

The North Carolina Whig.

"Be true to God, to your Country, and to your Duty."

VOLUME 6.

CHAFFLOTTE, N. C., DECEMBER 1, 1857.

NUMBER 40.

THOMAS J. HOLTON,
EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

TERMS:
The North Carolina Whig will be furnished to subscribers at TWO DOLLARS in advance, TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if payment be made for three months, and THREE DOLLARS at the end of the year. Newspapers will be sent gratuitously to agents, provided the postage be paid, except at the office of the Editor.

Advertisements inserted at One Dollar per square (10 lines of 12 type) for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuation. Court advertisements and Sales, &c. charged 25 per cent. higher; and a deduction of 25 per cent. will be made from the regular price, for advertisements for the year. Advertisements inserted monthly or quarterly, at 50 cents per square for each insertion. Semimonthly 75 cents per square for each insertion. The number of insertions desired are to be inserted until forbid and charged accordingly. Postmasters are authorized to act as agents.

Crockery, Crockery!
I have received a new supply of White Granite Ware, and common White and Fainted Ware, Blue and Pink Plates and Caps and Saucers, 25 cents set, common Tumblers 5 cents a piece, at China Hall, Charlotte, N. C.

JAMES HARTY & CO.
Oct. 6, 1857. 144

Valuable Town Property FOR SALE.
The subscriber being desirous of improving his other Estate, offers for sale his residence on the corner of Church and Second Streets. The location is high and healthy and one of the most desirable in the town. The buildings are all good and have been finished lately in handsome style, and the Dwelling House is covered with tin and the domestic part of the building is arranged in a style superior to any building in the country, and in the yard is a well of excellent water. The desirable residence is situated within about one mile of the Female College one of the most substantial buildings in the State. As I do not intend to purchase without examining the premises, I will take great pleasure in showing the property to any one desirous of purchasing it. I will make the price correspond with the terms of the times, not expecting to realize more than what will pay for the cost of the sale.

GEO. CROSS.
Charlotte, Sept. 15, 1857. 221

40,000 PAIRS OF Boots, Shoes, and BROGANS AND Over Shoes, EMBRACING every variety of Ladies, Gents, Misses, Boys, Youths and Children's BOOTS and SHOES.

Not can be found in any wholesale or retail establishment in the Southern Country. Our Goods are manufactured EXPRESSLY for us, and are satisfied they will give better satisfaction, and at less prices for the same quality of goods, than at any other establishment in the South. It is only necessary to examine our Stock and Prices to be satisfied that this is the place to Buy Boots and Shoes.

BOONE & CO.
EP-CASH—One month only. 311f

Field Seeds!
CLOVER, Timothy, Blue Grass, Orchard, Lucerne, Millet, &c. A large quantity just received for sale at the lowest market price, at Pritchard's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store, LEWIS'S CORNER, Aug. 25, 1857. 261f

Otto of Rose!
A LARGE Assortment of Lubric's, Glem's and J. H. Hall's Splendid Extracts, Toilet Waters, Scented Soaps, &c. &c. Just to hand at Pritchard's Fancy Drug Store, Lewis's Corner. 314f

Soluble Ess. Camphor!
FOR Diseases of the Throat, Mouth, Stomach and Bowels, prepared and sold at Pritchard's Drug and Chemical Store, LEWIS'S CORNER.

Blake's Aromatic Bitters!
A Scented Tonic and Anti-Dyspeptic Medicine. Sold at each bottle at Pritchard's Dispensary of Choice Family Medicines, Lewis's Corner. 315f

Try It! Try It!
HAMBOLDT'S Concentrated Extract of RUCHU the best medicine in the world for the class of diseases it proposes to treat. Try It. For sale at PRITCHARD'S DRUG STORE, Lewis's Corner.

White Lead.
10,000 LBS. WHITE LEAD just received and for sale at H. M. PRITCHARD'S, Druggist & Chemist.

