FOR CONVENTION.

E. S. PARKER.

READ AND SUBSCRIBE!

We propose to send the GLEANER as a campaign paper to subscribers till the first day of September, 1875, for the small sum of TWENTY-FIVE CENTS. We intend it to be a live campaign paper, and we extend the time to the 1st of September in order that we may give the returns of the election from the various counties to all our campaign subscribers. All sums under two dollars may be sent by mail at our risk, all over, at our expense in registered letters. Everybody wants to keep up during the campaign in any way. No one, certainly, can grumble at the price. Send us in clubs friends. It is of consequence that the issues be thoroughly discussed. Your campaign subscription will commence, just as soon as we get your name and the money, and will end the first of September. Don't delay. We all have an imperative duty to perform. We intend faithfully trying to do ours in this campaign, and want you to help us. We ought to get a thousand campaign subscribers, and can, if our friends will interest themselves for us. We are waiting to hear from you. Go about it to-day.

An election will be held, and the polls opened at the various polling places in Alamance county, on Thursday, the 5th day of August next, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the Constitutional Convention to assemble in Raleigh next September.

J. T. HUNTER, Sheriff.
E. S. Parker, the Democratic candidate for Convention, will address his fellow-citizens at the above mentioned times and places; and will divide time with any one wishing to engage in joint discussion of the issues before the people.

From the above notice will be seen that the canvass commences in earnest this day week. All that is necessary is to get the people out to hear the discussion. The radicals are flooding the land with false statements, and the most reckless assertions, and that the people may be deceived by them, they are trying in all sorts of ways to keep everybody at home. Their declarations won't bear the light. Their only hope is that, if the people can be kept away from anything else, and where they will hear nothing else, it may be some one will believe them. Let every man go to work and see to it that all go out to hear the discussion. Especially should the canvassers of the various townships see to this. Just a little attention now, and all will be well. We have no argument to meet, nothing but to point out the utter falacy of all the radicals say against convention, and to show a great good to come to the people from a convention of their own people—democrats.

We understand that Mrs. W. G. Turrentine gave a musical concert last Thursday night, at Company Shops, upon the occasion of the close of her school, which was largely attended and pleasing to all. Mrs. Turrentine stands deservedly high as an instructress in music, and her proficiency was evidenced by the performance last Thursday night.

Our farmer neighbor, Clem C. Curtis, has just brought into market, the finest cabbages we have seen, in fact about the finest we ever saw at any season. Clem makes the best, earliest and largest of almost everything. He gave us a head, which will last us several days. We shall commence boiling off of it to-day.

Speaking of cotton blooms and the first cotton bloom, we proposed to say nothing on the subject, but would offer to show tobacco worms with anybody, until our friend J. N. H. Clendenia called in last week, and informed us that he could, some days before, have brought us a bouquet of cotton worms had he supposed such would have been regarded as early.

The article on our outside entitled "Expenses of holding a convention," was taken from one of our exchanges and due credit neglected. We do not know to which of our brethren we are indebted, but think it is due to that sterling paper the Raleigh News.

Webster has retired from the Raleigh News. Reid and Bethel succeed to the sole proprietorship.

We had watermelons in town last Saturday, of the growth of our county.

A BRUTAL MURDER.—Last week we published some account of circumstances in Wake county, which led to the suspicion of a fiendish murder of wife and child by the husband and father, last February. These suspicions led to a thorough search which resulted in finding the remains of the mother and child. This man Partin, as will be recollected from our former account, took his wife and child one evening last February from his father's house, where they were living, saying that he was going to take them to a neighbor's on a visit. That night late, he returned to his father's, and got his trunk, saying that with his family he was going to Goldsboro or near there. He was seen several days after that skulking in the neighborhood. The wife and child were not seen afterwards. The father of the wife became uneasy, and wrote to Goldsboro to ascertain something of his daughter, when he learned that no such person had been there or in the neighborhood. About this time Partin was again seen in the neighborhood, which aroused into a blaze the suspicion that had been taking hold of the minds of the people. A meeting was had and a thorough search resolved upon. The neighbors formed themselves in regular line, four steps apart, and commenced scouring the surrounding country, looking into every nook and corner. A part of this line came upon a dead cow in the swamp, and in looking about, discovered something which attracted attention to the appearance of the mud and water near by. One of the party who had an iron rake thrust it into the mud and water when a substance was found. This was hauled out, and proved to be a sack which had held guano, and which then contained the remains of the missing wife and child. In point of devilish cruelty and brutality no crime could exceed it.

The wife had been cut into some twenty-eight pieces. Her face particularly had been horribly mutilated which was intended by the fiend to prevent identification in case of discovery. The child, an infant about eight months old was also cut into several pieces. The appearance indicated that it had been done with a pocket knife, as the bones were uninjured. The excitement and indignation in the vicinity knows no bounds. The remains were identified by means of some parts of the clothing. Partin is at large. No cause for so loud a deed, save the past unkindness of husband and father. The matter was last week before the grand jury of Wake, and it was thought that others than the husband, would be implicated. We conclude from the Raleigh News.

