

Foreign Intelligence.

New York, Nov. 2.

From London we have, by the Silas Richards, papers to the 25th ult.

They are filled with speculations about Portuguese affairs, and we copy the report of Don Miguel's having made propositions to capitulate, without however, attaching entire faith to it. The Lisbon dates received in England were of the 14th. By the way of Boston we have accounts direct to the 18th, which are silent respecting this matter. The London Times of 24th does not confide in the report, though it considers the eventual defeat of Miguel and Bourmont certain.

Paris papers of the 21st announce the arrival of our Minister, Mr. Livingston, in that city.

The Hague Journal states, after a letter from Lubeck, that a Russian 74 gun ship, with a crew of 750 men has been wrecked upon the coast of Finland, and only 15 men saved.

The London Spectator says, "A plot to assassinate the Emperor of Russia has been discovered at St. Petersburg, in which several Poles are said to be implicated. A report has also been circulated, that letters from general Lafayette were found in possession of one of the conspirators, urging him to the commission of the deed. This the gallant and high-minded old General most indignantly denies; and we suppose there is scarcely a human being who would not at once acquit him of the charge."

Suspension of Hostilities.—Meditation of England.

The Echo Government steamer, Lieutenant Otway commander, arrived here on Thursday, from Lisbon and Oporto. She left Lisbon on the 12th, and Oporto on the 14th inst.; and has brought home proposals from Don Miguel for the intervention of England in the quarrel between him and his brother. Lisbon was closely besieged, and there had been some severe fighting, but the Miguelites had been repulsed at every point.

New York, November 4.

From Europe we have, by the Ajax, later dates by a week nearly; but they furnish little political news of interest. The commercial accounts, especially in respect of Cotton, show an unfavorable reaction. We copy from the Courier.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND.—Last Evening the ship Ajax, Capt. Heintz, arrived from Liverpool, whence she sailed on the 30th September. We are indebted to the Captain for Liverpool papers of that date, and London of the 29th.

No further intelligence had been received in England from Lisbon, and we have therefore, nothing further on the state of affairs in Portugal, except a contradiction in a London paper, the Globe, of the report that Marshal Bourmont had proposed to capitulate to Don Pedro. That paper states, that in answer to a proposition to that effect made by the British Ambassador, Lord Wm. Russell, the Marshal had replied that he did not feel himself in such circumstances as to render it expedient for him to decline recommending a further prosecution of the contest.

LATE FROM FRANCE.—By the Sully, from Havre, we have Paris and Havre papers of 1st ult. They furnish little political news. The rumors from Constantinople were numerous, of insurrectionary movements there; but nothing further was known except that a great fire occurred there on the 1st September.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS, SEPT. 28.—The Cotton market continues in a very depressed state, very little doing, and prices merely nominal. Of 3300 Sea Island, Brazil, West India, and Surat offered by public sale yesterday, only 364 bales could be forced off at a decline of 2d to 2½d per lb. on the highest prices of last month. The import is 4250 bags, and the sales are 3600 bags, viz: 130 Sea Island 13 to 18d; 30 Stained do. 8 to 12½d; 41 Bowed 8½ to 11½d; 700 Alabama 8 to 11½d; 856 New Orleans 9 to 13½; 400 Pernambuco 11 to 13d; 100 Bahia and Macao 10d to 14½d; 273 Maranhans 10½d to 12½d; 30 Demerara 10 to 13½d; 300 Surats at 4½d to 8½d per lb. By public sale this day: 40 Sea Island at 11½d to 18½d; 220 Pernambuco 10½ to 11½d; 20 Demerara 10½ to 11½d; and 20 Common West India at 8½d to 10½d per lb.

Mr. CLAY arrived in Lowell at 12 o'clock on Friday. In the afternoon he visited the manufacturing establishments, and in the evening, met the citizens at the Town Hall. His Honor Lt. Gov. Armstrong, Hon. Edward Everett, and several other distinguished gentlemen, accompanied him on his journey. He was cordially received by all the inhabitants, without distinction of party. He has declined the invitation of the citizens of Portland, to visit that place, on account of the advanced state of the season, and engagements which prevent him. On Thursday Mr. Clay was greeted at Mount Auburn by three revolutionary soldiers, brothers, of whom the two oldest, being 86 years old, were twins; the third was 76. The Lowell Journal says there are four other brothers and sisters of the family, and that the youngest of them is 62 years of age. All three of the eldest fought through the whole revolution, and the twins were in the Concord fight together.

A verdict of five hundred dollars was obtained at Hartford, Conn. by a man against another individual, for carelessly allowing his horse to run on the pavement, and knock down the plaintiff.

