential to your release from your present situation, but it is my duty to remind you that men in your position have no right to be interest in the success of those who espouse your cause, and you may properly exert all legitimate influence to promote their success, but you ought not to shut the door to aid from any source. I have already deprecated unreasonable and undistinguishing hostility to the Republican party. I would now tinuation of the war between the two sections, warn you against an absolute and exclusive devotion and of course, they have supported their own to any party. If the Democracy succeed in electing their candidates, you will be subjected to temptations as trying as the demand upon your sufferance may prove in case Gen Grant is chosen. Hasty, ill considered, passionate, or violent action in the event of Democratic success would be almost sure in the end to turn to your discomfiture and render your last estate worse than the first, and yet it will require a good deal of self command to control the reaction from this depression. On the other hand, in case of Gen. Grant's election, you will be called on to exercise awhile longer your patience and forbearance.

I do not believe that Gen. Grant is your enemy I feel sure that he feels kindly towards you, and wil gained 5 or 6 Congressmen, but the general result is do justice and show mercy in his course to you. A large mass of R publicans will help you if you will do your best to help yourselves, A great majority of all the North only wait to be sure it is safe to take you cordially by the hand once more. Bide, then, your time. In either event "possess your souls in patience." Call to your aid that grandest of all human qualities, self control, and all will yet be well."

The Party of the Future.

Now that "the party of the war" proclaim the Hon. John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, to their ability easily to carry the Presidential election, and put General Grant in the Executive Columbia on the 12th, along with Gen. Wade Hamp- | chair, nothing can be more interesting than a ton and others. It is said to have been the largest view of the political horoscope, and some judi- est, one as the sea. We take pleasure in introcious predictions as to "the party of the future." Of course, we do not admit that the election of General Grant is a foregone conclusion, because, so far, the Democracy have steadily gained upon the Radicals in the great race. These gains, though considerable, are not, indeed, sufficient to assure success in November, but they are sufficient to cast some doubt upon the result. Still, it would be folly to deny that General Grant's bigoted partizans You must of course feel a deep election is probable, unless the Democracy prevent it by putting forth greater efforts than they have yet employed. The result of the elections last Tuesday simply shows that the Northern masses regard this Presidential contest as a consection with the blind enthusiasm of enraged shall have subsided and the political status of all the States shall have been settled, political issues will assume quite a different aspect. The wonderful vitality of the National Democracy which has survived a four years' war, to which it made opposition at every stage, may enable it to maintain its organization and again enter the field for another conflict against the corrupt and unprincipled but powerful organization against which it is now contending. But whether known as the National Democracy or not, there will be Organized Opposition against hydra-headed Radicalism, and the issues which it will present will unanimous support which the then "reconstructed" South will give it may be so considered.

And what will the main issue be? Already it has been foreshadowed in the Pendletonian policy for getting rid of the National Debt. The issues of which this is the forerunner, is involved in the present campaign, but it has been held in abeyance, or rather over-ridden by the questions pertaining to "reconstruction," upon which the Radicals hope to win by reason of sectional sympathies. A contest thus conducted of course can decide nothing in relation to the great question of national finances and taxes, and we may as well regard the trial of the question upon that issue as postponed until after the sectional issues are determined.—Richmond Enquirer.

TERRIBLE ASSAULT AND MELANCHOLY Consequences.—We learn that on Thursday last, Mr Simpson Davis of Union county, while returning to his home from Monroe, where he had been in attendance on court. was met and assaulted by a negro and beaten over the head in a most terrible manner. His skull was fractured, one eye knocked out, his jaw broken, and his face horribly lacerated. The instrument used was a heavy cane, with a long and heavy square iron ferrule. Strange to say, at our last accounts quarters it seems to be apprehended that in the he was still alive.

But the consequence of this dreadful affair did not end with the treatment Mr Davis received. He was a married man, and the father of ten children. His wife had been quite sick, but at the time of the assault was convalescing. When told of it, the shock was so great to her that she relapsed and died in two hours after-

The Dignity of Labor.