Hawk's History of N. Carolina.
MR. BORN, the agent for the above book, has left a few copies at P. J. LOWRY'S BOOK STORE. Persons desiring copies will please call soon. May 26, 1857. 131f

KERRISON & LEIDING, IMPORTERS OF FANCY DRY GOODS,
Silks, Linens, Hosiery, Embroideries, &c., NO. 141 MEETING STREET, OFFICITE HAYNE STREET, CHARLESTON, S. C.

E. L. KERRISON. BERMAN LEIDING. Aug. 25, 1857.

CLOTHING AT COST.

A CHANGE is now offered to the community to obtain rare bargains out of our varied Stock of CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS. AT NEW YORK COST.

It is entirely unnecessary to tell you what we have, but would request you to come and see for yourselves. Perhaps it will be asked why we are selling off at cost? We don't do it because it is fashionable, but because we have contracted ourselves with a large Manufacturing House at the North, to take effect the 1st Jan., 1858, and we don't want any of our present stock on hand. So come, one and all, buy our goods at COST, pay the CASH, and help us in our honest design. SPRINGS & HEATH. Sep. 22, 1857. 301f

New and Elegant Furniture.

Attention, Housekeepers!
THE subscriber informs all persons desiring to purchase new and elegant FURNITURE, that he has lately purchased a large supply superior to any thing, that has ever been offered in this market before. He has on hand—Mahogany SOFAS and Tea tables, Mahogany and Walnut BUREAUS, with or without Marble Tops, Wardrobes, Pier and Sofa TABLES, Secretaries and Book Cases, Bookstands, Music Stands, Quilters and Whatnots, Mahogany and Walnut Rocking Chairs, Cane-bottom and back do. Office, Parlor and Nurse's Chairs, Cottage Beds, &c.

and many other articles in his line, all of which he will sell to purchasers at the most reasonable terms. He intends to keep a constant supply of Furniture on hand, so that persons can be suited at any time.

—ALSO—A supply of FISK'S METALLIC BURIAL CASES on hand.

All kinds of Furniture made to order and on the shortest notice.

REPAIRING attended to. J. M. SANDERS. Charlotte, Aug. 4, 1857. 231f

Horses' Horses!!

An Infalible Remedy for HORSES! The receipt of One Dollar, I will mail to any person, a receipt for a remedy for Horses. This remedy has never been known to fail in the worst cases to give immediate relief. Every man who has a horse should always have this receipt by them. The medicine is simple, and can be prepared by any person at all times. If the remedy fails when given as directed, the money will be refunded. Address me at Greensboro', Guilford Co., N. C.

JOHN W. BAKER. Sep. 15, 1857. 201f

Dye-Stuffs, Dye-Stuffs!

THE very best of this class of articles, commonly called Logwood, Indigo, and other articles, are now on hand at Pritchard's Drug Store, Lewis's Corner. For sale at Pritchard's Drug Store, Lewis's Corner.

Port Monnaies, Port Monnaies.

A NEW and beautiful assortment just received at Pritchard's Drug and Chemical Store, LEWIS'S CORNER.

Country Merchants

ARE respectfully invited to call and examine our wholesale prices of choice DRUGS and MEDICINES, put up in any style to order, by Pritchard's, Druggist and Apothecary, LEWIS'S CORNER.

Varnishes, Varnishes!

A LARGE stock on hand consisting of all the best quality of Varnishes, Putty, &c. Which will be sold for CASH lower than any other house in Charlotte. By H. M. PRITCHARD, Wholesale and Retail Druggist, LEWIS'S CORNER.

Condition Powders!

FARMERS and others interested in STOCK, are assured that these preparations are unparelleled as health giving remedies to Horses, Cattle, and all kinds of Stock. For sale at Pritchard's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store, LEWIS'S CORNER.

DESIRABLE INFORMATION TO EVERYBODY.

