Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts Iv, 8-21. Memory Verses, 12, 13—Golden Text, I Cor. xvi, 13-Commentary Prepare by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The high priest and his kindred, with ing gathered together at Jerusalem, r and John, being brought from on, were placed before them and asked, "By what power or by what name have ye done this?" (verses 5-7.) and the witnesses were all ready. Whether they had much or little sleep in the prison that night we may not know, but we may be quite sure that they had communion with Him for whom they were still on earth. And now Peter, being specially filled with the risen Christ.

The Lord Jesus had told them while He was still with them that when they should be brought before rulers for His sake it would be given them by the Spirit what to say (Math. x, 16-20), and this was one of many fulfillments of that assirance. See with what boldness Peter dells this gathering of arth's great ones that Jesus Christ of Vazareth, whom they crucified, God and raised from the dead and that He, the risen fiving Christ had made the lame man whole (verse 10). This was the same doctrine they had been put in prison for the previous evening, but for this they stood fearlessly and could not say otherwise. The reference to ted stone takes us back to Ps.

xviii, 22; Isa. xxviii, 10, and to our ord's reference to it in Matt. xxi, 42. But the stone takes us farther back o-Gen. xlix, 24, and onward to the kingdom (Dan. it, 84, 35, 45). We cannot but think of I Pet ii, 4-8, where he makes such full reference to the stone and the stones. With what utter disregard of their earthly greatness he said to them, "You builders can never be saved except by that stone which you despise!" (Verses 11, 12.) How could they help marveling at their boldness? But was it not a little strange that they should attribute it to Jesus, who had been crucified? (verse 13). Beholding the healed man and knowing that Peter and John had no power to do this, they must have in a measure convinced that was some truth in their testi-concerning the risen Christ. must not be spread farther, and e name of Jesus must not be men-oned (verses 14-18). Filled with the pirit, they had no fear of what man seen and heard they could not help telling even if they died for it (verses 19, 20). The messenger of God must never consider the faces of people nor whether his message is acceptable to them or not. But his motto must be, "Not pleasing men, but God, who trieth our hearts," remembering that if we live to please men we are not servants of Christ (Jer. 1, 8, 17; Ezek 11, 6: 11, 9: I Thess. 11, 4: Gal. 1, 10). 11, 6; iil, 9; I Thess. 11, 4; Gal. 1, 10).

A national highway system, extending from coast to coast and costing not to exceed $100,000,000, is a new defense suggestion contained in a bill introduced in congress by Representative Stephens of California. The sale of fifty of $20 and multiples is proposed as the

Woman's Municipal League of Ne York City Makes Novel Sugger

"How many trees will your street earn?" says a pamphlet recently isthe Woman's Municipal league of New York city, giving the report of the committee on streets and transit of the league. The report says: "The committee on streets and transhas decided to take up one street in each district and try to make it a odel street. A paid inspector, em ployed by the committee, has already begun on East Seventy-ninth street to visit the janitors in order to inter to visit the janitors in order to inter-est them in keeping their garbage cans covered, not to overfill the cans and to sweep their sidewalks. It has been suggested that the house keep-ing its walk the tidiest should receive a tree as a reward of merit— either a large tree planted perma-nently in front of the house or a small boxwood tree for the front door. We think that a street which has been beautified is likely to be kept more cleanly. The departmen of parks and the department of street cleaning are both very much inter-cated in the scheme, and both wish to co-operate with us. The park de-partment has no money to plant trees, and the league must therefore raise the money for this purpose." topic was the great fact of a risen living Christ, the same Jesus whose eyes are ever looking to find His faithful followers (II Chron. xvi, 9).

The duty of the play leader would be to help all children who play in the street, to direct their play in the most beneficial channels and to guide them when there is opportunity to the nearest public recreation centers. ELECTRIC LIGHTS FOR FARMER

Professor McNair Indorses This Sys-tem of Lighting For Farm Homes. Safety and convenience are impor-tant factors to be considered by those who propose to install an improved lighting system in the home as well as in the outbuildings. With these facts in mind Professor G. B. McNair of the Kansas Agricultural college strongly indorses the electric lighting system for the farm. On this subject he says: Twelveyears ago farm lighting plants were a novelty; today they are rapidly growing in popularity. They are usually operated by a gasoline engine, but in the eastern states and especially in the Appalachian mountains it is not un-common to see water power used for this purpose. Where the people have water power the storage battery is not Boarded Sheep Rack.

A boarded up feeding rack in the sheep lots or pens will prevent dirt and chaff from getting into the wool while the animals are feeding. Diri of this kind in the wool is one of the reasons usually given by buyers for low prices paid. In some instances the chaff and dirt from the racks will work down into the wool, matting it near the hide and causing discomfort to the sheep as well as injury to the wool. Its use means a better looking flock and will also result in saving quite a good deal of feed that is ordi-narily wasted.

First Iron Skates. Skating does not appear always to have been as common an accomplishment as it is nowadays. Iron skates seem to have been introduced by the Dutch, but the art itself was known in London at an early period. The monk, Fitzstephen, who was secretary to Archbishop Becket, describes the bone skates used by Londoners in the twelfth century. But Pepys, writing in 1002, has a reference. "Over the parke," he says, "where I first in my life, it being a great frost, did see people sliding with their signites, which is a very pretty art." From which it is reasonable to infer that skating was not as general these as later or Mr Pepys would not have missed it.

"Eating Crow."

The term "eating crow" comes from an ante-Revolutionary story. A soldier of an English regiment stationed in Virginia shot a pet crow belonging to a farmer. The latter entered a complaint with the colonel, who sentenced the soldier to eat the crow. The farmer was left alone with the soldier to see that he did it. After the soldier had consumed a portion of the bird he took his gun, presented it at the farmer and told him to eat the remainder of the crow or he would shoot him. This was the origin of the eating crow story.

A pleasing form of address that was common is the seventeenth century has gone quite out of use, probably because of its restriction to "inferior persons." The "Mr." was then a prefix to which only gentlemen were entitled, and among the Puritan fathers of New England the deprivation of the right to be so addressed was inflicted as a punishment. "Goodman" or "Goodwoman," by contraction "Goody," was the address of those low in the social scale. The term is preserved in some old songs.
