

The Journal.

CHARLOTTE: SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1833.

We are authorized to announce BRALY... as a Candidate for the Office of County Court Clerk.

We are authorized to announce PEARSON... as a Candidate for the Office of County Court Clerk.

We are authorized to announce Mr. JENKINS... as a Candidate for the Office of County Court Clerk.

As a number of our readers have expressed desire to see Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Webster's Speeches on the Enforcing (or Bloody) Bill as it is called, we lay before them to-day a part of Mr. Calhoun's Speech. As soon as we finish Mr. Calhoun's we will commence Mr. Webster's Speech.

On Wednesday night last, we were visited by the severest storm of wind, that we have any recollection of experiencing. We have not heard of any damage being done by the storm, but we fear that serious injury has been sustained by some.

We publish the following extract of a letter from Columbia, for the benefit of our friends engaged in the mercantile business: "COMMERCIAL BANK, Columbia, S. C. March 7, 1833."

DEAR SIR: The bank is making advances on Gold from 70 to 80 cents per dwt. at an interest of 10 per cent. and a charge of one per cent for risk and expenses until the Gold is sold at the market, the proceeds including the premium, are credited to the credit of the owner of the Gold, deducting only the 2 per cent. for the use of the money and all incidental expenses in affecting the Gold in Philadelphia.

We are now enabled to accommodate the community with checks on Charleston and Philadelphia, and with U. S. Bills, all at a very moderate exchange. Very respectfully, H. HUTCHISON, Cashier.

Mr. Clay's Bill for distributing the proceeds of the sale of the Public Lands for the next five years amongst the several States according to population, which the President has refused to sign, would have given to this State $130,000 a year, for the next 5 years. This fund would have enabled North-Carolina to effect many valuable objects.

New Papers.—The Camden and Lancaster Beacon, which has been discontinued for some time has been recommenced again under the name of "The Camden Republican and Lancaster Beacon," edited and published by Mr. Samuel Weir. It advocates the doctrine of Nullification.

We have received the first No. of a daily paper printed in Charleston, S. C. called the "Daily Advertiser," edited by Mr. W. Still, at $5 per annum. It is neatly printed.

The Western Carolinian of the 11th inst. contains the following paragraph: "OLD MECKLENBURG."

Some time since, we heard with no small degree of surprise, that the Patriotic and Republican Society of Mecklenburg, had gone over to the enemy. The report came from rather a questionable source, and we did not therefore, put the most implicit faith in the assertion. Last week, (it being court week) we were in the county, and had a good opportunity of ascertaining the sentiments of the people, and we were proud in being undeceived. We were proud to see the spirit of '76 still alive in old republican Mecklenburg. Her sons have not yet forgotten the lessons inculcated by their fathers.

We cannot say that we rightly understand the Editor of the Carolinian means by this paragraph... if we are to understand him to mean that the county of Mecklenburg is in favor of Nullification or State Rights as contended for by South-Carolina and Virginia, we think he has shot wide of the mark. We did not intend noticing this paragraph, but believing it may have a tendency to deceive persons who are not well acquainted with the true sentiments of this county, we cannot let it pass without saying, that from our own personal observation and from information received from gentlemen who have an opportunity of knowing something of the sentiments of this county, that not more than one-third of the voters of this county are in favor of these doctrines.

The Committee appointed to determine the time and place for the reassembling of the Union Convention of South-Carolina, taking into consideration the late passage of the Tariff Bill, which has been considered as a conciliatory measure by both parties, have given notice that the meeting of said Convention, which was to have taken place on Monday last, is postponed, without new acts of the dominant party should call for a Convention, when it will be promptly convoked.

The South-Carolina Convention pursuant to the Proclamation of the President, met in Columbia on the 11th inst. and was called to order by the President, who addressed the Convention in a short speech. 131 members were present. Mr. James Hamilton, jr. resigned his seat as President, when Robert Y. Hayne, Esq. (Governor) was elected to fill the vacancy. The Convention has passed the following Ordinances.

