THE SABBATH BELL.

By JOHN BIRD.

The Sabbath Bell! how sweetly breathes O'er hill and dale that hallowed sound, When Spring, her first bright chaplet wreathes...

The Sabbath Bell! 'tis stillness all, Save where the lamb's unconscious bleat, Or the lone wood-dove's plaintive call, Are mingling with its cadence sweet...

The Sabbath Bell! how soothing flow Those greetings to the peasant's breast, Who sweats not labour, ne'er can know The blessed calm that sweetens rest...

The Sabbath Bell! yes not in vain That bidding on the gale is borne: Glad respite from the echoing wain, The sounding axe, the clamorous horn...

The Sabbath Bell! ere yet thy peal In lessening murmurs melt away, 'Tis sweet with reverent step to steal Where rests around each kindred clay...

The Sabbath Bell! 'tis silent now; The holy face the throng receives; The pastor bends his aged brow, And slowly turns the sacred leaves...

The Sabbath Bell! oh, does not time In that deep tone all potent breathe; Many have listened to that chime, Who sleep these grassy mounds beneath...

JOHN HERRALD, One Mile below McClenahan's Ferry, Lancaster Dis. S. C. Sept. 16, 1833.

25 DOLLARS REWARD.

ANAWAY from the Subscriber, on the 26th of December last, my Negro Boy about 35 years of age, stout built, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, and has a scar on his forehead over one of his eyes, caused from the kick of a horse. When spoken to has a pleasing countenance and something of a down look: his wearing apparel not recollected, and if it were his friend John Underwood has got him others, as suspicion rests very strong against him for harboring the said Boy.

TWENTY DOLLARS

will be given for said Boy and proof sufficient to convict any white person of harboring him. From information, I am led to believe that he has been at work at different Gold Mines through the lower end of Mecklenburg County, N. C. with this said John Underwood in an underhanded way, such as carrying off the Ore after night and washing it when best suits their convenience from being detected.

John Underwood, at this time, is absent from his family, and it may be that he has got in with the Boy to go off with him. The said Underwood is about 30 years of age, dark complexioned, black hair and eyes, about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, possesses a mean look and is a shoemaker by trade, is fond of spirits and lying in negro kitchens.

The above reward will be given for the Boy if brought to me, or lodged in any Jail so that I can get him.

NEW BOOK STORE.

THE Subscriber having no prospect of being again able to perform the labors of the ministry; and feeling, in common with other men, the importance of engaging in some employment which will enable him to provide for the wants of a rising family, has opened a Book Store in Charlotte, N. C. He believes, that such an establishment was needed in the Western section of our State. He respectfully invites his friends, acquaintances, and all who feel any interest in his undertaking, to call and see his Books. He will be happy to execute orders for those who live at a distance.

Whilst he has on hand some valuable works in Law, in Medicine, most of the Greek and Latin Classics, and other books used in our Schools and Academies, many works in Theology, and many Miscellaneous books suited to almost every class of readers, he will be able to procure on favorable terms, any books to be found in the Northern Cities, or in the London Market. It will give him pleasure to assist professional gentlemen or private citizens in enlarging their Libraries, or in purchasing new ones. He looks with confidence and respect to an enlightened community for encouragement. DANIEL GOULD, Charlotte, May 23, 1833. 3m

P. S. I have contracted with the Secretary of the A. T. S. for an Edition of the Christian Almanac for North-Carolina, for 1834. Charleston and Cheraw. THE STEAM BOAT MACON.

Capt. J. C. Graham, having been engaged the last summer to run between Charleston and Cheraw, calling at Georgetown on her way up and down, will resume her trips in the course of a few days, and is intended to be continued in the trade the ensuing season. The exceeding light draft of water, drawing only four and a half feet when loaded, will enable her to reach Cheraw at all times, except upon an uncommon low river, when her cargo will be lightened at the expense of the Boat. Comfortable accommodations for a few passengers, with all due attention. J. B. CLOUGH, Charleston, Sept. 26, 1831. 50tf

PROSPECTUS

Of a novel and interesting Weekly Publication, to be commenced on Saturday the 6th of July, TO BE ENTITLED

The Spy in Philadelphia, AND SPIRIT OF THE AGE.

