State Highway In Alamance Found i

Bad Fix. Last week we mentioned the fact that a committee from the Cham-ber of Commerce of Greensboro was in Graham Thursday morning was in Graham Thursday morning looking over the State Highway through Alamance. The following which appeared in the Greensboro Daily News Friday morning, tells of the condition of the highway, and is not very complimentary to Alamance, and it behooves this county to improve conditions. The Daily News says:

mittee of the good roads oureau of the chamber of comdetailed to investigate the Central Highway to the east of Greensboro spent the greater part of yesterday on the road, be-ing convoyed by C. W. Edwards in his big Cadillac. Rumor had it that the critical points between Greensboro and Durham were to be found, in eastern Alamance, and there had been advice from Mayor W. S. Crawford of Mebane to the effect that it was desirable that all persons interested unite for the purpose of trying to induce the Alamanc rities to complete the stretch of highway between Trolinwood and Mebane. Mr. Crawford wrote to the chamber of commerce and leading business men from Raleigh to Greensboro, along the route asking that they join in a representation before the Alamance county commissioners, a hearing having been arranged for March 6. Mayor Crawford wrote that he had been informed "that the State been informed "that the State highway had withdrawn an appropriation of $20 per mile, for the upkeep of the Mebane-Hillaboro link of the highway on account of the fact that Alamance has not completed the Mebane-Haw River It is bad advertising for our entire section, and many tourists will take other roads in preference if the work is not done." Mayor Crawford said also, "the State at arge, as well as the county, is in-

as it is interested in having a creditable highway from the coast to the mountains."
"We found indications," said service of the good roads here the sentent.

All went merry as a marriage bell when the veil was removed at Ossipee School on last Saturday night as a stage full of fiddlers and banjo pickers pealed forth "Mississippi Sawyer," in concert that made every heart glad and every foot pat as it had never patted before. It was "Ye old time Fiddlers' Convention" staged. The night was fair, pure was the air, and all were there. As a "Little More Cider," "Sindy," "Granny Will Your Dog Bite" "Sugar In The Gourd," and other selections that belong in their class ware sent forth from the vibrating strings on their mission of brating strings on their mission of melody all cares slipped away as silently as the the Arabs with their tents by night. The music held sway, neighbor communed with neighbor, and all the world seemed akin for nearly 2 hours. It was then announced that Mr. Frank Renigar had won 1st prize as fidler, Mr. Eugene Montgomery 2nd place, Mr. Chalmers Hughes banjo prize and Mr. Willie Sartin guitar prize; also that that the pro mounted to $38.60.

A great work for good closed in last Saturday, as wind up day was celebrated which marked the close of the Health Campaign. Dr. Jor dan who conducted the work reac concise but complete report of the work. His complete report of the work. His complete report will be printed elsewhere in our Coun-ty Papers, and every person in the county should read this report. We should not only read but get busy to put into practice his vital instruction. The Altamahaw school won first place as a health day maker and the Burling ton school second place. Miss Chana Browning of the Graham school won first prize in the Health Composition contest and Miss Vera McBane of the Spring school won second place. Mr. E. S. Parker made the address of the day. His remarks were both apday. His remarks were both ap-propriate and good. Several citizens spoke commending the work and the necessity for con-tinuing closely what has so well

A traveling salesman for wholsale grocery firm, recently back from a trip through the rough lands of eastern Pennsylvania, tells this possibly true tale, says the New York Sun:

"One day on my last trip I had a six-mile ride to make to the county seat, and the small village in which I was had only one horse that I could hire and no other form of conveyance. I may say that a friend had landed me in the town that morning from his car and I had sold goods enough to pay the expenses of the trip. "Well, I got away on the s riest specimen of a horse I ever straddled and I was to send him back by the mail carrier, though not as a parcel post package. It took me two hours to cover the distance—I was sorry enough I hadn't walked—and as I passed the county jail on my old bag of bones a face grinned at me from between the bars of a small square window. I was too sore to smile but I nodded to the grin, and the risoner called to me:

"'Say, mister,' he said, 'how'd you like to trade that critter for 30 days in jail?'
"Just then I would have been glad enough to have traded, but the law wouldn't let me, and I rode on."