ORDINANCE. Whereas, the Congress of the United States, by an act recently passed, has made such a reduction and modification of the duties upon foreign imports, as amounts substantially to an ultimate reduction of the duties to the Revenue Standard; and that no higher duties shall be laid than may be necessary to defray the economical expenditures of the Government,

It is therefore Ordained and Declared, That the Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to Nullify certain acts of the Congress of the United States, purporting to be laws laying duties on the importation of foreign commodities," and all acts passed in pursuance thereof, be henceforth deemed and held to have no force or effect; provided that the act entitled "an act further to alter and amend the militia laws of this State," passed on the 20th day of December, 1832, shall remain in force until it shall be repealed or modified by the Legislature.

AN ORDINANCE To Nullify an Act of Congress of the U. States, entitled "an Act further to provide for the collection of duties on imports," commonly called the Force Bill.

We, the people of the State of South-Carolina in Convention assembled, do declare and Ordain that the Act of the Congress of the United States, entitled "an Act further to provide for the collection of duties on imports," approved the 2d day of March, 1833, is unauthorized by the Constitution of the United States, subversive of that Constitution, and destructive of public liberty, and that the same is and shall be deemed null and void within the limits of this State; and it shall be the duty of the Legislature, at such time as they may deem expedient, to adopt such measures and pass such acts as may be necessary to prevent the enforcement thereof, and to inflict proper penalties on any person who shall do any act in execution or enforcement of the same within the limits of this State.

We do further Ordain and declare, that the allegiance of the citizens of this State, while they continue such, is due to the said State; and that obedience only, and not allegiance, is due by them to any other power or authority, to whom a control over them has been, or may be delegated by the State; and the General Assembly of the said State is hereby empowered, from time to time, when they may deem it proper, to provide for the administration to the citizens and officers of the State, or such of the said officers as they may think fit, of suitable oaths or affirmations, binding them to the observance of such allegiance, and abjuring all other allegiance; and, also, to define what shall amount to a violation of their allegiance, and to provide the proper punishment for such violation.

The Convention adjourned on Monday last.

A Man in a Thousand.—A gentleman came into the counting-room yesterday, and addressing himself to the book-keeper, "Sir," said he, "I have read your paper for eighteen months, and always borrowed it; now it is but fair that I should subscribe for it." Suiting the action to the word, he "ponied up" four dollars, and registered his name on our subscription list. How seldom are public journalists cheered with such encouragement.—Boston Transcript.

We can say to some not a hundred miles from Charlotte come and do likewise.—D'ye take.

The Washington Globe of the 6th inst. says, yesterday, the Diplomatic representatives of the different foreign governments, waited upon the President to offer their congratulations on his re-election, and to assure him of the friendly disposition of their own countries towards the United States. They were received and introduced to the President, by the Secretary of State, in the presence of the Heads of Departments, at one o'clock, and Mr. SERRURIER, Minister Plenipotentiary of France, made the following address on their behalf:

MR. PRESIDENT: The Diplomatic Body accredited to the Government of this Republic, hasten to offer to your Excellency their respectful felicitations on your second inauguration as President of the United States. They feel assured that this new and flattering proof of the confidence of your fellow-citizens cannot but greatly contribute to confirm those friendly relations which already exist between this Republic and the Governments represented at Washington—relations which your Excellency has so happily preserved and extended during the four years of your first Presidency.

I esteem it, Mr. President, at once a happiness and an honor to be, on an occasion so interesting, the interpreter of the sentiments which animate the Diplomatic Body towards you, personally, and to offer you, in their name, the sincere wishes which every one of them truly entertains for the increasing prosperity of this Republic, for the firmness of its union, and especially, Mr. President, for every thing that can contribute to your own personal glory and happiness.

To this Address the President made the following reply: It gives me great pleasure, gentlemen, to receive by the organ of the eldest and highly respected member of the Diplomatic Body, near the government of the United States, the congratulations you are pleased to offer on my re-election, and, above all, the assurances for my country of the friendly disposition of those which you represent.

