

THE QUAKER EGGS.

A Quaker grocer in a country village became notorious for selling eggs. The village gossips were ready to testify that he bought large and fine looking eggs, and where he could find so many small sized eggs as he daily sent out to customers was a mystery they could not fathom. There were two mysterious looking holes in his counter about the size of an egg, and curiosity was excited to the highest pitch to ascertain what use they were put to. The only answer anybody could get from the old man, when questioned concerning the use of these holes, was: 'My friend, if I tell thee the truth, it would not benefit me nor thee, and I don't wish to tell a falsehood. It is a pity lying is a sin, for it comes in so easy in trade.'

At last, it was resolved by some of the epistomers to watch his actions through the cracks of the shutters after he had closed the store for the night, and thus endeavor to find out their use. This resolution was carried into execution and the ladies caught the grocer passing eggs through the holes by the light of a penny dip. All those that passed through the smaller hole he placed in one basket; and those that passed through the larger one he put in another, and all that would not pass through either he placed in a tin pan and took them to his house.

On his way thither, he heard the rustling of the women's dresses, and he saw that he was caught; so he called them to him, and in the blandest manner, said:

"Sisters, ye have given yourselves much trouble to appease thy curiosity, and therefore I will explain all to ye. Ye see, I sort my eggs into three sizes by means of these holes. The largest I use in my own family; the next size sell a half-penny cheaper on the dozen than any of my neighbors, for cash; the smallest I send to those who will buy no other way than on credit."

The ladies were satisfied with the lesson in trade, and spread the news abroad.

A TERRIBLE CRIME.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., June 21.—John Kemmler, a German, living in South Holyoke, shot his three children—Annie, aged six years; Dittie, aged four, and Amy, aged one—this afternoon, because he was unable to support them. He has been out of work since February. At that time he went to Colorado, but recently returned, and had been warned from a tenement belonging to the Germania Mills in which he lived, because he no longer worked in the mills.

About two o'clock he sent his wife on an errand, and calling his eldest child into the house, tried to poison her with cyanid of potassium, but she threw up the dose. Kemmler then took the second child into the front bed room and shot her through the head, back of the ear, with a 32-calibre five shooter. He then took Annie to the rear bed room, shot her in a like manner, and left her on the floor covered with vomit and blood. The youngest girl was lying on the bed. He also shot her behind the ear, the flash of the pistol burning the pillow. Leaving the house, he took a saloon keeper, who had had done, and going to another saloon he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Kingsbury.

After his arrest he appeared quite cool, and said he was ready to let the law take its course. He said he could not support his children; he feared they would grow up and enter houses of prostitution, and thought they would be happier in heaven. He had planned for ten days to kill them. He is collected, and apparently sane. Medical Examiner Tuttle will hold an inquest tomorrow. The child will be buried at the expense of the city. Mrs. Kemmler is completely overwhelmed with grief.

At a Sunday school picnic, the other day, the superintendent threw one lemon and two strawberries in the creek, and then sold the water to the scholars as strawberry lemonade at five cents a glass.—Phila. Chronicle-Herald.

When a man is sitting on a sofa on a fine evening with a pretty girl and the conversation is beginning to get decidedly interesting to both, it is terrible to them to have a mail work out of the plaster and let a chronic of Washington crossing the Delaware down on their heads.

That was what the remark of a young lawyer on Washington street, the other morning. A friend accosted him: 'John Lusk, you would change this twenty dollar bill for me?' The blushing but pleased attorney lifted his hat and replied: 'My good boy, you father in-law's name.'—Haver Weekly.

Mary Anderson declares that she loves her profession too well to think of bestowing any of her affection upon a man. Miss Anderson doesn't seem to comprehend the psychology of the thing. Mr. Train could tell her that love often comes like a stroke of lightning—unexpectedly—and that it is impossible to dodge.

Now is the season of the year when the man who sees the sign, 'fresh paint,' will walk up to the door, leave the marks of his dirty fingers on it, and go away muttering to himself, 'That's so. That's so.'—Ensign.

David Davis, rising from his seat in a Washington street car.—'Take these seats ladies.' And the four ladies best themselves in the place just occupied by the Illinois statesman.