IT is very philosophically observed by Addison, that our greatest pride arises from doing good to each other, or, in other words, from being individually serviceable to society. This can be best effected by a proper application of our intelligences, meeting them out according to the necessities of the community, and less lamenting the decline of public virtue than checking the progress of public vice: for vice retarded is virtue advanced. As the direction and discussion of measures of national and state polity are the business of the daily press, the full application of Addison's remark is necessarily neglected, and the consequence is, that vice abroad among the people, not only unsuspected, but courted and required; and that a publication is necessary which will not only detect, but exhibit these wolves in sheep's clothing to public scorn; a mark by which others will be warned from their intent and service be rendered to society. In effecting this object we shall pursue a yet untrodden path; one where the necessary thorn shall be mingled (not concealed) with contrasting flowers. The number of the "Spy in Philadelphia" shall be perfectly delicate, and uncontaminated by cant or vulgarity; its censure shall be judicious, its satire chaste. Literature and the arts shall find in it an untired friend: Dramatic and Literary criticisms shall meet with most attentive and impartial duty, and sketches of the Bar and Pulpit of Philadelphia shall occasionally appear from the pen of competent judges, uninfluenced by personal acquaintance or professional attachment. To these recommendations, our Poetical column will add another, which, coming from an already popular source, will, we trust, be equal to that of more pretending publications. It is unnecessary to be more explicit, as we presume the want of the proposed journal is not only admitted, but generally felt.—We therefore place ourselves before the PEOPLE and relying upon their love of justice and of public virtue, await their decision respectfully but confidently.

CONDITIONS. The first number of "THE SPY IN PHILADELPHIA" will be issued on the first Saturday in July. It will be printed on fine white paper, in eight quarto pages, and with good type. As it is intended to render the contents worthy of preservation, for amusing or instructive reference, the advantage of the proposed and more portable size will be evident. The terms are $2 per annum, payable in advance, or $2 50 if not paid before the expiration of six months. Agents will be allowed a discount of 10 per cent., on all subscribers they shall obtain, on remitting one year's payment in advance, or becoming responsible for the same, and a gratuitous copy of the paper.

"THE SPY IN PHILADELPHIA" will contain humorous engravings in the manner of the celebrated Cruikshank. They will be executed by skilful artists and be accompanied with comic illustrations in prose or verse from the pens of original and competent writers.

All orders must be addressed, post paid, to WILLIAM BILL & CO. No. 1 Athenian Building, Philadelphia.

Care will be taken to have the work carefully packed when sent out of the city. Subscriptions received at this Office.

Philadelphia, October, 1832.

STATE OF NORTH-CAROLINA, MECKLENBURG COUNTY.

Superior Court of Law, Spring Term, 1833.

Robert M. Sterling vs. Margaret Sterling. Petition for Divorce.

IT appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that the Defendant in this case is not an inhabitant of this State, therefore it is Ordered, that publication be made for three months in the Miners' and Farmers' Journal, for the said Defendant to appear at our next Superior Court of Law, to be held for the county of Mecklenburg, at the Court-House in Charlotte, on the 7th Monday after the 4th Monday of September next, and there to plead in answer to the Plaintiff's petition, otherwise judgment pro confesso will be entered against her and decree accordingly. Witness, PEARALL THOMPSON, Clerk of said Court, at Office in Charlotte, the 7th Monday after the 4th Monday of March, A. D. 1833. P. THOMPSON, c. c. e. June, 5 1833. Price adv. 54

Select Circulating Library.

Containing equal to Fifty volumes for 5 Dollars PROSPECTUS.

IN presenting to the public a periodical, entirely new in its character, it will be expected that the publisher should describe his plan, and state the objects he hopes to accomplish.