FOR some time past I have been engaged in a business (known only to myself and some party few others whom I have instructed for $100 each) which has averaged me an income of from $3,000 to $5,000 per annum—and having made arrangements to go to the Eastern Continent next Fall, I am willing to give full instructions in the art to any person in the United States, who will remit me the sum of Two Dollars. I am induced from the success I have been favored with, and the easy happy acknowledgments that I have received from those whom I have instructed in the art, and who are now clearing from $3 to $15 per day, to give every person a chance to come into possession of this valuable means of making a small fortune. There is no business about the business hereinafter alluded to. References of the best class can be given as regards its character, and I can also refer to persons in Chicago and Detroit, as well as in this place, who have within three months embarked in the business, and who will testify that they are making from $3 to $15 per day at the same. It is a business in which either Ladies or Gentlemen can engage, and with perfect ease make a very handsome income. Several Ladies in various parts of Illinois and Missouri, whom I have instructed in the art, are now clearing from $5 to $10 per day. It is a genteel business and requires but a few shillings to commence it. Upon receipt of $1 will send forwarded to the applicant a circular containing full instructions in the art, which will be perfectly understood upon being once read. Address: EDWIN TEMPLETON, No. 37, Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo. Aug. 25, 1857.

Bathing and Surgeon's Sponge.

OF the first quality, at PRITCHARD'S DRUG STORE. White Lead! White Lead! ANOTHER supply imported. Pure Article 94 cents per lb. for Cash, together with every variety of colors, &c., at Pritchard's Drug and Paint Store.

Quinine has Declined!
POWER'S & WIGHTMAN'S PURE QUININE at $2.50 per oz.—Cash invariably—at PRITCHARD'S Chemical House, LEWIS'S CORNER.

Breast Pumps, Nursing Bottles

India Rubber Shields, &c., &c. JUST to hand at PRITCHARD'S Family Drug Store.

Tooth and Ear Syringes.

BECKER'S Farina! THE superiority of this article over Corn Starch Tapioca, Sago, &c., as an article of diet for invalids and children, is unquestioned by the medical faculty. Full supply at PRITCHARD'S Family Drug Store, Sep. 15, 1857.

Paint or Linseed Oil.

300 GALLONS just received and for sale at the lowest market prices, by H. M. PRITCHARD, M. D. Druggist & Chemist, LEWIS'S CORNER.

Prof. De Grath's ELECTRIC OIL.

This Electric Oil—Electric Cure—Pain is the precursor of death, relieve the pain and you check the disease. Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil is the marvel of the age, for the following: (not everything)

- It cures Rheumatism often in a single day.
- Cures Neuralgia, Toothache two minutes.
- Cures Croup in Stomach, five minutes.
- Cures Burns, Wounds, Bruises, one to three days.
- Cures Headache, fifteen minutes.
- Cures Eczema, Stiff Neck, Ague, one night.
- Cures Piles, Swollen Glands, ten days.
- Cures Hemorrhoids, Scrofula, Abscess, six to ten days.
- Cures Fractured Ext and Childrens, one to three days.
- Cures Ague and Fever, one to two days, and all nervous and scrofulous affections.
- Cures deafness in one to four days.
- Cures all Pains in the Back, Breast, &c., in two days.

As an example of the estimation in which it is held by one of the ablest jurists and writers on law, &c., in this country, we give a letter received by Prof. De Grath from John Livingston, Esq., Editor of the well known Monthly Law Magazine, 157 Broadway, New York, a word of such testimony is of more weight among the best classes of the country, than volumes from unknown sources.

Graess Home, Philadelphia, May 7, 1856. Prof. Charles De Grath—I really give it with my opinion that your "Electric Oil" is among the most wonderful remedies of modern times. At the earnest request of a lady who alleged she had been relieved of a most painful affection by its use. I was induced to try a bottle, though at the time of purchasing, I fully believed it to be a quack medicine and a costly penny lumping. But a trial convinced me that it does possess a magic power, and its use will prove a blessing to suffering humanity.

I recently took a cold from sleeping in damp weather, and my neck became so much swollen and painful, that I could not turn my head. After using, without success, everything prescribed by my physician, I next evening tried your Electric Oil. This morning I am well, the relief being so complete as to be instantaneous. Yours very truly, JOHN LIVINGSTON.

