

Sunday Reading.

The American Bible Society.

This Institution has been in successful operation for the last thirty-six years. The Report issued in 1817, shows nearly thirty-eight thousand Bibles received into the Treasury, and 67,410 Bibles disseminated.

The British and Foreign Bible Society received the past year an amount nearly equal to four hundred and sixty thousand dollars, and issued 1,137,617 Bibles and Testaments.

These two mammoth associations extend their operations over most of the known world. All the countries of the Western Continent have been, either partially or fully, supplied with the Sacred Scriptures.

In addition to the books printed the past year by the American Bible Society, grants of money have been made to the amount of fifty thousand dollars, to aid in printing the Word in foreign countries.

The Agent for North Carolina, the Rev. Daniel Dornelle, reports the cause to be in a better condition now than at any former period. The Davie County Bible Society has determined to supply every child in the county with a copy of the Bible.

The Society has found the old Bible-house erected in the city of New York in 1822, too small for the printing, binding, &c., of so many volumes. And we are happy to add that a new site has already been purchased, whereon a magnificent building is shortly to go up.

The Mecklenburg County Bible Society was formed in August, 1830. The amount of donations made to the Parent Society since that time is $342 62; the amount of remittances for the purchase of Bibles and Testaments is $704 62.

After the foregoing statements, an appeal in behalf of this, the noblest of causes, would be superfluous. Who that has contemplated in past years can contemplate the present operations of the Society without rejoicing that he is identified with this great work of sowing the world with the good seed of the Kingdom?

And what man of a soul can have it in his heart to refuse, when applied for substantial aid to such an object.

Let the liberality and the prayers of all patriots, and especially of all Christians, spend on this blessed work until this lamp, whose light was never, shall shed its celestial radiance upon every family on earth!

ISSUING PLACE OF THE DEAD WAITING FOR THE LIVING. Description of the Entrance of a Cemetery near Rotterdam.

"Here rest the Dead, in silence rest, Waiting the Living! 'Tis I come! Gaze on the many-heaving breast Of the lone spot, thy final home!

"Art thou a Child of living breath, Of lofty hope, and kindling eye? Is this the flaring meteor-light That bursts through tangles dark and grey?

"Art thou a King? or a Hero's one As the proud bidding of whose word The greedy worldlings buckle on? Or warrior's soul that glows and glows?

"Art thou a man of loftiest mind, Statesman, Philosopher, or Hero, Whose eye is on the world's wide scene, And whose heart is on the world's wide scene?

Maiden—grave Matron—Widow dress— What'er thou art; cherished or lone, The Dead behold await thee here— The grave will have its own!

"Here rests the Dead! waiting the hour When the last sob of living breath Shall have expired beneath the power Of the grim phantom, dreaded Death!

"Who died and lives for aye, shall come, To give them instant rest, And call them to his home."

THE BIBLE. BY CHARLES SIMMONS. Other books bespeak their own age. The Bible was made for all ages. It makes everything of the Creator—other books, everything of the creature.

The Bible is distinguished for its exact and universal truth. It is true to conscience, true to universal experience, true to facts. Time and criticism only illustrate and confirm its pages.

The Bible is distinguished by the moral purity of its precepts. They are founded on all the relations, and impartially respect all the rights of being. They exactly harmonize with common sense and conscience.

The Bible is distinguished by the moral purity of its precepts. They are founded on all the relations, and impartially respect all the rights of being. They exactly harmonize with common sense and conscience.

It is surprising to notice how this sacred Book is neglected by sinful men. The varieties of taste and fashion will spend their days and nights roving over the world's page, and reading the most interesting of their kind.

Let the liberality and the prayers of all patriots, and especially of all Christians, spend on this blessed work until this lamp, whose light was never, shall shed its celestial radiance upon every family on earth!

"I had rather," says Sir Francis Bacon, "believe in the Toland and the Koran, than that this universe is frame without a mind. God never wrought miracle to convince the atheists, because his ordinary works are sufficient to convince them."

THE WAR UPON BIBLES IS FLORENCE is still active. There are accounts of the imprisonment and indictment of a number of peaceable, well-conducted persons, for having met to read the Bible. Among them was the case of Francesco and Rosa Media, a man and his wife, who at the date of the letter were locked in separate cells, except when brought before the secret tribunal for examination.