The following history of Geo. Applewhite, the Robeson county outlaw recently captured in Goldsboro, is given by the Messenger:

Geo. Applewhite was born in Wilson county, and was the slave of Council Applewhite, lives in Goldsboro. His mother now lives near Stauntonburg. George was afterwards given in marriage to Mr. Wm. R. Peacock of Wayne, and apprenticed to learn the plastering trade. He is a dark mulatto, stoutly built, about 34 years old. In 1866 he accompanied Mr. Peacock to Robeson where he worked in turpentine. It was there that he married a sister of Henderson Oxendine, one of the Lowery gang who was afterwards hung at Lumberton. Applewhite's wife now lives in Robeson county.—Being thrown by marriage in association with the outlaws, then warring on the citizens of Robeson county, he soon became one of the gang and is said to have been a most desperate character. In 1869 he was arrested on the charge of being an accomplice in killing Sheriff Reuben King, and for which he was tried, convicted and sentenced to hang in Columbus county. An appeal was granted and Geo. Applewhite together with Steve Lowery, (brother of Henry Berry Lowery) were placed in jail at Wilmington for safe-keeping. While awaiting the action of the Supreme Court Applewhite and Lowery managed to escape from jail, and rejoined the Lowery gang. What part Applewhite took in the many outrages is not known, but all accounts say that he was generally feared by the people.

MASONIC JOURNAL.—Messrs. E. A. Wilson, of the Kingston Gazette, and George S. Baker, of the Louisburg Courier, purpose starting here about the 15th of September, a weekly Masonic Journal. They are gentlemen of talent and experience, and assure us that the Journal will be one of which the fraternity may be proud, and that no pains or expense will be spared to make it up to the mark in every respect. We extend them a cordial welcome and wish them unbounded success. Elsewhere we publish prospectus.—Patriot.

R. F. Lehman has tendered his declination as radical candidate for convention in Craven county. He holds that a delegate will be an officer—one holding a position of high trust—as the holding of more than one office is contrary to the constitution he feels constrained to decline the nomination.—Sentinel.

OUR LIVING AND OUR DEAD.—This valuable magazine, comes to us for July in a new dress. It is now one of the handsomest, as well as one of the best magazines in the whole country North or South. Its moral tone is high and unexceptionable, its contents varied interesting and able. The whole State should feel proud of it. This number commences the 3rd volume, and with it the magazine is enlarged sixteen pages, with no increase in price. It is cheap—only three dollars a year, and that such an enterprise, devoted to such purposes, should not be liberally sustained, is a reflection upon the State and its people. We trust its prosperity may equal its merits, and that its circulation may extend, as it should, to every household where true literary value is appreciated.

Address Col. S. D. Pool, enclosing three dollars, at Raleigh, and you will have served yourself as well as added in a commendable enterprise.

THE APPLEWHITE REWARD.—We are indebted to the Raleigh Sentinel of Tuesday for the following:

This morning Capps and Lane, the two men who captured Applewhite in Goldsboro some days ago, appeared at the Executive office, proved their claim and were awarded the $5,000 offered by Gov. Caldwell by proclamation February 16, 1872, for the capture of George Applewhite, one of the Lowery gang. The claim was audited and the money paid by the Treasury—each receiving $2,500. These fortunate men are both negroes—Capps a jailor, the other (Lane) a policeman. They are middle-aged men with families. The reward was out of all proportion to the services rendered the State, but the General Assembly of 1872 in its wisdom saw proper to offer it and the Governor and Treasurer had nothing to do but to pay. Lane and Capps are now two of the happiest men in the State. They leave town to-morrow.

Desperate indeed must be the straits of the powers that be at Washington. Not having anything else to make political capital out of several clerks have been set to work overhauling the Confederate war records for the purpose of preparing a history of the ex-Confederates elected to Congress, the matter thus collected to be used as a campaign document. The significance of this action is all the greater, and speaks more loudly of their distress, when it is remembered that years ago these very same records were gone over for the same object, and everything in them that could be tortured for the benefit of the dominant party was circulated broadly over the country.—Richmond Enquirer.

The Supreme court has decided that the new charter of Wilmington is invalid, and that officers elected under its provisions are not entitled to their offices. Thus the principal city in the State is to be kept under the rule and control of negroes. It seems hard that negroes should control and govern the whites, but it is so, and some white men advocate it. The truth is the negroes are governing this country, and will as long as the republican party is in the ascendancy. It is so. Without negro votes there would in the south be no radical officers.

Pray how do the radicals make out the cost of a Convention at five hundred thousand dollars when their own with all its extravagance cost only $101,000? To be sure their two succeeding Legislatures cost nearly a million of dollars. But let any one run over the Auditor's reports of those palmy days of Radical rule, and then decide if it is possible for such extravagancies to be renewed, except by the same party?—News.

Raleigh Constitution: His Excellency, Gov. Brogden, has made the following appointments of aids-de-camp on his staff with the rank of colonel, viz: Col. Geo. W. Stanton, of Wilson; Col. Isaac J. Young, of Granville; Col. A. D. Jenkins, of Gaston; Col. Wm. S. Pearson, of Buncombe.

Reports of the proceedings of the Board of County commissioners, at its meeting the first Monday in this month, shall appear in our next. Crowded out this time.

On yesterday morning a week ago Mr. William Lutterloh fell from the second floor in Buttner's hotel in Salem and was killed. He was in bad health with mind impaired by disease, and was under medical treatment. He was found at four o'clock, in morning, on the pavement dead and cold. Mr. Lutterloh was the son of Charles Lutterloh of Chatham and was about fifty years old.
