

THE GLEANER.

GRAHAM, N. C., NOV. 30, 1875.

Local, State and General.

W. T. JOHNSON, EDITOR.

Mr. John C. Robertson, of Company Shops, is our authorized agent to receive subscriptions, and receipt for the same.

Cotton in Raleigh, 12 1/2 to 12 1/4.

Conference of M. E. Church at Wilmington this week.

Judge Read, of the Supreme Court, is dangerously ill, at his home in Little Washington.

William B. Astor, a millionaire of New York, is dead. Just how many millions his estate is worth is unknown.

Only seventeen fights counted in Fayetteville on Thursday, the big day of the fair.

Alexander Thomas, a prominent citizen of Chatham county, died, at his residence, on Wednesday the 24th inst.

The name of Montford McGehee, of Person county, is spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination Governor.

Gen. Robert A. Fryer will deliver the annual address before the Washington Lee University Societies of Virginia, on the 28th of June, 1876.

Married in the Presbyterian church November 25th, by Rev. A. Currie, F. P. Pugh to Miss Kate Klapp; all of Graham, N. C.

The Sunny South, published at Atlanta, Ga., is one of the best literary papers in the country. See advertisement in another column, and send for it.

Col. Ike Young, Internal Revenue Collector, has been lectured by the department for appointing his kinspeople to subordinate positions under him.

An old edition of Morse's geography says: "Albany has four hundred dwelling houses and twenty-four hundred inhabitants, all standing with their gable ends to the street."

The good people of Company Shops have presented Rev. R. S. Webb with a fine Singer sewing machine. They should see that he has new cloth for it would not be proper for a preacher to sew to as you know.

W. R. Albright, at the Bacon old stand, has been receiving lots of new and pretty goods lately. He can bring you out with a new suit, a stylish and cheap, as can be bought anywhere. His stock of dry goods, groceries, hardware, &c., is about as complete as you find in any place, much less a town so large than ours.

Our young friend, Dolph Hancock, of Company Shops, has been turning a honest penny by leading in small game, such as rabbits and birds. He made a venture on "possums," and notwithstanding he left the tails on, his commission merchant sold them for long tailed rabbits at ten cents a piece. Dolph would appreciate on possums now.

Christmas is coming, and merchants will have demands for candy. The little folks must have it you know. If you want the best, purest and cheapest send to Rowser & Brother at Raleigh, and get their own manufacture, and have the satisfaction of knowing that you are selling an honest article. Send to Rowser and Bro. for price list. Address Raleigh, N. C.

A number of our old and young men, we mean married and single, from town and country engaged last Saturday in an old fashioned rabbit hunt. They had about twenty five dogs of all kinds and degrees. There were about a dozen of the hunters, and they bagged sixty of the Molly cotton tails, and had more fun than they will be able to tell about by Christmas. Towards the last the rabbits would just come out of their hiding places and report for duty - so they say.

We have received No. 1. of the fourth volume of the Young Folks' Gem, published by John A. Clark, Wadsworth, Medico Co., O. It is an attractive and valuable journal, especially adapted to the wants of our juvenile community. No family where there are boys and girls should be without it. The price of subscription is only 30 cents a year, including postage and a nice picture. Agents are also well paid for raising clubs. A free sample copy will be sent to those desiring to see it with a view raising clubs. Address as above.

Our town is improving. No one can doubt it. Uncle Bob Hanner stands on the streets in the rain, when it does rain and watches some negroes shovel dirt. A two horse plow is running in the streets and now-and-then throws out a water furrow running diagonally across the street. We could not wish those engaged in this work a worse fate than to be tried by a jury of wags.

We had a wedding last week and didn't have to send off after help either. Both the parties were of this town, and Rev. A. Currie, also of this place was the executor of the single blessedness of the mated pair. They submitted like lambs, without the least show of resistance.