We are great friends of the industrial interests. Labor and capital should never conflict; each are materially dependent upon the other. They are as distinct as the billow, but in interducing a few remarks upon the dignity of labor, taken from the "Seminary Magazine," published in Richmond.

The article was written by the Rev. J B Jeter, and contains many facts that are worth remem- one company at each place-and 2 companies at bering by those who look down on labor; for there are such persons, who, as a general thing, are very narrow-minded and nine cases in ten are pensioners on the bounty of some poor relative for a support. Let them read, ponder and reflect, says Dr Jeter, that "a life of idleness is not only worthless, but contemptible. Neither wealth nor rank can efface this blot from human character. An idler is an excrescence on the body politic, increasing its weight, but diminishing its strength and beauty. An industrious shoe-boy is more meritorious than an indolent ignorance. When the passions of the hour prince. Why should not honest and useful labor, of every kind, be deemed respectable? The Creator has ordained that man shall labor. When he came from his plastic hand, in a state of perfection and loveliness, he was placed amidst the bloom and fruits of paradise, to dress and to keep it. When driven, on account of transgressions, from the bowers of Eden, he was doomed, as much in mercy as in judgment, in the sweat of has endowed us with faculties for laboring-our bodies are formed for exertion and the endurance of fatigue, and our hands are admirably constructed as instruments of art. We are surcontain no element of sectionalism, unless the rounded with means of useful toil. In obedience to well directed effort the earth will yield her bountiful increase to reward the husbandman. And all the riches of the mineral, vegetable, and animal kingdoms may, by skillful industry, be made tributary to the happiness and dignity of In Cabarrus county, on the 1st inst., by the Rev. man. God has imposed on man the necessity of G. D. Bernheim, Mr Moses A. Stirewalt to Miss labor. If he rebel against this ordinance, want, the most inexorable of masters, will teach him subordination, and summon hunger, nakedness, and pain, to enforce his instruction. To esteem labor lightly, then, is to reproach the ordinance of God. Has God made that essential to man which is derogatory to man? It cannot be. He who ordained that man should labor, saw that labor was worthy of him."

(Formerly Stone, Rosston & Murrays.)

The largest Exhibition in the Universe, will exhibit in Charlotte, Saturday, Oct. 31, 1868.

TWO GRAND PERFORMANCES. Matinee at 21-Night Exhibition at 74. Doors open one hour previous.

Admission 75 cts; Children under 10 years 50 cts. THE LEADING CIRCUS OF THE WORLD! UNPARAGONED IN SPLENDOR! $200,000 worth of Properties!

The Richest Show on the Earth! PRODIGAL IN MAGNIFICENCE! There is nothing in the history of amusements like

It surpasses all of its cotemporaries in popularity, in patronage and pecuniary profit.

These unexaggerated facts are attributable to the Supreme and Startling Excellence are of a character entirely new in this country, and STONE & MURRAY'S CIRCUS.

Most Brilliant CIRCUS TROUPE IN THE WORL. Actually embracing more first-class talent than any three Companies in this country possesses tractions as actually belong to their Circus, and do not magnify the abilities of their Troupe when they claim that no Exhibition in the World can equal it, in the predominating characteristics of variety and excellence, and that it is vastly superior to every other Circus Company in America. Giving better satisfaction and more refined and respectable entertainments than any exhibition in this country, and presenting attractions beyond the capacity of any Circus to imitate.

Don't forget the day and date, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 81st. And remember that this is the only legitimate first-class Circus in America, that performs all it advertises, and does not rely upon mister resentation and falsebood to induce patronage.

It wins success by deserving it.

Dowing to the limited space assigned to this advertisement, it will be impossible to give a discription of the troupe of this superb Circus.

Oct. 19, 1868 STONE & MURRAY advertise only such at-

Of its varied, novel and superb performances, which
