TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only one occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAZZETT, Ayova, Neb.

TALMADGE SAYS THAT SILVER WILL WIN.

The Celebrated Frenchman Sees Renewed Prosperity in His Victory.

"If the silver people win, I believe there will be such a revival in business, such a booming in industries, which are now inactive, and such a general shaking up of commercial interests that the country will be sure to prosper."

These words were spoken by the Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage, at Easthampton, L. I., after a long tour of the Southern States.

The reverend gentleman is a keen observer, and can see which way the wind blows as quickly, with as much certainty as the shrewdest of politicians. He does not only preach to the people, but he mingles with them, feeling the popular pulse and searching the hearts of his countrymen.

Dr. Talmage arrived at Easthampton on Friday last from Chattanooga, where he had attended an educational convention. Not only in the big cities did the doctor mingle with the residents, but in remote and sparsely settled districts and in minor townships and villages.

"During my entire trip," he said, "I did not find more than one or two men who were not silverites. The unanimity was astounding. The sentiment down South is universally for the white metal. Bryan and Sewall will get a very large vote from that section of the country."

Dr. Talmage is too little or too much of a politician to come out flat-footed for free silver, but his terences are perhaps sufficiently significant to show the tendencies of his personal feeling.

"My associations and training and my political affiliations of the past place me on the side of a single standard," he cautiously said, and then as a twinkle came into his eye, he added: "But instead of disaster and ruin following in the wake of the silver movement, the opposite will be the result."

"I am not advocating that side of the political question," said the diplomatic divine, "but I do not, with a good many of my Christian friends, that in the success of that movement believe the country will greatly suffer."

"This is a strong nation," he added. "We are engaged in a great political campaign, and it will ill benefit me to be a strong partisan on either side. There are honest, Christian, patriotic men on both sides, and the life of the country and the welfare of its interests will be a great incentive to lead men in the right direction. I have great faith in the people of this country, and it is a fact that the people of the vast southern and western section are vehemently in favor of silver."

DR. GUNSAULUS' VIEWS.

The Rev. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, pastor of the Pilgrimage Congregational church, of Chicago, and president of the Armour Institute of Technology, in that city, has recently arrived in Brooklyn, after visiting and studying the States of Kentucky, Kansas, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Tennessee, Illinois, and Nebraska.

He is at the St. George hotel. He is deeply impressed with the widespread feeling for silver in those localities.

"I firmly believe," he said yesterday, "that if we were to have an election to-morrow Bryan would stand an excellent chance to win. He must not be laughed at in the East. He will visit you here and by the force of his mental and oratorical powers will make many converts. The men who are in favor of free silver must not be set down as wild-eyed and bewhiskered. There are many among them of great brain and intelligence."

Overpowering Numbers.

N. Y. World.

There were enlisted in the Federal army during the war 2,778,304 soldiers, which was about 12 per cent. of her population; while according to Federal statistics, the enrollment of the Confederate army was 690,000, which was about 17 per cent. of the population. The Confederates, on the estimates made by General Wright, agent for the collection of Confederate statistics, deny that they ever had 670,000 enrolled, as the Army of the Confederacy "absent and present," was as follows for each year: January, 1862, 318,011; January, 1863, 465,584; January, 1864, 572,781; January, 1865, 439,675.—(vol. iv. "Battle and Leaders," p. 788.)

Taking the Federal enlistment at 2,778,304, and the number of Federals on the pay roll May 1, 1865, at 1,000,516, there would be about 37 per cent. of the enlistment present. This would give on the same basis, about 222,000 Confederates under arms. This would preserve the ratio of 690,000 to 2,778,304 enlistments, and the general ratio of population, 8,000,000 to 24,000,000.

History as taught in our public schools has impressed the children of those who sustained the lost cause with the idea that their ancestors would not bear criticism. These children have heard nothing but the songs of the victors, and it is due to them that they should have the facts of history, as presented by the official records, to prove to them that though the children of the vanquished yet they are descendants from heroes.

The old Confederates say to the victors, Praise your Arm de Triomphe and write in letters of gold, Vicksburg, Gettysburg, Appomattox, and our children will pass with uncovered heads under its shining arch; but let them, as they look up through their tears at the obverse side of this arch, see written: "Federal enlistments, 2,770,304; Confederate enlistments, 690,000."

MR. PLANT'S PLAN.