FIGHT FOR A FEE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. The report of the new commission on the Cherokee lands in North Carolina has just been completed and submitted to the Secretary of the Interior. It will be remembered that after the war some lawyers, after an investigation of the circumstances of the removal of the Indians years before, discovered an informality and recovered the lands to the Indians. The lawyers put in a bill for $42,000 for services. The department refused to pay that amount. The parties agreed to take twenty per cent. on the value of their lands. The appraisement of twenty-six thousand dollars reported by the first commission not being accepted, the late one fixes the appraisement at fifty-five thousand dollars. This the lawyers say they will not accept either, but that the appraisement must be $200,000. It is learned that Secretary Chandler, after an investigation, sustains the report of the second commission. The lawyers will be allowed the alternative of accepting their commission on the amount reported or go without. The commissioners have submitted a detailed account of the removal of the Indians, the flight of fifteen hundred of them to the mountains of North Carolina, their part in the Confederate army, the recovery of their lands, and the resources and value of their lands.

At the special session of the United States Senate, last April Thomas W. Ferry, of Michigan, was chosen temporary President of that body. If he is again so chosen, upon the assembling of Congress next Monday, and if Grant dies or is impeached or runs away Ferry will be President; and then if Ferry would die or run away the Speaker of the House would become President, and as he will undoubtedly be a democrat don't you see a chance for a democratic President, and the perils that Gov. Dix of N. Y. speaks about but fails to define? Radicals get excited at more remote dangers, and we expect to see a very dangerous revolution raised. Only two lives will stand in the way of a democratic President, and according to radical accounts, thousands have been sacrificed for a smaller stake by the bloody kn-klux. Say, Mr. Radical, don't you think it safe for you to leave? And as to the carpet-baggers in the South, their condition is fearfully apprehensive. Better look out, only two lives between you and cannibalistic destruction.

The young people in Raleigh are hopping. That is they are giving hops and going to hops, and are having a happy time generally. Where did the name originate, any how? They used to be called balls, spruce frolics, fandangos, shoarounds, shudiggs, &c., just as the taste of the locality dictated. And when held in pleasantry whether on the romantic banks of some stream, or other suitable out door place, they were called bran dances. Davy Crockett gave a graphic description of one of these latter and said upon the scene, the next day might be gathered a peck of toenails. But those were vigorous days, before the floating and sliding style was introduced. A fellow could hgg his gal then and enjoy it quietly, without the necessity of prancing around the white.

They had a big time in Raleigh on Thanksgiving day. They had a rousing supper where much eating was done, many toasts proposed, and many happy responses made. The Good Templars had a social which is described as entirely a pleasant affair. During the day there were services in the various churches and quite a liberal response to the request for contributions for the poor orphans at the Asylums at Oxford and Mars Hill. Business was generally suspended, and the day was given to enjoyment. The Raleigh papers contain attractive accounts of a great deal that was said done and acted. Not even the life of a single turkey was sacrificed to the festivities of the occasion, nor a single extra prayer or exhortation uttered hereabouts that we have heard of.

Prof. Kerr in Baltimore. Prof. C. Kerr, our learned and indefatigable state geologist, was invited by the President of the American Health Association, recently in session in Baltimore, to deliver an address before its members on North Carolina topography and geology. Knowing that the wonders he would have to tell would seem incredible to men entertaining the average orthodox ideas of our grand old commonwealth, he out-fitted himself before starting with a full equipment of official maps charts and statistics, and it was well he did. His description of North Carolina scenery, and his statements in regard to her resources, seemed to his distinguished auditors like fairy tales or matches from the Arabian Nights. They had never in their wildest dreams imagined anything of the glories he portrayed, the marvelous lavishing of nature's richest gifts upon our almost unknown and wholly unappreciated realm. His maps and figures were restful, and the result was that the President of the body, and many of the eminent pundits, declared their intention to come at an early day, and see for themselves our land of the blue.

A fierce bull dog, in Wilmington, goes out on the streets, and catches little dogs and crushes the life out of them. We would like to employ that dog in our town awhile. We could keep him busy for a period long enough to justify his making the trip. There are some hundreds of little dogs, of various breeds from the real fice to a mongrel of all conceivable strains of blood in our vines, that need the life crushed out of them. They are suffering for just such attentions as that bull-dog paid the little spaniel in Wilmington. We are now negotiating for a genuine wildcat, but if we fail to get him, let us have the bull dog. We will return him as soon as he completes the job. We may throw into the job a few boys, who do nothing else than furnish nuisances in the shape of little dogs.