CHARLOTTE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1833.

The Superior Court for this county commenced its session on Monday last. His Hon. Wm. Norwood, presiding. No business of importance has been transacted.

The Legislature of this State will convene in Raleigh on Monday next. The people of this State may look to the proceedings of this body with great anxiety. They will be called to legislate upon several subjects of great importance to the prosperity of the State. The expediency of calling a Convention—Chartering a Bank—and authorizing the Governor to borrow money on the faith of the State, for purposes of Internal Improvement, are subjects of deep interests to a large portion of the citizens of North-Carolina at this time.

We publish this week the concluding part of the correspondence between the Secretary of War and Gov. Gayle, of Alabama, relative to the removal of intruders from the Indian Lands. It will be seen that the President has determined to see the law enforced. We also insert the Proclamation of Mr. Madison in 1815, with orders from the Secretary of War to Gen. Jackson and other officers in 1816 and 1818, to remove intruders—these show that the President is not exercising any new power, but seeing that the laws of the country are duly executed.

Curious Natural Phenomenon.—On Wednesday morning last, a most singular natural phenomenon was observed by a great number of persons in this town and its vicinity. It was a constant succession of shooting stars, or rather an uninterrupted shower of shooting stars. The stars seemed to proceed chiefly from a point 10 or 15 degrees east of zenith, in every direction towards the earth, some of them remained quite brilliant, till they apparently came very near to the ground. In one instance, a star some distance from the earth, remained several seconds spread out in length like a streak of lightning, in great brilliancy, and then gradually vanished.

We understand this phenomenon was first seen between 12 and 1 o'clock, was preceded by a report similar to that of a cannon, and continued till day light. It occasioned no little uneasiness among some of the people here. It was indeed an interesting and sublime display of celestial phenomena.—We are not sufficiently skilled in science to give a satisfactory explanation of this phenomenon; but apprehend it was in some degree, if not wholly, occasioned by a sudden change in the temperature of the atmosphere.

Peter V. Daniel, Esq., of Richmond, has declined the office of Attorney General, tendered to him by the President. It is the third office which he has refused.

William Gaston, of North Carolina, arrived in town last evening, from the South, by the Rail Road Line.—N. Y. American.

The Richmond Enquirer publishes the following extract of a letter from the Secretary of War to Major McIntosh, Commander of the U. S. troops at Fort Mitchell. It does credit to the Administration, and we record it with great pleasure.

Extract of a Letter from the Secretary of War to Major J. S. McIntosh, dated October 29th, 1833. "Sir—Your letter of the 21st instant to Major General Macomb has been laid before me—and, in answer, I have to inform you, that you will in no case be permitted to interfere with the service of legal process upon any officer or soldier under your command, whether issuing from the Courts of the State of Alabama, or of the United States: On the contrary, you will give all necessary facilities to the execution of such process.

"It is not the intention of the President, that any part of the military force of the United States should be brought into collision with the civil authority. In all questions of jurisdiction, it is the duty of the former to submit to the latter, and no considerations must interfere with that duty.

"If, therefore, an officer of the State or of the United States come with legal process against yourself, or an officer or soldier of your garrison, you will freely admit him without your post, and allow him to execute his writ undisturbed."

Francis S. Key, Esq. U. S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, passed through this city on Tuesday night last, on his way to Alabama. It is understood that the object of his visit to that State is, to have the soldiers who were concerned in the killing of Col. Owens, tried before the United States Circuit Court.—Ral Star.

An Expensive Meal.—At the Zoological Gardens, Regent's Park, a lady was holding a biscuit to the elephant from the top of her reticule, the animal mistaking the extent of the lady's generosity, seized the reticule with his trunk, and conveyed it with its contents (a £10 note, some loose money, and a bunch of keys), into his stomach, to the dismay of the lady and the amusement of the bystanders.—London paper.

Dr. THOMAS S. RANSOME, Surgeon Dentist, OFFERS his professional services to the citizens of Charlotte and its vicinity. He may be found at Mr. Hayes' Tavern, when not professionally engaged. Ladies waited on at their places of residence. Nov. 15, 1833.

[COMMUNICATION.]

In accordance with a previous appointment, an Internal Improvement Meeting was held at the Court-House in Charlotte, on Tuesday the 12th inst.

On motion, Dr. Stephen Fox was called to the chair and James M. Hutchison, Esq. appointed Secretary of the meeting.

Mr. F. L. Smith after, in some general remarks, explaining the object of the meeting and advocating the importance of present action on the subject of Internal Improvement, introduced the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting approve of the Internal Improvement Convention to be held in Raleigh on the 4th Monday in this month.