How the Railroad Magnate Proposes to Make Gold-bug Votes.

From the Albany Ga. Penny Press.

The Penny Press has a bit of sensational railroad news to give its readers this afternoon.

With a full sense of his great importance as a money king and a realization of his power as a railroad magnate—comfortably ensconced in a plush arm chair in his luxurious private office, Mr. H. B. Plant—head of the Plant System fame—has dictated and had sent out a circular letter, the purpose of which, if carried out, will play an important part in politics in Georgia this year. These circular letters have been sent to the agents and others of the system who have under their control large numbers of employes, and tells them, in unmistakable language, that they

in the next presidential election; that it is in the interest of the system that those men in his hire do all they can to put McKinley in office, and that if the said support is not given as directed all head officials must send in their resignation.

The above gives a pretty fair idea of the context of the circulars sent out, and shows that the great army of employes of the Plant System find themselves in rather an awkward position. In other words, it is a vote for McKinley or quit work.

It is a treacherous blow at American liberty and independence, and is, no doubt, the beginning of an exertion of the wonderful money power of the Wall street leeches. And who knows but that all or most of the great corporations of the country have done or are now doing exactly what the Plant System has done? It is safe to presume that others are in this class. They will have to be in it to bring about the result desired.

Mr. Plant may not know it, but he is treading on bad ground.

A press dispatch states that Queen Victoria's health is failing and that she intends retiring from the throne in favor of her son, the Prince of Wales.

North Carolinians in Texas.

Wilmington Messenger.

In Atlanta there are so many North Carolina residents that they have a North Carolina association. The same thing exists in the growing city of Waco, Texas. It is called "The Tar Heel Society of Texas." There are one hundred local members. Think of that number of men being in Texas in a city of not more than 15,000 inhabitants, we suppose. What a colony! This shows how great a loser our grand State is in the going out of it of young and vigorous blood. The society meets every two weeks. The last address was delivered by Rev. D. R. Wallace. Mr. Russell H. Kingsbury, a native of Oxford and a leading lawyer out there, has been invited to deliver an address on North Carolina—its history, literature, etc. A letter from a gentleman living in another part of Texas says that Mr. Kingsbury is "about the ablest young man of his age in Texas and will certainly go to the Congress he thinks." The members of the Waco Society sing at the opening and closing of every meeting—"The Old North State." Think of that. How the hearts of these "dispersed abroad" warm and thrill at the mention of the dear old State—"Heaven's blessings attend her." They are still loyal in their attachments to the land of their birth.

We would rejoice to see the hundreds of the absent sons returning to the best of all homes in the best of all States. Here they can do as well as in other States, for North Carolina is not without leaders among the gifted and aspiring youth. It has always been so as it would be easy to show. We met in 1868, in Tennessee, men who had been away from North Carolina thirty years who said they would like to return for good. We saw a prosperous Mississippian twenty years ago who had left North Carolina more than a score of years before, and still he would be glad to come back and live. He said but for the fact that his children had been born and reared in his adopted state he would pull up and come back.

"Breaths there a man, with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart has never within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned,
From wandering on a foreign strand?"
There are many thousands of North Carolinians in distant Texas no doubt.

The Cigarette Habit.
Youth's Companion.

The teacher of a public school in Chicago found that eighty of her scholars smoked from two to twenty cigarettes a day. Six only of these boys were able to do good work in their classes. The victims of the cigarette habit confessed that they were suffering constantly from headache, drowsiness and dizziness.

Many declared they could not write well because their hands trembled. A number were "shaky" when they walked, and unable to run for any distance. They could not rouse themselves to meet the examination test. The teacher reported that they were sure to fail if asked to memorize anything. Several of the smokers were from four to five years too old for their grade, and it was found that after they began to smoke their progress ceased.

Except in three instances, the scholars hardest to discipline were smokers. Truancy and theft were directly traced to indulgence in the habit. Boys who had reformed and joined the Anti-Cigarette Society said they "felt like different boys."

The power and perniciousness of the cigarette habit are revealed by this fresh testimony from a competent and careful observer.

"UNCLE GEORGE" ON BRYAN.

Hon. George J. Tillman has given the Augusta Chronicle his opinion on the Democratic nominee. Col. Tillman is a good judge of human nature, and a statesman himself.

