

Raleigh News Letter

Special Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., April 18.—That Roosevelt will be the nominee of both the Bull Moose and the regular Republican national conventions at Chicago two months hence is the growing belief of the more or less expert political prognosticators who abound quadrennially at the State capital. The recent espousal of Teddy's cause by the New York Tribune lends additional suspicion that the old party elephant is blowing the wind decidedly in that direction. In that eventuality it will be interesting to observe just how "prominent" will be the part played by Marijn Butler in the conduct of the national campaign in North Carolina—in view of that telegram from "T. R.'s" best friend, George Perkins, repudiating Butler's assumed championship of the doughty Colonel's cause which ex-Congressman Cowles carried on the inside vest-pocket of his political garments while the recent Republican State convention was in session in Raleigh.

Many Democrats express the belief that Wilson can beat Roosevelt more easily than he could Hughes or some possible lesser light, while others hold to the contrary view. However that may be, all good Democrats will unite in the effort to re-elect President Wilson and they will do so strong in the belief that the country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, recognizing the wisdom of his sane and safe administration, will give it hearty endorsement. But there is one thing that looks pretty certain—with Teddy in the race there will be some spectacular carryings-on for the four or five months in which the people of the United States will be called upon to devote considerable of their time in selecting our next President.

The Asylum Management Investigation.

As an editorial writer on the Raleigh Times (who has been absent from this State while engaged in work in several other States for a few years, until recently) indicates that the public might like to know whether the gentleman referred to in these Letters last week as having been "formerly connected with an asylum for the insane" was a patient or employee—he is herewith informed that he was neither. But he was for many years an official and a competent and faithful one.

And what is more—he is one of the most reputable, honorable and respected native citizens of North Carolina, and the reference to him in that paper is quite worthy the writer of it. The other portion of the editorial isn't worth very much, especially to the Central Hospital for the Insane, for which, and its continued and expanding usefulness to the unfortunate wards of the State, these Letters hold the warmest of best wishes and have never entertained a captious spirit of criticism of its management.

The Political Thermometer.

Among the candidates qualifying Saturday for the State primary was Corporation Commissioner Lee. The "rotation" scheme would seem to apply to him with less force than to any of the other present officials, as he is now serving his first term and those in close touch with the work of the Commission say that he is the right man in the right place—a successful business man. The other two members of the Commission, Messrs. Travis and Pell are law ers, and good ones. After filing his notice of entry Commissioner Lee made a brief statement of his candidacy, in which he said:

"It is generally accepted as wise policy to renominate an official who has given faithful and efficient service and it is practical in the universal Democratic custom. The Commission should at all times have in its membership a man of mature business experience. I have given to the office during my first term the same careful attention that in my 30 years of business experience I gave to my private business. I wish to assure those friends who have assured me of their support and all other Democrats who give me their support in the primary of my sincere appreciation."

As the time approaches for the meeting of the Democratic State Convention, April 27, the zeal of the party workers and the average good citizen grows apace. The getting together here on that occasion of so many of the friends of the several candidates for the leading State offices will be one of the features of that week.

At Bickett headquarters in Louisburg Manager Bruce White is reported to be pegging a long with the usual assurance of the Bickett followers.

Gov. Daughtridg's friends here are now emphasizing their previous declaration that they have the winning candidate and say that the way his cause has been and is growing day by day will show the truthfulness of their prediction when the home-stretch is reached.

The rotation in office for rotation's sake is still regarded as rank heresy hereabouts. With Insurance Commissioner "Dick" Young not having even a suspected competitor, and Treasurer Lacy (the senior office-holder of 'em all) with "no opposition to speak of," the friends of that equally competent and experienced and faithful state officer Secretary of State Grimes are denying any good reason why

To the Democratic Voters of Alamance County.

I take this means of announcing the fact that I shall be a candidate for the State Senate in the coming Primary. In this connection I desire to thank the Democratic party for the honor it conferred upon me in electing me to the House of Representatives in 1911 and 1913. I shall appreciate your support.

he should vacate to make way for a gentleman who has continuously held (and is still holding) office longer than he has. The Grimes people are certainly putting up a bold front of assurance and it is reasonable to believe that they have ground for the spirit of confidence which characterizes their demeanor and utterances.

A. And M. College Presidency.

The selection of a new president of the State A. and M. College at Raleigh, which the board of trustees now have under consideration, is enlisting much interest. Prof. W. C. Kiddick of the A. and M. faculty is regarded as one of the most likely possibilities, but there are a dozen available and receptive candidates either one of which would fill the bill creditably. Land Sale!

By virtue of an order of the Superior Court of Alamance County made in the Special Proceeding entitled H. J. Stockard and A. G. Porterfield Administrators of the estate of Y. B. Warren, deceased, and the tract known as the Burch, Myrtle Bar h and others, defendant, the undersigned as Commissioners will offer for sale to the highest bidder the following very valuable tracts of land situated in Alamance County, N. C., in Faucette's township. The sale will take place at the place of the late Y. B. Warren at two o'clock p. m., on SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1916.

The first tract to be sold is the one on which J. A. Grahm now resides, adjoining the lands of J. Q. Gant, R. T. Kennodde, Y. B. Warren home tract and the tract known as the BEAL tract and contains 105.5 acres, more or less.

The second tract known as the Beal tract, adjoining the Burch tract, the lands of R. T. Kennodde, the Y. B. Warren home tract, L. E. Walker, J. Q. Gant and others and contains 122.5 acres, more or less. The above named two tracts will be first offered separately, and then as one tract, and the bid for the greater sum will be reported.

The third tract and the fourth comprise the A. S. Dickey tract which is divided into two tracts. The third tract adjoins the lands of L. H. Aldred, the heirs of the late R. J. Garrison, A. G. Porterfield and others and contains 108 acres, more or less.

The fourth tract adjoins the third tract, the lands of E. W. G. Allen, R. T. Kennodde, A. G. Porterfield and others and contains 27 acres, more or less. These two tracts will also be offered separately and then as one tract, and the greater bid will be reported.

These farms comprise all of the lands of the late Y. B. Warren, except the home place, and on each of them are good improvements and cultivated lands of various crops and very fine for tobacco. The lands are sold for partition amongst the heirs-at-law of the late Y. B. Warren. The terms of sale are one-third cash, one-third due in six months and one-third due in twelve months from date of sale. The deferred payments to bear interest from date of sale, sale subject to confirmation of the court and twenty days from date of report of sale open for advance bids of ten per cent.

Plans can be seen by applying to the Commissioners and will be present on day of sale. April 24th, 1916