Editor Monthly Law Magazine, 157 Broadway & 120 West Fourteenth St., N. Y. Mr. Livingston belongs to the old wealthy and highly respectable families of the first settlers of New York. Any one can address him on the subject of the above letter, which will be answered with pleasure.

Cautions—There are numerous imitations sprang up on the reputation that my article has acquired. The public must beware. They are worthless.

DE H. M. PRITCHARD, sole agent for Charlotte, and sold by Druggists and Country Merchants generally. Nov. 3, 1857.

Steelman's Salem Magazine.

IT is the title of a Literary Periodical, to be published Monthly, in the town of Salem, North Carolina, by ANTHONY J. STEELMAN, a member of the North Carolina bar, and is addressed to the public by his Magazine, I claim for the Editorial Chair no superiority over that department of other like Periodicals; but I do claim for the talent of North Carolina, and the South generally, that is, for the talent which supports Southern patronage. And I also, as a Southern man, and the Editor of a Southern Magazine, claim to be the friend of the Southern cause and especially of North Carolina, that and support her in her noble struggle for the maintenance of her rights as a free, independent, and exclusive Home Literature Magazine.

Many are the Magazines now published in the Northern States that are flooding the whole Southern country. There is not, (that is probably) a country in any Southern State that is not visited by "Harper," "Graham," "Peterson," or "Wiley," while here, in North Carolina and the South, were genuine unexpurgated and unequalled reigns the literary talent that is brought into exercise is devoted to the support of Northern Magazines. My price of subscription is such a suicidal policy of Southern contributors.

Why I ask, cannot we—North Carolina, the South—send greetings to our Southern friends when the pages of the most classic, elegant and polite Periodicals? It is true that the South has Magazines; but few in number are they, and unknown, compared to the publications of the North, which every mail brings to our doors, filled with the result of hired labor, and teeming with unparelled sedition.

Then I appeal to North Carolina and other Southern States to aid me in my enterprise, and in presenting a literary taste amongst those upon whom as a Southern man, I have claims.

My Magazine will be of the usual size, and nothing will be admitted to its pages but such articles as will merit the approval of the most fastidious. It shall be illustrated with Engravings and Plates, of the most elegant texture, equaling in beauty and style any circulation is THREE DOLLARS per year, which is required to be paid in advance, as the expense to be incurred in establishing such a publication will not admit of a trial system.

The first number will be issued 1st January 1858. A. J. STEELMAN, Editor and Prop. September 1, 1857.

N. B.—My Address until the first of November, will be Pittsborough, N. C. after that time it will be Salem, N. C.

Poetry.

LET HER RIP!
One sunny afternoon last week, I thought I'd take a ribe, And hired a nag which he called fat, 'I'm sure she was when "tied." My friend Bill Springs drove the mare, And I laid on the reins— "Bilby, put that animal into projecting power through—go long— " Let her rip!

We stopped at Bene's on the road, Of course we had to "smile," And gave the expedition a go. We "legged," the calling for the mare. I tossed the man a nip, I jumped into the wagon and seized the reins; requested the Eschschon individual that held the double distilled essence of lightning in his bonnet, to— " Let her rip!

A chap who drove a large bay nag, Shook his head, and said " "brake," So whipping up our own fat crab, We went it with a rush. "Twas neck and neck a mile or more, And when his horse made a trip, We glided by the lightning grassed. For having hired the extraordinary animal we considered we had a perfect right to get the worth of our money, and therefore— " Let her rip!

We drove along without mishap, At least a dozen miles; Stopped now and then of course, "To take several "snaffles;" At last we ran into a chip. Who gave us no more lip.

The horse, broke—wagons also—gallies Bill and myself into the ditch on the side of the road; Bill, say I, the mare has run away! Bill struggling under the combined effects of "nag," and a mouthful of mud, replied— " Let her rip!

Miscellaneous.