He says: "During my career in Congress I spent sixteen winters in Washington, where I came in contact more or less with nearly all the great men of this country, and with many from foreign countries; and while serving two years in Congress with Bryan, he always impressed me as being the greatest man I ever met, and as being just as good as he was great. As an orator I have never heard but three men who could be compared with him. They were Ben Hill, Blaine and Blackburn. He either knows everything or has such a facility of reference to books that he can quickly get any information he wants. His memory is simply marvelous, and he has such an intimate knowledge of men that he can read their characters at a glance. He is always at work seeking knowledge, by reading, conversation or reflection, and seems to look upon idleness as a crime. If he has any small vice—chewing, smoking, drinking, gaming, cursing etc., I never discovered it during two years personal and official intercourse with him. In fact, the man always appeared to be conscientiously inspired with enthusiasm to do good for others. Yet he is a most devoted father, and acts more like a lover than a husband towards his wife. In a few words, morally speaking, he is so well balanced that he could not intentionally do a wrong thing if he were to try, and his intellect is so clear and strong that he always avoids evil as near as it is human to do so. Therefore, I think Bryan will be President—because he ought to be; because he was born great, and because not even the presidency could confer greatness upon him."

SENATOR SQUIRES VIEWS.

He is For Silver—Nearly All Republicans in His State For Bryan.

New York Journal.

United States Senator Watson C. Squires, of Seattle, Wash., has been a power in the Republican party for the past fifteen years, his following in the far Northwest is enormous. He has declared himself unequivocally for silver, and will be one of the most enthusiastic supporters of Bryan and Sewall in the coming campaign. Yesterday he wrote the following:

W. R. Hearst, the Journal:
I take my stand with the friends of silver, and heartily indorse the platform adopted at the conference of bimetallists at Tacoma, June 13th.

As a necessary sequence I shall support Bryan for President.

The money question is the paramount issue of the campaign. All others can be held in abeyance. I believe that the growth of gold monometallism is the chief cause of the continued falling of prices that is creating so much distress, and that if the monometallic policy be persisted in the result will be general bankruptcy and ruin.

It will be better for us to suffer some risks and losses at present rather than inflict so much greater losses upon ourselves and our children at a later day, when creditors, debtors, and the interests of labor will go down in one common and universal ruin, if we do not proceed wisely beforehand to avoid such great disaster.

Therefore, I trust that the friends of silver will patriotically unite in one common cause, regardless of previous party ties, and work for the speedy re-coinage of silver in this country, which if accomplished, will do more than can be done in any other way to effect silver re-coinage throughout the world.

I have been detained in the East by important business, and in attending to the interests of my constituents.

It is my intention to proceed to the State of Washington as soon as possible, to bear my share of the burdens of the coming campaign, which, I think, is one of the most important in the history of this country.

I bid you God speed in the cause of the people.

W. C. SQUIRES.
Senator Squire is staying at the Fifth Avenue hotel, in this city, accompanied by his wife.

"In round numbers in the State of Washington," he said yesterday, "there are 35,000 Republicans to 15,000 Democrats. Fully one half of the Republicans are in favor of the free coinage of silver, and at least 35 per cent. of the party will vote and work for Bryan."

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Fences Around Gardens.
There should be no fences except those put up for temporary protection, and that can be easily taken down around the garden. If a permanent fence is built it is always in the way, and becomes a harbor for weeds, which will grow all the more luxuriantly because the garden is rich. Neither should fruit trees be planted around the garden for like reason. The fruit garden ought to be by itself, and on the farm it is better to grow all the tree fruits in the main orchard, that can then be fenced in and used as a pasture for pigs.

Hobart and His Trusts.
N. Y. Herald.

According to the news columns of Mr. Hobart's leading local organ, the "coal syndicate has started out on a regular system of advances and we are to have another 25-cent increase in September, with another of the same amount by January, making an advance of $1 a ton within six months."

As pool arbitrator for roads engaged in the coal syndicate Mr. Hobart has had full opportunities to inform himself intimately concerning the operation of the "regular system" through which these unnatural profits are extorted. When he takes the field he will not be able to find a topic in which the public is more interested, nor will he find any other way in which he can do his party greater service than by convincing the public that his own connection with trusts, pools and monopolies has not rendered him unfit for the vice-presidency.

And when he does take the stump Mr. Hobart ought to tell as soon as possible to what extent he thinks the anti-trust law should be enforced against all who violate it, most especially those who out of the proceeds of the violation contribute to his campaign fund.