Resolved, That a committee, consisting of five persons, be nominated by the chair for the purpose of appointing delegates to that Convention on behalf of Mecklenburg county.

Whereupon the chair nominated Wm. Davidson, Esq. James M. Hutchison, Esq. Col. John H. Davidson, Col. Evan Alexander and Capt. James Wilson to compose the committee under the 2d resolution.

On motion, the meeting adjourned. STEPHEN FOX, Chairman. JAMES M. HUTCHISON, Secretary.

OBITUARY.

Died, in this town, on the 13th inst. Harriet Eliza, daughter of Mr. Titus M. and Claudia E. Bissell, aged 10 months and 19 days.

After a peculiarly distressing and unrelieved sickness of many days, most trying to a parent's heart to witness, the little sufferer is rescued from all her earthly woes.

One would have thought, to look upon it, that the plant might live and flourish. "Twas watered by affection's parent tears and warmed by the genial rays of a father's and a mother's love. Under this kind influence the leaves put forth and unfolded their beauty to the admiring eye. The tendrils started and closely curled around the parent stock. The bud appeared—a bud of lively promise. Many an eye was turned upon it; and many a heart anticipated how soon 'twould bloom and be a rose that all should love to look upon. But ere those hopes were ripened, the frosts of death have with'd it. Its tendrils are ungrasped; its withered leaves are fallen; its fragments are on the ground. Yes: 'Tis no illusion. Death's work is done. Her brilliant eye is closed. Her tiny fingers cease to twine the mother's hair or play upon her cheek.—On her lips that once spoke eloquently, is pressed the seal of silence. Her wavy mantle is in the grave; and grief has flung her mantle o'er many a weeping heart.

Shall we then repine and mourn our "comforts fled?" No:

"Hope looks beyond the bounds of time, When what we now deplore, Shall rise in full, immortal prime, And bloom to fade no more."

If, as may be hoped, she now holds an angel's harp and sings an angel's song, those who could not, on earth, detain her spirit, may wipe away their tears, and the grasp of living faith on Him who is the "Restoration and the Life," prepare themselves to join her in the blissful enjoyment of her new abode.

Died, in Lancasterville, S. C. on the 12th inst. of pulmonary affection, Mr. Thomas Mason Robbins, in the 26th year of his age.

Mr. Robbins, who has been travelling in the Southern States for several months, was a resident of Great Barrington, Mass. and has for many years been a member of the Congregational Church in that place. His health has long been infirm and has suffered much from repeated attacks of hemorrhage at the lungs. His premature death is doubtless to be attributed to this cause. Indeed, the last development of this disease occurred while he was walking in the street, and the flow of blood was so copious that he was threatened with immediate strangulation. From that event which took place in July last, he has been gradually declining until his death.

Few persons, perhaps none, ever exhibited more composure and resignation under such an affliction. On the occasion of his last attack, the truth of this remark was strikingly exemplified. The blood was gushing from his mouth in frightful profusion. Many friends surrounded him; but he alone could carry a firm hand or manifest the absence of all disconcertion. It was not the principle of manly fortitude merely, that gave him this advantage; it was the grace of Christ and an anchor-like hope of heaven. He felt that if his life should thus flow out, the crimson stream would wash his soul to a better world.

Owing to his great debility and the danger of producing a recurrence of the hemorrhage, he was able to converse but little. That little, however, uniformly expressed an affecting conviction of his own sinfulness, a firm belief in the doctrines of the Gospel, an unwavering confidence in our Lord Jesus Christ, and an unshaken reliance upon his meritorious sufferings for salvation. The Bible was his delight. Often, when it was read to him, would his countenance brighten and glow from the pious fervor that dwelt within. He loved prayer; it was the atmosphere which he breathed. He loved Christians and took pleasure in their spiritual conversation. He loved the Church and prayed for her prosperity and peace. He loved to meditate and speak and hear of death. It was the messenger whom he expected soon to discharge his spirit from its bonds of clay and bear it to a mansion in heaven.

As he loved that which was good, he also abhorred that which was evil. Sin was a burden to his soul and he sighed for deliverance from it. He died as he lived, in peace with God, in peace with the world, in peace with himself. His last moments were not peculiarly marked, except by tranquility. He fell into a profound sleep which seemed to be sweet and refreshing, but he never more awoke; it became the sleep of death. The spirit which he manifested during his sickness and the holy composure and delight which he felt in view of death were well suited to prompt the wish in the hearts of those that saw him, "O that I might die like the death of the righteous and my last end be like his."
