GRAHAM, N. C., Nov. 11, 1912

Dr. James McKee, for eleven years Supt. of the State Hospital at Raleigh, died about 12 o'clock Tuesday night, supposed from rheumatism of the heart.

A story is prevalent in Washington and New York that there is a break between Col. George Harvey of Harper's Weekly, who has been backing him for the presidency and Gov. Woodrow Wilson.

For more than a week the weather in the Northwest has been extremely severe, with very low temperature and plenty of snow.

In Raleigh Saturday night Hon. William Jennings Bryan made a great speech to a great audience. However much he may be condemned on account of some of his theories of government, he is a great man nevertheless, and along with things he says which are not generally endorsed, he says much that is much better than most public men can say.

C. V. T. Richeson, the erstwhile Boston preacher, who procured the death of Miss Avis Linnell, his former sweetheart, on the night of October 14th, made public a confession of the crime last Saturday.

Overman Against Sherwood Pension Bill.

Senator Lee S. Overman, who has been at home for the holidays, leaves tonight for Washington to be present at the reconvening of Congress tomorrow and to attend the dinner tomorrow night.

The Senator was seen by a Post representative at the Southern passenger station this morning purchasing his ticket to the capital city.

The query was put, "How do you stand on the bill?" He said "I am red hot against it. You can say in your paper that I am opposed to it and will do all I can to defeat it in the Senate. I voted against it last year and will do so again. I voted against the $25,000,000, the $60,000,000 and the $70,000,000 pension bill and you can be assured I will vote against the $75,000,000 bill. A bill similar to this bill was introduced in the last Congress. It was known as the Salloway bill, but the papers did not notice it. I voted against this bill. That was last March. It was a Republican bill and no one paid any attention to it, but as soon as the Democrats passed the Sherwood bill there was a big howl. I am against this pension bill, it is not in line with the Democratic policy of economy.

Gov. Stubbs, of Kansas, has declared for Roosevelt for President.

Booms Democrat: Mr. Alex. Green, one of our largest landowners, told us on Tuesday last that the late pasture on his Meat Camp farm was so extra fine this fall that a herd of 47 two-year-old steers has kept in the best of condition, and up to that day the whole bunch had consumed less than one stack of hay, the first feed being given them the day before Christmas.

SECRETARY WILSON WANTS MORE MONEY.

Says Southern Farmers Want to Learn and He Wants to Help Them.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says he wishes Congress would give him a lot more money than it does to carry on the great work of teaching our farmers how to farm. The farmers of the South, he says, are very teachable but those of the North as a rule "don't know how to farm and the worst part of it is that they don't want to learn." In spite of all that has been done to prove the value of science in agriculture, there is a strong conservative opinion among the practical farmers that the scientific fellow "don't know beans." As a result of the demonstration work being done in the South it is believed that agriculture in that section will be greatly improved in the next few years. On the demonstration farms in different States the yield of cotton has been increased 85 per cent. and the yield of corn 93 per cent. above the local average, simply by more scientific methods. The maintenance of soil fertility by means of leguminous crops, the growing of a greater variety of crops, and the improvement of cotton and other seed are some of the objects aimed at. The officials in charge complain that the field is so immense that it cannot be covered at all properly until much more liberal appropriations are made. Farming today has come to be primarily a business, it is pointed out; in other words, it is easier to raise crops than it is to market them at a profit. This explains why so many city men, who have very little knowledge of practical farming but who have fine business training, are making a success of it. A case of a New York man is cited who had to leave a fine job in a big department store and go out on the land for his health. He looked the field over, purchased an abandoned farm in New York State, pursued a short course of study in scientific farming methods and devoured all the literature on the subject—and the result is that in the second year he has made a profit of $10,000, he says.

To the farmer of the old school, who labors from early till late and at the end of the year considers that he has done well if he can just make ends meet, such things as this seem like fairy tales. Nevertheless, with prices of all foodstuffs as high as they are, there is a liberal margin of profit in farming if sound scientific and business methods are used. Numerous experiment stations, schools, etc., are now laboring to find out such methods and teach them to the farmers but with over 6,000,000 farms in the United States the work must be carried on on a vastly larger scale before it can really fill the demand.—Pathfinder.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased part of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by a diseased condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound and imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surface.