It has been a principle object with me, to cultivate that disposition by the sincerest desire to cherish kindly feelings, extend the advantages of commerce, promote the interchange of every discovery in arts and science in peace, and lessen by humane stipulations, the evils of war, when, unfortunately, that scourge of the human race becomes inevitable.

Repeat these assurances, gentlemen, to the several governments you represent, as the invariable rule of my conduct towards them; and, for yourselves, accept the offer of the high respect and regard for you individually, with which your conduct during your residence here has inspired me.

Shocking Murder.—We learn that a murder was committed in Anson County last week; a dispute arose between a man by the name of Obediah Dumas, of Richmond County, and one William Newton, when the latter inflicted five wounds upon Mr. Dumas with a knife, who survived but about two hours. Newton had been arrested and committed to Anson Jail to await his trial.—Fayetteville Observer.

Fatal Accident.—We are informed that Miss Martha Young, aged about 17, daughter of John Young Esq., of Buncombe County, was drowned in Swannano River, on the 22d ult. The circumstances attending the accident as we learn are: The deceased, in company with a Miss Bryson, a young lady of about her own age, left Mr. Young's house to attend school over the river, and while in the act of crossing the river, on the log extended across as a foot bridge, Miss B. grew giddy, and became so much alarmed as to fall off herself, and at the same time, overturn her companion, by whom she was led and assisted. Miss B. was borne down by the current some distance and washed on shore, where she lay for about half an hour insensible, but at length recovered, and by her cries alarmed the neighbors, when she was assisted home and the body of Miss Young sought after, but which was not found until several days after, and about 10 miles below the place where she fell in.

Rutherfordford Spectator.

An affray, says the Tarborough Free Press, took place on the 18th ult. between Thomas Gray and James Strickland, in Halifax county, which terminated in the death of the latter. Gray has absconded. Raleigh Star.

The Rev JOHN H. NORMENT, of this State, has accepted a call to St. John's Church, Knoxville, Tenn.—Raleigh Register.

A letter from Columbia informs us that a large assemblage of persons paraded the streets of that place on the night of the 13th inst. bearing a transparency, representing Messrs. DRAYTON, BLAIR and MITCHELL, which was exhibited in various parts of the town, accompanied with music, and the hooting and huzzing of the mob; after which, to the shame, the eternal shame, of the perpetrators, not the objects of the impotent outrage, these gentlemen were hung and burned in effigy, in front of the Theatre. We understand that a member of the Convention was among the crowd, and sanctioned the disgraceful scene by his expressions of gratification.—Chas. Cour.

There was but one vote South of the Potomac against Mr. CLAY'S Tariff Bill, and that was CHARLES FENTON MERCER'S, of Virginia—that gentleman is a candidate for re-election, and he is called upon, through the Alexandria Gazette, for the reasons which induced him to oppose the measure.

We have understood says the Washington (Geo.) News, of the 7th inst. that the storm of Friday last, was indeed a "furious gale" in many places—some lives have been lost—the new brick Court House lately erected in Talbotton, Talbot county, was blown down—and much injury done to plantations in various parts of the State.

New Counterfeit.—United States Branch Bank at Nashville, $10, letter C. No. 501, Vignette, Eagle, the upper face on the die on the left hand imperfect, the names of Josiah Nichol and of A. Vanwyck both on the face and in the endorsement written finer than in the genuine, general appearance good, paper fine, but of a light color. Nashville Gazette.

Little Rock, (Ark.) Feb. 6.—The steamer Arkansas arrived here on Wednesday evening, eight days from New-Orleans, and on Thursday noon departed for Fort Gibson.

Gov. STOKES, of North-Carolina, one of the Indian Commissioners, was passenger in the Arkansas, on his way to join his associates at the Cantonment.

The steamer Nile arrived on Thursday with the contractor's stores, and on the following day departed for the Cantonment.