GROWING GOOD.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

There was an ardor about the young lover that showed how deeply his heart was interested, and his betrothed might also be said to live only in his presence. He flew to her side, like steel to the magnet, when evening set him free from business; and she awaited his certain coming with a trembling joy that pervaded her whole being. The days were long that kept them apart; but lightning-footed the hours of evening. How eagerly they looked forward to that blessed time, when they would hear the words spoken that were to make them one, and the time came at last, though with slow-pacing steps. Hand in hand, and heart beating to heart, they entered a new path of life, expiring with flowers, and now onward with sparkling feet, that took their measure to love's delicious music. Swiftly passed the first season of their new existence.

It was the warm, fragrant blossoming spring-time, and the sunshine filled the air with vernal warmth.

"Shall we ever grow cold to each other?" said the young man, leaning towards his bride, and speaking in a tone of peculiar tenderness.

This was occasioned by the presence, in a small company, of a married couple, not two years wedded, who were known to have lost much of love's young ardor. Their indifference was so apparent, as to have become a subject of remark with their friends and acquaintances.

"Never, Leonard, never," was almost tremulously whispered back. "That is impossible: Those who truly love, love on forever."

"And with us it is true," said the husband. "True, warm, eternal love."

And each believed it was so. Let us follow them a little way on their life journey. Leonard Williams was a young, ambitious merchant, who was trying, unavailingly, to do a large business on a small capital; and Leonard Williams and his wife were a young couple who thought rather more of making an appearance in the social world than of consistent with their means and prospects. He had too large a store and too many goods in it; and they lived in too large a house, with too much furniture in it.

A tranquil spirit is not possible under such circumstances. Overworking mental labor and absorbing care soon attend them. It has ever been so—it was with Leonard Williams. Even before the waning of the first year, his brow began to wear a shadow, and his eyes to have an absent expression. There was a fainting warmth in his manner towards his bride that chilled her heart at times, as if cold airs had blown upon it suddenly. She was too young, inexperienced, and too ignorant of the world to comprehend the causes that were at work, undermining, daily, the foundation of their happiness.

She only felt that her husband was changing, the warmth was diminishing, and the cloud and the shadow coming in the place of sunshine.

Daily and weekly and monthly the change went on—he getting more and more absorbed in business, and she finding a certain poor compensation for heart-weariness in rarely brightened by love's warm sunshine breaking through the leaden clouds of care and folly—what a sad heart history is here!

And it is not the history of thousands of over-earnest business men, and their thoughtless, unsympathizing wives, who seek relief of hearts and homes what they can never find—that tranquillity of soul after which all aspire, but to which so few attain! Alas, that is so!

Ah, then we could write, from henceforth a better record of Leonard Williams and his wife! That we could tell you, how growing at last weary of their vain existence, they turned back, abashed for the pure waters whose sweetness had once refreshed them. Finding again the fountain of eternal youth! But it was not so. Habits of thought and feeling were hardened into that second nature which is rarely broken up. Ah, occasionally the restless heart returned along its life journey, seeking for some of the lost flowers and vanished fragrance; their sweetness was procured only as the dim delight

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.

The treaty recently concluded between the United States and Nicaragua, if its terms are correctly stated, amounts to a qualified protectorate by the United States of the Nicaragua Transit. The treaty provides that the United States may protect the Transit against any interruption from any quarter, foreign or domestic, in case Nicaragua should lack the ability or disposition to afford such protection. Under all circumstances, therefore, this important inter-oceanic communication is to be made secure and open to the commerce and travel of the citizens of the United States.

This important step is in conformity with the declaration of the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati in reference to the communications between the Atlantic and Pacific, viz: that the United States has a preponderating interest in regard to them, and that they should be protected against interruption by any power whatsoever.

Again, this treaty is a decided step towards the establishment of an American policy in regard to this continent. It is almost the first advance towards an application of the Monroe doctrine.

It is not to be understood that the treaty will involve us in the present or future wars between the belligerent little States of Central America, or any of their factions; but that while we stand aloof from such complications, we are to protect and defend the Transit route, and those who may be recognized as the legal agents for conducting the mails, passengers, &c., therein.