FORT VALLEY, GA. Nov. 23. John Brown, colored, has been arrested for attempting to rape a highly respectable young lady. He had knocked out some teeth, and filled her mouth and eyes with dirt. He was taken from the custody of the Sheriff and hanged.

E. B. Borden of Goldsboro is going to build a mill and may place, factory on Little river, near that place.

A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, writing from Richmond Hill, the home of Chief Justice Pearson, says that among Democrats in the West Vance and Leach are talked of for Governor, and among the Radicals Dockery and Settle are spoken of. The Democrats claim that the nominee for Governor must be a Western man, and the Lieut. Governor a Wilmington man. Now we suppose the next time the candidate for Governor must be from the East and the Lieut. Governor from the West. If that is the game, living in the centre as we do, we are never to be Governor, or even Lieut. Governor eh? We don't like any such arrangement. We are to be left forever, we suppose, with no greater share in glory than besting Tom Settle and Bill Henderson, and such like, for Congress with the privilege of defeating bolters occasionally for judicial places. No sir, our section must be considered in the meeting.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 29. The National Grange Committee was appointed to arrange a special marriage ceremony for the grangers. A resolution to establish an official organ at Louisville or elsewhere was not favorable. A committee was appointed to memorialize Congress to establish a scientific bureau on grasshoppers, caterpillars, &c. A resolution condemning mortgaging crops was referred.

Among the candidates from the South for the clerkship of next House of Representatives are ex-Congressman Shober, of North Carolina; Hon. Charles A. Lamar, formerly clerk of the Confederate House; Hon. Mr. Boggs, of Mississippi, and Gen. Dudley M. Dugbes and ex-Congressman Adams, of Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 24. The National Grange elected as Master, John T. Jones, of Arkansas; Overseer, J. J. Wooman of Michigan; lecturer H. B. Smedley of Iowa, Steward A. J. Vaughn of Mississippi; Treasurer, F. M. McDowell; Secretary, O. H. Kelly of Kentucky.

C. J. McGraw, one of the St. Louis whiskey ring, put in a card, in which he states that no Washington city official has been connected with the ring save Wm. O. Avery. One in Washington city was enough for McGraw to know. He could make all arrangements and transact all business.

Gen. R. D. Lilley was in Raleigh last week, making a canvass in behalf of the Lee Memorial. The object is to erect a suitable structure for the reception and protection of Valentines recumbent statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee. Under this statue is to be deposited the remains of that hero.

The fertilizer manufacturers of Baltimore have resolved to sell no more fertilizers upon security of mortgages upon the crop to be grown, or any other property. They must have cash or good paper. A good thing for farmers if adhered to.

Chief Justice Waite says he will not allow his name to be used in connection with the Presidency "under any circumstances." Sensible man! The same remark from Mr. Grant would take tons of the party mind. -Springfield Republican (Ind).

S. S. Davis, the Supreme Chancellor of the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was in Wilmington last week, and there was a gathering of the Lodges of that city, at their Castle Hall to welcome him.

The Semi-Weekly Record published at Goldsboro has been discontinued. The weekly, will however be continued as heretofore. No better weekly than the Record in our opinion is published in the State.

The Cumberland county fair was also a grand success, and had grand ball attached, and mankind has been enlightened by a description of what the ladies wore upon the occasion, - in part.

The largest boiler ever in the State is in use at Blackwells tobacco factory at Durham. Blackwell has been making hash of the weed for some time, and now it is to be served boiled it would seem.

Lots of robbing going in Wilmington, chicken roosts, collar patches and butchers stalls suffer. They appear unable to save their "greens" much less their bacon.

The National Grange refused to establish an organ, or to frame a marriage ceremony for Grangers.

Prof. Henry E. Shepard, who delivered the oration in Baltimore at the dedication of the Freedom monument is a son of the late Judge Jesse G. Shepard of Fayetteville N. C.

John M. Robinson, of Baltimore was last week elected President of the R. & G. R. E., to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Maj. Grice.

Mr. J. J. Stewart, for some years past the Associate Editor of the Salisbury Watchman, has retired from that paper.

