Congress convened in extra ses sion Monday. The caucus nominees tor officers of the House were elected without opposition-except from the Republican side. Hon Champ Clark was of course elected Speaker. The Democrats were in fine humor and manifested some ex uberance of spirit. This is the first time in 16 years that there has been a Democratic Speaker. There is promise of considerable economy and the new Congress has outlined an economical policy, and the country is expecting it to be carried out.

Judge Chas. S. Adams died suddenly last Sunday morning at Warrenton. He had completed a term of court for Warren county the day in Asheville and he was held in high esteem as a judge, lawyer and citizen. He was elected in 1908 and was in his 60th year.

Judge O'Gorman Elected Senato From New York.

Albany Dispatch. March 31.

Supreme Court Justice James Aloysius O'Gorman, Democrat, of New York city, was elected United States Senator tonight by the Legislature after the most protracted struggle over this position ever held in the Empire State On the final vote, the sixty-fourth he received 112 votes to 80 cast for Chauncey M. Depew, whose term expired March 4.

The result was in doubt almost to the minute of recording the votes, owing to the uncertainty as to how many of the Democratic insurgents, who for over two months had prevented an election William F. Sheehan, would enter the second caucus which had been adjourned from day to day sine Monday.

At the close of a day of almos continuous negotations the insurgents capitulated and Justice O'Gorman was elected. A few Justice O'Gorman's resignation from the bench was filed at the office of the Secretary of State, as a constitutional provision would have prohibited his election while holding the office of Justice of the Supreme Court.

Wild applause marked the end of the long contest and the Legislature, driven from the State cap itol by Wednesday's fire, quiesly d a resolution adjourning until April 17.

James A. O'Gorman has long been one of the most prominen has been one of its foremost ora tors for 30 years, having established his reputation as a public aker in its interests when, at the age of 21, his eloquence was credited with having saved a doubtful district. He was born in New York city in 1860.

sion of the present administration. Speculation as to what Congress will do is varied. It is thought that the administration would more than pleased if the Congress would ratify the reciprocity agree ment with Canada and adjourn but the Democrats who now control the lower house have a much more ambitious program and indeed there are tariff reforms that cannot be enacted too soon. The period between the adjournment on the 4th of March and the 4th of April has been full of interest. The sudden mobilization of the army and its establishment on the Mexican border has been the subject of discussion throughout the length and breadth of the land. The ultimate purpose of the administration is not known, but preparation for any emergency is the highest wisdon in national affairs. It is reported that a large contingent of the force now on the Mexican border will sail in a few days for Honolulu. It is known that American interests in Mexico

There is again discussion peace pact between Great Britain and the United States and between before and up to the time he was France and the United States stricken with apoplexy he was in his With reciprocity with Canada and usual good health. His home was peace agreements with Great Britain and France, there would be little reason for the continuous expensive naval preparation of the last decade: but there is no assurance that the Senate will ratify such peace agreements as the two great Anglo-Saxon governments may arrange with each other. There are some Senators that are very jealous of their Constitutional privileges to vote separately and distinctly in every matter of international relation. Still, the world moves. Civil service reform was looked upon as Utopian thirty years ago, and the purification of governmental and commercial relations have been accomplished even in the near that perturbed territory.

It is expected that there will be no little presi lential electioneering and maneuvering in Washington during the present extra session. It is significant that the Bryan influence has been considerably strengthened in both houses of Congress, both by elimination and addition since March 4th. Many of his friends have been added to both the House and the Senate, while some who are opposed to him are no longer in power in Washington It is not thought that Mr. Bryan expects to do more than influence the nomination of a Democratic candidate. It is thought that he favors Wilson, of New Jersey. because of their opposition to It is known that he does not favor Harmon, of Ohio. Champ Clark, the Democratic Speaker, has been talked of as a presidential pos sibility, but he has talked so much himself and so imprudently in his long and mediocre political career that it is doubtful if he will be considered as an available candiate by those of the party wit whom judgment prevails. La Follette of Wisconsin is much talked of as the probable Republic can nominee for the presidency and the race now is supposed to lie between him, Taft and Roose velt. Senator La Follette is conspicuous for his criticism of the transfer of the army to the Mexican border. He denounce it as unecessary and as an extravagant waste of public funds, bu it is probable that the figures will strate that the army can be as easily maintained along the re of Tammany Hall. He Rio Grande as at the various stations from which it was en trained, and surely the experience of mobilization and the exercise of camp life cannot do otherwise than improve the efficiency and esprit-du-corps of a force doubtless enervated by long inaciivity. There was the same necessity for moving the army that there was in the last year of Roosevelt's administration to send the navy to sea and around the world, and sably otherseasons that Sena tor La Follette and some other have not yet found out. There is much speculation with reference to coming legislation and to the length of time that Congress will be in extra session-It may be that there will not be an adjornment until late in the summer. The situation is full of interest and expectation is on tiptoe awaiting events.

Mr. G. W. Westbrook, a farmer at Wrightsville sound, has discovered a new hog food; he calls t, for want of better name. "hog potato." He first discovered it by noticing his hogs rooting around for something in the ground: he investigated and saw a herb with small roots to it, of which the hogs were wildly fond. This was some years ago, since which time he has een propagating the food and finds it not only elegant, but exceedingly cheap. He has been fattening his hogs on it and says the meet is better and finer than when the hogs are fed on other things. The discovery will bear nvestigation by farmers everywhere, for it is said the "hog pota to" will grow any where and needs very little attention in cultivating t.-Greensboro Record.
