

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN MESSRS. GRUNDY AND JACKSON.

We ask the reader's attention to the following: Nashville, May 6th, 1833. DEAR SIR—I am duly aware of the impropriety in general, of troubling you upon subjects not connected with your public duties...

Washington, May 16, 1833. MY DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 6th of May, with its enclosure, has been received. I am in doubt whether I should reply to your interrogations, as any answer I can give may not protect me from the charge of interfering in the choice of Senators...

In stating thus generally, my opinion of your conduct in the Senate, on the subjects alluded to, I trust no one will infer that I have any other object in view, but that of satisfying you that I am incapable of doing you injustice, with the choice which the Legislature are called upon to make, I can do nothing to do.

The Funeral of Commodore BAINBRIDGE took place at Philadelphia on Monday evening (the 29th ult.) The concourse of persons which attended it was immense. Hero was buried, of course, with Military honors. The escort and procession were under the command of Col. WARREN.

In the recent discussion of the Slavery question, in the British House of Commons, Mr. O'CONNEL used this language: "He would speak of the Americans as political hypocrites, who, while they talked of the glory of freedom, still unflinchingly continued the hateful system of slavery in its most hateful form."

The New-York Gazette announces the following Marriage Extraordinary! Married, in Philadelphia, by his honor the Mayor, Col. JACK DOWNING, of Uncle Sam's Army, to widow HANNAH NORRIDGE, of the district of Maine. The colonel was dressed in a bran new suit of regimentals, a present sent on from Washington by the President on his promotion, to be used on this occasion.

A wealthy owner of real estate was about erecting a splendid house upon a large lot, and was disclosing the plan of it to his neighbor. "I have employed," said he, "a man who has erected many buildings; and my design is for to have him to erect an edifice with a beautiful Portico in front, the street, a Pizarro behind, with a bath room contiguous!"

From the Raleigh Register. Greatness ever excites envy, and he who has achieved the noblest deeds, is the first object at which the shafts of detraction are levelled. WASHINGTON felt the full force of this lamentable truth, and at the time he was struggling to lay the foundation of our present admirable system of Government, there were not wanting those who endeavored to give a false coloring to his every action, and who with avidity, transmitted their falsehoods across the Atlantic.

Philadelphia Oct. 26, 1786. MY DEAR FRIEND—As I know you look upon whatever transpires in this country with intense interest, and have been among those who have ever suspected the late commanding General of the American armies, and predicted that he would ultimately look towards a Throne, and rule with a sceptre of despotism, those very people whom he has pretended to adore, and whose liberties he has avowed to be the God of his idolatry, I hasten to inform you that your suspicions relative to the ultimate views of Washington, promise to be verified.

Another Stage Accident.—It was but last week we noticed an accident, that occurred to the Stage near Louisa, by which several of the passengers were seriously injured; and it is with much regret that we are again called upon, after so short a lapse of time, to record another casualty of the kind, which proved equally as disastrous as the former. On Saturday last, as the Stage from Halifax to this city was descending a hill near Moccasin creek, about 24 miles from this place, the bridge came off one of the leading horses; at which he became unmanageable, and with the rest of the team, ran off and upset the Stage.

Horrid Transaction.—A family of twelve free colored persons, consisting of four grown females and eight children were poisoned yesterday, supposed by a negro man named Adam, owned by Mr. VERNON. The circumstances, as near as we can learn, were these. The fellow Adam had been living for some time past in the yard, and some difficulty having occurred, he was required to remove, and was to have left this day. In consequence of this requirement, the fellow made some threats, that he would be revenged. Yesterday, at dinner, the family had prepared some soup, and a fowl, cooked with rice, which was served up, and a woman, in an adjoining house, who had been recently confined, was also furnished with some of the soup, a small portion of which was given to the child. Shortly after partaking of their meal, the whole were attacked with violent retchings, and several who had freely partaken of the food, were last evening in a dangerous situation.

New Theory of the Globe.—One of the most amusing theories (says the Albany Daily Advertiser) which have been broached within a few years, in relation to the system of which our earth makes a part, not even excepting commander Woodville's, is that of a philosopher of the name of Demouville. The Academy of Sciences at Paris, from whose journals we now quote, pronounces it "un système qui ne peut supporter le plus léger examen." This conclusion appears to be irresistible, for, according to M. Demouville, the true explanation of the system of the world is this: there are but three planetary bodies, the Sun, the Moon, and the Earth! All the other planets are only catoptric illusions.

FOR CONGRESS. In the Fayetteville District Edmund Deberry is elected by a majority of 37 votes. In the Raleigh District Gen. D. L. Harringer is re-elected by a majority of something more than 100 votes. In the Granville District Gen. M. T. Hawkins is re-elected by a majority of 197 votes. In the Morganton District we understand that Jas. Graham, Esq. has been elected, receiving about 800 majority over Mr. S. P. Carson. In the Iredell District we understand that Lewis Williams is re-elected.

We have been requested to state, that the Committees from the different companies in this county will meet the members of the Legislature on Monday of our next Superior Court, at Charlotte, to give them such instructions as they may think necessary.

The Cotton Market.—Sixteen and a half cents was yesterday offered and refused for a lot of eighty-eight bales of prime Cotton. Chas. Courier, 6th inst.

The following is an extract of a letter to the Editor of the Raleigh Register, dated Smithfield, Johnston county, Aug. 3, 1833. "Yesterday, there was a collection of people at this place to ascertain the result of the Election, and in the course of a few hours, TWENTY-TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS were subscribed towards carrying into operation the Rail Road from Raleigh to Wilmington via Waynesborough. It seems, that even Johnston is awakening from her slumber."