George H. Hill and Harry Ecks, from the two Baltimore young men charged with robbing the Atlantic Coast Line train at Hardeeville, S. C., were dismissed from custody at Savannah, Ga., last week, the evidence failing to connect them with the robbery.

IRON ORE IN 1911.

Estimated Production According to United States Geological Survey.

Preliminary estimates of iron ore sold in 1911 were sent to the Geological Survey by 26 of the largest iron-mining companies in the United States at the close of the year. The combined output of these companies represents more than 80 per cent. of the total production of the United States. From these returns it is estimated by E. F. Burchard, of the Survey, that the total quantity of iron ore marketed in the United States in 1911, not including stocks left at the mines, was between 43,000,000 and 46,000,000 long tons. This quantity represents a decrease of 22 to 24 per cent. of the sales for 1910, which aggregated 56,889,734 long tons. The output for 1910 was the largest quantity of iron ore ever marketed in a single year in the United States, and according to the present estimate the quantity produced in the year 1911 will take fifth place, being exceeded by that of 1910, 1907, 1909, and 1906 in the order named. It is estimated that of the ore produced in 1911 between 39,250,000 and 42,000,000 long tons was red hematite, the remainder consisting of brown hematite, magnetite, and iron carbonate ores. According to the returns received the Lake Superior district, in Minnesota, Michigan, and Wisconsin, apparently produced between 33,000,000 and 35,000,000 long tons of red and specular hematite, which represents a decrease of 23 to 28 per cent. compared with the production of 1910—46,338,743 long tons.

In the Birmingham district, Alabama, the second largest iron-mining center, the production of iron ore apparently decreased 18 to 20 per cent. from that of 1910, the estimated production for 1911 being between 3,050,000 and 3,125,000 long tons, compared with 3,802,115 long tons in the preceding year. The ore mined in the Birmingham district consists of red and brown hematite in the proportion of about 4 to 1.

The production of iron ore in Tennessee and Virginia apparently decreased only about 16 per cent., according to reports from the principal products in those States.

As the production of pig iron for 1911 may exceed 23,500,000 tons, a larger production of iron ore might appear to be required than has been estimated above, but it must be considered that at the close of 1910 there was 9,408,235 long tons of iron ore in stock at the mines in the United States, and that of this total 8,471,108 long tons was at the mines in the Lake Superior district. Just how heavily this surplus stock of ore was drawn upon in 1911 it is impossible to state at present, but owing to the increased activity in the manufacture of pig iron toward the close of 1911 it is probable that the 1910 surplus was in part cleaned up and that at the end of 1911 only a relatively small quantity of iron ore remained at the mines.

A Girl's Wild Midnight Ride.

To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives. Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. R. Patterson, Wellington, Tex., "after four in our family had died with consumption. Nothing so sure and safe for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Graham Drug Co."

The Democrats of the House of Representatives plan to eliminate from the next sundry civil appropriation bill the $225,000 appropriation for the President's tariff board, the $75,000 appropriation for the economy commission and the $25,000 appropriation for the President's traveling expenses. This will effect a saving of $325,000 per annum.

Socialists Hold Convention in North Carolina.

Winston-Salem Dispatch, 22.

The Socialist party of North Carolina with representatives from twelve counties, numbering one hundred delegates, in convention here yesterday, was treated to the spectacle of R. H. Hodges, a delegate from Beaufort, shouting that "Socialists will refuse to fight in the next war in which the United States engages regardless of what nation may be the attacking party. We will let the capitalists who caused the war do the fighting for Uncle Sam, if any fighting is to be done."

The declaration was made by several delegates that the Socialists would put out a full ticket in the State at a convention to be held this spring. The opinion was given by some that the fifth district would be their main fighting ground, and J. W. Shields, of Guilford, said that six thousand votes would be cast against the congressional candidate of the Democrats next time. He did not say that the Socialist candidate would get those votes.—L. R. Carter, of New Orleans, an organizer, also spoke.

A Here In A Lighthouse.

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so-called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50c. at Graham Drug Co.

