A Song for New-Year's Eve. RT WILLIAM CULLEN BATANT

Stay yet, my french, a moment sty-Stay til the good old year. So lon, companies of our way, Shakes bunds and leaves us here. On stay, oh stay, One little hour, and then away.

The year, whose liopus were high and
Hos now no hopes to wake;
Yet one hour more of jest and song
For his funding eske.
One stay, on tay,
One mirthful bour, and then away

The kindly see , his liberal hands. Here latered all his store.
And shall we turn from where he stands, Because he gives no more!
Oh stay, oh siny,
Our grateful hour, and then away, we

Days brightly came and calmly work, White yet he was our goest; How cheerfully the week was spent! How seen the serecth day's rest! On stay of stay, Our good hour more, and then eway.

Dear triends were with us, some who sleep Boxes to the coffin let:

What pleasant memorace we keep Of all they said said did? Oh stay, she stay, One tender hour, and then away. Am leaves our splace behind The good old year is with the just
On the new as kind!
On stay, of stay,
Our paring strain, and then away.
