SYNOPSIS

Private Mark Malone, U. S. A., sent as a spy to Chattanooga by General Thomas, is saved from execution by Scott Black.

Discovered as a spy, Mark starts for Chattanooga with Laura, Scott's daughter. Mark is to send Scott her red handkerchief as a token.

Mark and Laura are given shelter by Laura's father and mother. Laura suspects Mark is a Union soldier in disguise. He confesses that he is. Laura is a Confederate. She prevents her lover, Captain Cameron, from leaving her.

Mark is arrested by the Confederates. He escapes from Chattanooga.

Mark escapes in safety past the picket line and unexpectedly meets a band of Confederate deserters. He and Laura are taken prisoners.

Mark is imprisoned as a spy. Laura sends Scott's handkerchief to her by a negro. Mark, defended by Pitt Hugh, is sentenced to death.

Scott receives her handkerchief and, disguised as a colored girl, goes to Mark's prison. She rescues the servant in the jail.

Scott and Mark exchange clothing, and with a band of deserters, escape to the river.

Escaping the Pitt house, Laura conceals him and gives him food and new clothing. She upbraids him for seeking her protection.

Scott and Laura are sent home by the Confederates. Mark poses as Professor Rhett of South Carolina in the Pitt house.

He sends Uncle Daniel, a negro, to Chattanooga for further military information. Captain Pitt Hugh, calling unexpectedly, captures Mark.

Laura insists that Pitt Hugh permit Mark to escape. He does so, and their engagement is broken. Mark and Laura start for Nashville.

Mark, endeavoring to pass a Confederate picket, says he and Laura are Mr. and Mrs. Green. They are detained. Mark and Laura agree to be man and wife in reality.

Pitt Hugh appears, hears that Mark and Laura are married, and aids Mark to escape. Mark rescues the Union men in safety.

Laura and her mother rejoice Mark, and reveal their true feelings. Mark assures Laura he will be a spy no longer.

"Love! Was it love?" She asked the question at the moment. "It was a summer romance, while this—"

"This?"

"Is a tempest."

Drawing her to him, before imprinting a kiss, Mark added to her smile, "A wild west romance."

"On my thinking of your Shelley," she said, "I shall love him too, now, since it was he who betrayed you to me."

"And I shall love him the more because he betrayed me—and made me so."

"He did not betray you. He was thinking of his country in the gutter when he betrayed you. He had not then the saving life he had made her his own. She remembered it, too, and smiling, she said to him:

"And made you my slave. But who made you my slave?"

"The woman who loved me," she said, "and who loved me as she loves me now."

"The woman who loved me as she loves me now?"

"The woman who loved me as she loves me now?"

NATIONAL RACE FOR GOOD ROADS

Every State Aroused to the Benefits of Improved Highways.

$140,500,000 TO BE SPENT.

Recent Good Road Laws Are Making the Future Look Bright For This Country in the Way of Good Transportation—Now Year Spending More Than Any Other State.

One million dollars a day is the record that will be established throughout the United States as the expenditure for improving and maintaining public roads. Never before in the history of the country has there been such interest in the improvement of highways, and with the legislatures of the states appropriating millions of dollars for this purpose, the good roads movement has received its greatest impetus since the foundation of the republic.

The money that will be expended on the roads of this country during the next six months will be more than ever before in the same period of time. In 1904 the total expenditure for the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges in the United States amounted to about $80,000,000, but the expenditure for this purpose in 1911 will aggregate about $140,500,000. Exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays.