There is growing up in the United States a numerous population, with literary tastes, who are scattered over a large space, and who, distant from the localities where books and literary information emanate, feel themselves at a great loss as to that mental food which education has fitted them to enjoy. Books are cheap in their principal cities, but in the interior they cannot be procured as soon as published, nor without considerable expense. To supply this desideratum is the design of the present undertaking, the chief object of which emphatically is, to make good readings easy, and to put it in a form that will bring a literary man's door.

Books cannot be sent by mail, while the "Select Circulating Library" may be received at the nearest distant post office in the Union in from fifteen to twenty-five days after it is published, at the trifling expense of two and a half cents or in other words, before a book could be bound in Philadelphia, subscribers in Ohio or Vermont may be procuring it in their parlors.

To elucidate the advantages of the "Select Circulating Library" such as we propose, it is necessary to compare it with some other publications. Take the Waverly novels for example; the Chronicles of the Canongate occupy two volumes, which are sold at $1.25 to $1.50. The same number would be readily contained in three numbers of this periodical, at an expense of three or four cents, postage included! So that more than three times the quantity of literary matter can be supplied for the same money by adopting newspaper form. But we consider transaction by mail, and the early receipt of a new book, a most distinguishing feature of the publication. Distant subscribers will be placed on a par with those nearer at hand, and will be enabled at their own homes with equal to about 12 Volumes of the common London novel series Five Dollars. This may not take fifty years to accomplish; for, though not longer than a week will elapse between the issuing of a number yet, when there is a press of very interesting matter, or when two or more numbers are required to contain a whole work, the proprietor will feel himself at liberty to publish at shorter intervals—fifty two numbers being the quantity for five dollars.

Arrangements have been made to receive in London an early copy of every new book printed either in that part of talent or in Education, together with the periodical literature of Great Britain.—From the former we shall select the Novels, Memoirs, Tales, Travels, Sketches, Geography, &c. and publish them with as much fidelity and accuracy as an extensive printing office will admit. From the latter, such intelligence will occasionally be culled, as is more interesting and entertaining to the local knowledge and science, literature and good standard novels, and other works worth of print, may also occasionally be reproduced in our columns.

The publisher confidently assures the best families, that they need have no dread of intruding into the domestic circle, as the gentleman who has undertaken the Editorial duties, to literary tastes and habits adds a due sense of the responsibility he assumes in catering for an extended and respectable community, and of the consequences detrimental and otherwise, that will follow the dissemination of obnoxious or wholesome mental aliment. His situation and engagements afford him peculiar advantages and facilities for the selection of books. These with the additional channels created by agencies at London, Liverpool and Edinburgh, warrant the proprietor in guaranteeing a faithful execution of the literary department.

It would be supererogatory to dilate on the general advantages and conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits wherever located, but more particularly to those who reside in retired situations—they are persons that the first glance cannot fail to flash conviction of its eligibility.

TERMS. The Select Circulating Library will be printed weekly on a double medium sheet of fine paper, octavo form, with three columns on a page, and mailed with great care so as to carry safely to the most distant post office.

It will be printed and finished with the same care and accuracy as book work. The whole of two numbers will form a volume with preservation, of 832 pages, equal in quantity to 1260 pages, or three volumes, of Rees's Cyclopaedia. Each volume will be accompanied with a title page and index.

The price is Five Dollars for fifty-two numbers of sixteen pages each—a price at which it cannot be afforded unless extensively patronized. Payment at all times in advance.

Agents who procure five subscribers, shall be a receipt in full by remitting the publisher $2—a proportionate compensation for a larger number. This arrangement is made to increase the circulation to an extent which will make it an object to pay agents liberally. Clubs of five individuals may thus procure the work for $4 by uniting their remittances.

Subscribers, living near agents, may pay their subscriptions to them; those otherwise situated may remit the amount to the subscriber at his expense. Our arrangements are all made for the fulfillment of our part of the contract.

Subscribers' names should be immediately forwarded, in order that the publisher may know how many to print of the future numbers. ADAM WALDIE, Philadelphia, October, 1832.
