THE SLAVE TRADE OF MISSISSIPPL We copy the following from the Advent published at Charlottsville, Virginia:

The Aprican Stave Teade to the South—We have seen, once or trains recently, newspaper paragraphs to the effect that the African slave trade was successfully carried on with some parts of the Guif States. As these reports were sub-squently denied, and because we could not think that such a project could be successful in this the unseteenth century, and in evident violation of the laws of the United States and the sentiment of civilization, we conthe rain commerced folling Sanday night, and prevailed, with trief intermissions, until yesterday morning. The amount of was ter that fell was execesive, in that direction as well as Northward beyond Bloomington, Illitois. The effect is seen in the swoicen streams, which are generally over their banks, and gradually extending over the bottoms for a mile and more towards the bottoms for a mile and more towards the big lands. The Sangamou and Kaskia Riwers and the lesser streams are pouring slows large floods. The big and inthe Wahash are too full for their usual bounds, and have taken a wister range over the rich lowlands through which they run.