It is presumed that Costa Rica will assent to this treaty, though it is inconsistent with her control of the Transit. It accedes to her right of free navigation of the San Juan river, which is indispensable to her commerce, and, in common with the rest of the world, she will enjoy the privilege of the Transit without interruption. It removes every cause or pretext that she might have for the assumption of a hostile attitude, such as she has lately held towards Nicaragua. It affords to her and her neighbors a better opportunity than they have heretofore had, since their independence, for the enjoyment of internal tranquility and the prosecution of industrial pursuits.

It is presumed that, inasmuch as the British Minister has given his assent to the arrangement, we shall hear no more of British intrigues in Costa Rica, or any attempt, through that State to exercise a controlling influence in Central American affairs.

The Mosquito Protectorate is considered to be practically abandoned by Great Britain, and it is supposed that all other points in dispute between the United States and Great Britain, in regard to Central America, are to be settled through arrangements about to be made by Sir William Gore Ouseley.

The President will, no doubt, have the satisfaction of announcing to Congress, in his first message, that a solution is about to be found of all the questions relative to Central America, which have been in doubt or dispute for the last seven years.

The President will recommend in his message, some legislative action with a view to the suppression of the Mermon rebellion. The Territorial act may be, and ought to be, abrogated, and the Territory partitioned among the contiguous States and Territories. Perhaps more Territories may be formed out of Utah, under such institutions as will control Mormonism.—The Territorial laws of Utah, a copy of which Brigham Young presented to Colonel Alexander, must not be allowed to have a legal existence.

Efficient military arrangements must be authorized for the subjugation of the rebels, or their expulsion from the Territory. For the present, nothing can be done, and the army under Col. Johnson is to go into winter quarters on a branch of the Green River.—(Washington States.

CURIOS PHYSICAL PHENOMENON.—A Young Man Struck Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

Ansel Brown, a young man residing in Westley, R. I., was the subject of a curious physical phenomenon a short time since. On the 29th of October, having some business to transact in another village, a short distance from Westley, he was proceeding to transact, and before he entered the place, while walking along by the road side he suddenly felt as though a dark cloud was passing athwart his face, and the next instant he was stricken entirely blind. In a moment more he lost the use of his speech, so that by all his endeavors he was absolutely unable to utter a single sound.

To crown all, his calamities were increased by the loss of his sense of hearing, which instantly left him and then he was without the power to see his way, to call for assistance, or to evade danger by getting out of the way, not knowing what was next to happen. He stood like a stone, till luckily one of his companions, passing that way, saw Brown, and went to speak with him, but he received no answer. He shook him, or turned him round; but he neither spoke or opened his eyes, but pointed to his tongue, and anon to his eyes and ears. He was conveyed to his home, where Plafols were fired near by without making the least impression. He was the next morning of mystery. When he sat it was with a spoon. When he walked he was led like a blind man.

He kept long in the same situation seven days. At the end of this time, Sunday morning, Nov. 15, as he was going to church, the cloud was dissipated and he again saw as formerly. He went to church, carrying with him a small slate on which to write questions and answers. When the music was begun, the sense of hearing returned though speech came not. During the morning service he wrote some on the slate, and when the preacher got through Brown returned to his home, rejoiced at the sudden return of his senses, and apparently in as good health as he was when he first experienced the calamity. We have the above facts from the physician who attended him.—(Providence (R. I.) Tribune.

A KEEN REFRIG.—A widow said one day to her daughter: "When you are of my age you will be dreaming of a husband." Yes, mamma," replied the thoughtless little lass, "for the second time."

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.

The treaty recently concluded between the United States and Nicaragua, if its terms are correctly stated, amounts to a qualified protectorate by the United States of the Nicaragua Transit. The treaty provides that the United States may protect the Transit against any interruption from any quarter, foreign or domestic, in case Nicaragua should lack the ability or disposition to afford such protection. Under all circumstances, therefore, this important inter-oceanic communication is to be made secure and open to the commerce and travel of the citizens of the United States.

This important step is in conformity with the declaration of the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati in reference to the communications between the Atlantic and Pacific, viz: that the United States has a preponderating interest in regard to them, and that they should be protected against interruption by any power whatsoever.