Reorganization of the railway mail service is projected by Postmaster General Hitchcock, who will recommend the plan to Congress. The scheme provides a new system of compensation for employees that provides for promotions based upon efficiency. The salaries will be graded in the same manner as for postoffice clerks and city letter carriers, except that railway postal clerks will receive higher pay. The reclassification of salaries upon the new plan will involve an additional expenditure of about two million dollars.

The house on Georgetown avenue, Washington City, in which Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner, lived, is to be torn down to make room for a business block. In 1907 the Francis Scott Key Memorial Association was formed to raise funds with which to purchase the property and preserve it. The purchase price was $15,000 and the association failed to raise the money. An effort will be made to have Congress appropriate money to remove the building to a park in Washington, where it will be preserved for sight-seers.

Elon College Items.

Cor. of the Gleaner.

The College opened on the third of this month with fifty-two more students present than on any previous opening day after the holidays so far in our history. There was a goodly company of new faces, but the most were of course students here in the fall. This quick return after the holidays is evidence of real, abiding interest in their work on the part of the students and forebodes successful spring term's work.

The College is happy this week despite the inclement weather in the annual series of lectures by non-resident Professor Martyn Summerbell, of Lakemont, N. Y. Dr. Summerbell chose as his field this time the Society of Jesus, or as it is familiarly called "The Jesuits." He treated this difficult and learned theme with a master's grasp and absolutely captivated all who heard him. For Sunday services he gave two invaluable lectures on the "Miracles of the New Testament" and "The Origin and Principles of the Christians." He returns again next year for a series of lectures on the Reformation in England.

Mr. Harrison Thompson, Burlington, N. C., the new Superintendent of the College plant, is taking on to his work in a most satisfactory manner. The series of evangelistic services for this year will begin on January 23 and will be under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Underwood Butler, the noted gospel singers and evangelists.

On the sixteenth instant Dr. Atkinson will deliver a free public lecture on "The Character of Adam Bede." This lecture is well known and is anticipated with much pleasure. The prospects for a baseball team seem bright to Coach Doak. A fine schedule is being arranged. The team is expected to put some genuine good article this time.

As the result of the lynching of a detective who killed a man while he was looking after violators of the prohibition law in Newark, O., near two years ago, one man was convicted of murder in the second degree, 13 for manslaughter, 7 for riot and 9 for assault and battery—30 in all, and 11 men are now serving sentences in the Ohio penitentiary. Which is evidence that lynching in Ohio is not altogether innocent pasture time.

Procrastination. In describing the daily life of a certain distinguished citizen of the republic a writer in the Review of Reviews gives by way of contrast the story that follows: This calls to mind an English humorous writer who sketched out his daily program as follows: Rise at noon, breakfast at 1, a stroll to the club, attention to mail, some afternoon calls, a ride in the park, dinner, a round of evening parties and then to bed.

"But when do you do your literary work?" he was asked. "Why, the next day, of course," was the reply.

The Music in Baltimore. The name of Baltimore undoubtedly has sweet music in it, though our own ears, through long usage, miss the fact. What other city in these states bears a more stately, a more sonorous, a more mellifluous appellation? Philadelphia is cunning; Kansas City is commonplace; New Orleans is constantly and ridiculously mispronounced; Pittsburgh is vulgar; New York is nasal and harsh; Chicago is cacophonous; Boston is bombastic; Cincinnati and Buffalo are absurd. Only Baltimore woos the senses and satisfies the mind—a lovely, a luscious name, a name full of dignity and poetry, a name fit for the habitat of beautiful women and magnificent men.—Baltimore Sun.

Hired Wedding Presents. Did you ever hear of hired wedding presents? Some curious information about them is given by the Paris Excelsior, which declares that wedding presents may be hired for the occasion. The mother who is anxious to make a brave show of presents at her daughter's wedding has only to go to one of the large stores in the opera quarter. There a complete set of presents may be hired. The goods remain under the care of a shopman disguised as a guest. Honor is thus saved, but the journal adds that it is as well when paying a first visit to the young couple not to ask to be shown some of the charming gifts of jewelry exhibited on the wedding day.