Mammoth Cotton Stalk.—The dry stalk of a cotton plant, grown in Texas the last season, has been left at our office, by Capt. Dimsnor, which is really a curiosity. It measures 15 feet in length, and eight inches in circumference, near the root, decreasing gradually to the top. With the exception of the Palma Christi, it is the largest deciduous plant that we recollect to have seen.—Mobile Register.

The venerable JAMES MADISON, on the 5th inst. commenced his 84th year.

Temperance Prize Question.—With the design of promoting the temperance reformation, which has been so successfully commenced in the U. S. the Pennsylvania State Temperance Society, has united with several benevolent individuals, for the purpose of raising a sum, as a premium, to be awarded to the author of the best dissertation, embracing the following questions, viz:

- 1. What is the history of the origin of ARDENT SPIRIT, and of its introduction into medical practice?
2. What are its effects upon the animal economy? and
3. Is there any condition of the system, in health or disease in which its use is indispensable, and for which there is not an adequate substitute?

It is desirable that the premium should be at least $500, and efforts will be made to raise it to 1,000. At present, however, we are authorized to pledge a premium of but $300, which will be awarded in money, a gold medal, or in plate with a suitable inscription, at the option of the successful writer.

Dissertations must be transmitted, post paid, to the Rev. W. W. Niles, New-York City, on or before the 1st of January, 1834. The dissertation should have on its title page, a device, or motto, corresponding with one, upon an accompanying sealed letter, containing the author's name, title and residence.

The seal of the letter accompanying the successful dissertation, only, will be broken, while all others, with their dissertations, will remain at the disposal of their authors.

An evasive Answer.—"Well, Mr. M." asked an acquaintance of a celebrated horse-dealer, who was leaving Long Pole Wellesley the other day, "have you been paid your bill?"—"No," replied the hero of the manger, "I always gets an evasive answer when I axes for it."—"What was his excuse to day?" asked the enquirer,—"Vy, he said he'd see me d—d first," replied M.—London Paper.

The Beautiful and high-blooded Arabian HORSE SELIM

WILL stand the ensuing Season near Charlotte, in Mecklenburg county, N. C. at the moderate price of Twelve Dollars the Season; Seven Dollars the single leap, to be paid at the time of service; and Sixteen Dollars for insurance. Particular attention will be paid to Mares sent from a distance, but I shall not be liable for any accidents or escapes whatever. The Season to commence 1st of April and end the 20th June. The Fall Season the 1st September and end the 20th October.

The subscriber intends taking Selim to South-Carolina or Tennessee this winter, therefore this present is the only opportunity the citizens will have of breeding from him. Those who are desirous of raising horses for the turf, or for other purposes, would do well to embrace the present opportunity. It is well established that the Arabian Horses surpass all others for beauty, activity and durability.

SELIM was raised by Richard C. Rhodes, Esq. of Robeson county, N. C. of whom the subscriber lately purchased him, whose certificate is here subjoined.

CERTIFICATE. This certifies that I have this day sold to Wm. S. Norment, a grey stallion called Selim, who will be six years old in May next, (1833) whose pedigree I here subjoin.

SELIM was got by Saladin, who was imported from Tripoli by Richard B. Jones, Esq. late American Consul at that place, who selected him with the greatest care and attention from the whole stud of the Bashaw, and was declared to be of the finest and highest Arabian race ever imported into Barbary. His sire, Keled, was imported from the kingdom of Sennar, his dam, Gaima, was selected from the stables of the Emperor of Morocco and sent as a present to the Bashaw of Tripoli. The dam of Selim was got by the Brunswick out of one of the best Mares in this country.—Brunswick was got by Telemachus, sire of the old Monitor; his dam by the Rainbow. Telemachus was got by the imported horse of the same name. RICHARD C. RHODES. March 14th, 1833.

SELIM is a beautiful dapple grey, fifteen and a half hands high, with the most elegant mane I have ever seen—in fact he possesses all the characteristic marks of the full-blooded Arabian—a singular and beautiful head—he can drink with ease out of a quart bowl. His character is now fully established as a sure foalgetter. WILLIAM S. NORMENT. March 20, 1833. 4133