Again, this treaty is a decided step towards the establishment of an American policy in regard to this continent. It is almost the first advance towards an application of the Monroe doctrine.

It is not to be understood that the treaty will involve us in the present or future wars between the belligerent little States of Central America, or any of their factions; but that while we stand aloof from such complications, we are to protect and defend the Transit route, and those who may be recognized as the legal agents for conducting the mails, passengers, &c., therein.

It is presumed that Costa Rica will assent to this treaty, though it is inconsistent with her control of the Transit. It accedes to her right of free navigation of the San Juan river, which is indispensable to her commerce, and, in common with the rest of the world, she will enjoy the privilege of the Transit without interruption. It removes every cause or pretext that she might have for the assumption of a hostile attitude, such as she has lately held towards Nicaragua. It affords to her and her neighbors a better opportunity than they have heretofore had, since their independence, for the enjoyment of internal tranquility and the prosecution of industrial pursuits.

It is presumed that, inasmuch as the British Minister has given his assent to the arrangement, we shall hear no more of British intrigues in Costa Rica, or any attempt, through that State to exercise a controlling influence in Central American affairs.

The Mosquito Protectorate is considered to be practically abandoned by Great Britain, and it is supposed that all other points in dispute between the United States and Great Britain, in regard to Central America, are to be settled through arrangements about to be made by Sir William Gore Ouseley.

The President will, no doubt, have the satisfaction of announcing to Congress, in his first message, that a solution is about to be found of all the questions relative to Central America, which have been in doubt or dispute for the last seven years.

The President will recommend in his message, some legislative action with a view to the suppression of the Mermon rebellion. The Territorial act may be, and ought to be, abrogated, and the Territory partitioned among the contiguous States and Territories. Perhaps more Territories may be formed out of Utah, under such institutions as will control Mormonism.—The Territorial laws of Utah, a copy of which Brigham Young presented to Colonel Alexander, must not be allowed to have a legal existence.

Efficient military arrangements must be authorized for the subjugation of the rebels, or their expulsion from the Territory. For the present, nothing can be done, and the army under Col. Johnson is to go into winter quarters on a branch of the Green River.—(Washington States.

CURIOS PHYSICAL PHENOMENON.—A Young Man Struck Deaf, Dumb and Blind.

Ansel Brown, a young man residing in Westley, R. I., was the subject of a curious physical phenomenon a short time since. On the 29th of October, having some business to transact in another village, a short distance from Westley, he was proceeding to transact, and before he entered the place, while walking along by the road side he suddenly felt as though a dark cloud was passing athwart his face, and the next instant he was stricken entirely blind. In a moment more he lost the use of his speech, so that by all his endeavors he was absolutely unable to utter a single sound.

To crown all, his calamities were increased by the loss of his sense of hearing, which instantly left him and then he was without the power to see his way, to call for assistance, or to evade danger by getting out of the way, not knowing what was next to happen. He stood like a stone, till luckily one of his companions, passing that way, saw Brown, and went to speak with him, but he received no answer. He shook him, or turned him round; but he neither spoke or opened his eyes, but pointed to his tongue, and anon to his eyes and ears. He was conveyed to his home, where Plafols were fired near by without making the least impression. He was the next morning of mystery. When he sat it was with a spoon. When he walked he was led like a blind man.

He kept long in the same situation seven days. At the end of this time, Sunday morning, Nov. 15, as he was going to church, the cloud was dissipated and he again saw as formerly. He went to church, carrying with him a small slate on which to write questions and answers. When the music was begun, the sense of hearing returned though speech came not. During the morning service he wrote some on the slate, and when the preacher got through Brown returned to his home, rejoiced at the sudden return of his senses, and apparently in as good health as he was when he first experienced the calamity. We have the above facts from the physician who attended him.—(Providence (R. I.) Tribune.

A KEEN REFRIG.—A widow said one day to her daughter: "When you are of my age you will be dreaming of a husband." Yes, mamma," replied the thoughtless little lass, "for the second time."

Why is a chicken pie like a gossamer's store? Because it contains fowl in pieces.