Singular Circumstance.—This Congressional District has long been remarkable for close contests—the majority of the successful candidate seldom reaching 100 votes.—At the election in 1831, between Messrs. Deberry and Bethune, the former, who had held the incumbency, was beaten by a majority of 37 votes only. The election just held between the same candidates, has resulted in the defeat of Mr. Bethune, the late member, by the identical majority of 37 votes!

We take pleasure in stating, that the member-elect is in favor of the U. S. Bank and of Mr. Clay's Land Bill.

Fayetteville Observer. The Convention Question.—It will be seen that this County has given a nearly unanimous vote in favor of amending the constitution. Anson and Mecklenburg have done even better, and Moore and Richmond almost as well. The only thing we have to fear in regard to the decision of this question, is that the subject was not attended to.—ib.

Our City.—There are now about twenty new brick buildings going up on Fayetteville street, in this city, intended for Stores. They are, for the most part, of the largest class, and will be finished in a superior style of neatness. These alone, give active employment to a large number of persons, and in addition thereto, we find that there are 120 workmen engaged about the new Capitol, in various occupations. Raleigh Register.

The Proceedings of the late Internal Improvement Convention have been printed in pamphlet form, at this Office, for gratuitous distribution. County Committees, and others who feel an interest in the subject, can obtain any number of copies on application, or by sending an order with directions how they shall be transmitted.

Extra Court.—Judge Martin held an Extra term of the Superior Court in this village the present week. Only one case, we are informed, was tried. There are upwards of 150 cases on the docket. The Court was opened on Monday morning and adjourned on Tuesday Evening. Neither the counsellors nor the parties, generally, were prepared to do business, owing to the near approach of the Election. Rutherfordton Spectator.

CINCINNATI, August 1. Health of the City.—A complete list of the interments from Tuesday night, July 29th, to Tuesday night, July 30th, had not been returned to the City Clerk yesterday, so that the official report cannot be given to day. We have ascertained, however, very near the exact result. The whole number of deaths, 112. Cases of Cholera 51. We have 13 more interments than the week preceding; the proportionate of cholera a little diminished. From the Mayor's report, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the Cholera interments advanced a little upon those of Monday.—Gazette.

U. S. Bank Stock has taken another rise in New-York—large sales having been made on the 6th inst. at from $112½ to $113.

The Legislature of Georgia has passed a law, forbidding the employment of any slave or free person of color, as a compositor (type setter) in any printing office in that state, under a penalty of $10 for every day during any part of which the said black should be thus unlawfully employed.

Unprecedented and awful effects of the Electric Fluid.—A gentleman in whose vicinity we have no shadow of doubt, just arrived from the country, informs us, says the New York Gazette, that on Wednesday afternoon, during a severe thunder gust, two men and four horses, who had found a shelter under a large tree on the farm of Mr. Van Wyck, near Fishkill Hook, were all instantly killed by a stroke of lightning; and what is most remarkable, is, that the leg of one of the men was blown off, and found several feet from the body. Poulson's Ad.

Go it Jerry!—A horse, with saddle and bridle, was recently found without a rider, wandering near a country tavern in Ohio. Search having been made, the gentleman owner, very essentially drunk, was found mounted astride on a wall, "kicking and spurring most furiously," cursing his supposed pony for not moving forward.—Having become a little sobered, he discovered his mistake and dismounted, to the no small amusement of the bystanders.

There are storms which are instrumental to the strengthening of a government in its roots.

OBITUARY. Died, in this place, on Wednesday, 14th inst. after a long and painful illness, Mrs. Sarah Hoskins, (widowed mother of Mr. John G. Hoskins) in the 76th year of her age. She was truly an affectionate mother, and famed for her benevolence to suffering and needy humanity. She lived long without God and without hope in the world; yet for the last six months of her life she was much concerned about her soul. She was much engaged in prayer, and even in the midnight hour would get on her knees and wrestle with God at the throne of Grace. She delighted in Christian conversation, and nothing was so agreeable as to unite with the pious in humble prayer. She was often heard to praise the Friend and Saviour of sinners, and with Peter could testify she loved her Jesus. She died praying, and we have great cause to believe her prayers is turned into praise, and she is now with Jesus in Paradise. "Let me die the death of the righteous; and let my last end be like his."—COMMUNICATED.

DIED. At Mr. Slaughter's Tavern in Salisbury, on the 6th inst. Mr. Thomas Cherry, of Alabama, aged about 19 years. He had travelled for three days in a high fever and delirium, and was past the reach of medical aid which was promptly applied to him on his arrival at this place. Also, in the vicinity of this town, at the residence of the late John Pool, on Friday last, Mr. Napoleon Hampton, of Iredell county. Catawba Journal, 12th inst.

In Newbern, on the 3d inst. the Hon. John Stanley. It will be recollected that during the session of the Legislature of 1826-27, while Mr. Stanley was engaged in the duties of Speaker of the House of commons, and was in the act of delivering a speech, his course was suddenly arrested by an attack of Hemiplegia, and he was borne from the House in a perfectly helpless state, having entirely lost the use of one side, and almost the use of speech. In this painful condition he remained until he was delivered by the hand of death.—Thus has descended to the tomb one of North Carolina's most distinguished and useful sons. He had devoted a great portion of his life to the public service—chiefly in our State Legislature and in the Congress of the United States; in both of which offices he held a pre-eminent rank, especially as a debater; in which capacity he had few equals—superiors none. Nor was his private worth and virtues of a less exalted and enviable character. But we leave his eulogy to abler hands, and doubt not that some one, competent to the task, will do justice to his memory.—Raleigh Star.