The Raleigh Sentinel gives an account of an awkward mistake. At the last term of Rockingham court, there were a number sentenced to the penitentiary, and one man named Rose was sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for a short time. The Sheriff took those who had been sentenced to the penitentiary down to Raleigh last week, and by mistake took Rose along with them. This mistake it appears was not discovered until the arrival of Sheriff and prisoners in Raleigh. The Sheriff had to take Rose back. This circumstance should teach Rose a lesson upon the evils and inconveniences liable to fall upon one caught in bad company.

COWHIND. - General Imboden said things about Gen. Bradley Johnson, during Johnson's canvass as candidate for the State Senate in the recent election in Richmond. Imboden was going to St. Louis to the Ball Road Convention. Johnson overtook him in depot, and pitched into him with a cowhide. Imboden showed fight; Johnson drew a pistol. Police grabbed both. Imboden gave bond and went on to his meeting Johnson paid $30. and bound to keep the peace for one year. If we were Johnson we'd have Imboden bound to keep the peace too.

MEETING OF STATE GRANGERS. - West Virginia, Nov. 3. Alabama, Nov. 30. Kentucky, Dec. 7. South Carolina, Dec. 1. Indiana, Dec. 8. Georgia, Dec. 8. Missouri, Dec. 14. Illinois, Dec. 14. Iowa, Dec. 14. Maryland, Dec. 14. Massachusetts, Dec. 14. Michigan, Dec. 14. Minnesota, Dec. 14. Mississippi, Dec. 14. New Jersey, Dec. 14. Pennsylvania, Dec. 14. Vermont, Dec. 1. Nebraska, Dec. 31. New Hampshire, Dec. 31. Wisconsin, Jan. 4. Texas, 10. New York, Jan. 1. Arkansas, Jan. 24. North Carolina, Feb. 15. Tennessee, Feb. 15. Ohio, March 14.

The sad affair of the railroad accident on Columbia, S. C., and Augusta, Ga., an account of which was published last week, has been undergoing investigation; and the fact is developed, that the drunkenness of the engineer of the train of empty cars which ran into the passenger coach, accounts for the accident and the death of the engineer's name is Foster and a warrant for his arrest for murder was issued, but getting wind of what steps were being taken he escaped.

Fifty convicts from the penitentiary were sent last week to work on the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad. It is said this road will use a number of other convicts to know whether the State is paid anything for the labor of these convicts, or whether it is just relief of the expense of keeping those thus sent out. On the Western North Carolina Railroad about one hundred and fifty of these convicts already at work. That the convict law should be judiciously used for building railroads, and doing other work of a like improving character, is a wise policy.

Senator Ferry of Connecticut is dead. He died at Norwalk, on Sunday, the 21st this month. He was elected a republican; but he had so sided in opposition to the policy of his party towards the South as not to be considered a republican although not identified with the democrats. His place will be filled by a democrat.

Capt. E. C. Woodson the indefatigable host of the Raleigh News sever's connection with that paper, to accept a position on the Wilson Advertiser. We don't bid him goodbye; he has only moved, but not out of the neighborhood, and we shall hear from him, if not as often, as regularly as heretofore.

The famous revenue corruptionist, McDonald, was convicted upon all the bills of indictment against him, eight in number. Sentence reserved until other cases are tried, so that Judge may have benefit of all evidence bearing upon his case.

The Roman Catholics have, in due form, cursed the spot where the bones of Gubrow were finally deposited; and now it is nothing but a profane place, an ordinary bit of ground.

Capt. A. B. Andrews, Superintendent of the North Carolina Railroad has established his headquarters at the Yarrowburgh House, in Raleigh.

THE LOST CAUSE. A magnificent picture 14x18 inches in size. It represents a Confederate soldier after the war returning to his home, which he finds lonely and desolate. In front of the ruined cottage, telling a sad tale of the miseries of war, are two graves with rude crosses, on one of which some friendly hand has hung a garland. To the right the calm river sun rising moon lullaby peace and rest. The stars, seen between the trees, represent the Southern Cross. It is a picture that will touch every Southern heart, and should find a place in every Southern home. Sent by mail, mounted on a roller, and post paid, on receipt of 25 cents, or three for fifty cents. Address Southern Picture Co., Nashville, Tenn.
