DEMOCRATS NAME 1912 TICKET

Wilson and Marshall Unanimously Renominated.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN HALL

Platform Scores "Hyphen" Plotters and Declares "Americanism" is the Leading Issue—Favors Keeping Troops in Mexico, But Against Intervention.

Before adopting a platform the Democratic national convention in St. Louis unanimously nominated Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, for president of the United States and Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, for vice president.

Judge John W. Westcott, of Haddon field, N. J., who made the speech nominating President Wilson in Baltimore, four years ago, performed the same service in a speech of remarkable power.

Following Wilson's nomination, John W. Kern presented to the convention the name of Thomas R. Marshall for vice president.

Vance C. McCormick, of Harrisburg, head of the victorious Democratic re-nomination of Woodrow Wilson in Pennsylvania, was announced as the choice of President Wilson and the Democratic national committee, for the most important post of chairman of the committee.

The convention during the session re-elected its approving President Wilson's conduct of foreign affairs which has kept the country at peace with one demonstration after another. When Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, as permanent chairman, recounted the diplomatic achievements of the president in the negotiation with Germany the convention launched into an eighteen-minute uproar of marching, cheering and waving of flags, in which former Secretary of State William J. Bryan, from his seat in the press section, joined.

William A. Glasgow, of Philadelphia, chairman of the committee on rules, smashed the silly conspiracy of St. Louis politicians, hotelkeepers and brewers to keep the convention at work until Saturday night.

Mr. Glasgow's chief contention was that it would be impossible to hold the delegates in session in person in the poor politics to make the nominations with empty seats. The New York delegation, he said, would leave for home, regardless of when the nominations were made.

A. Mitchell Palmer, of Stroudsburg, Pa., apparently by his fight against Senator Stone in the Senate, introduced a plank declaring against the elevation of the supreme court justices to the presidency.

The Pennsylvania delegation, acting in caucus as a unit, killed the renomination of Roger Sullivan, the Chicago lawyer for vice president in the world in referring settled peace and justice. In this connection a significant passage promulgates the belief that every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which they shall live and that the small states of the world must have their rights respected.

Intervention, it is declared, is revolting to the American people, notwithstanding the great provocation. In connection with the Mexican policy, Democratic adherence to the Monroe doctrine is reasserted.

The European war is the inspiration for another pregnant declaration while the Democratic party has followed the path of neutrality, it is set forth that new conditions have made it necessary for the nation to safeguard its interest abroad and in the interests of humanity to adapt the world to the present and the future.

When the roll was called for nominations for president the vice president to New Jersey and Judge Westcott stepped to the platform to nominate President Wilson amid a storm of applause.

At the conclusion of Judge Westcott's speech the delegates and the thousands of spectators in the galleries leaped to their feet and cheered wildly. Hats were tossed and thousands of flags waved over the heads of the delegates below. With the band playing patriotic airs and in the storm of cheers the delegates led by those from New Jersey began marching toward the convention hall.

The supreme issue of today, in American politics and American life is the "assertion and triumphant demonstration of the indivisibility of coherent strength of the nation," according to the platform.

Stripped of the verbiage, the declaration means plain Americanism, or anti-hyphenism, and the platform mimes no words in its ringing call for the support of this principle.

The anti-hyphen plank condemns all group activity tending to weaken the diplomatic strength of the nation or to cripple the industries in favor of some foreign country as subversive.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson XIII.—Second Quarter, For June 25, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Phil. 1, 1-11; 1-19—Quarterly Review—Golden Text, Phil. 1, 8.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

LESSON I.—The conversion of Saul, Acts ix, 1-11, 17-19. Golden Text, I Tim. 1, 15, "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief." That God should choose such a vessel for such a purpose is to us a very great mystery, but we know that His way is perfect, and it was a foreshadowing of the conversion of Israel as a nation by His appearing to them in glory, when they shall become a nation of Pauls, with all his zeal.

LESSON II.—Aeneas and Dorcas, Acts ix, 32-43. Golden Text, Tit. ii, 7. "In all things showing thyself an example of good works." The result of these two miracles of health to Aeneas and Dorcas (which was no gain to her) was that many turned to the Lord and believed in Him and thus helped to complete His kingdom, the church, the one only thing worth living for.

LESSON III.—Peter and Cornelius, Acts x, 1-16. Golden Text, Rom. x, 12, "The same Lord is Lord of all and is rich unto all that call upon Him." Because of the Easter lesson next week we take the whole chapter and see a Gentle household, with kindness and fraternal feeling and receiving the word of the Lord, and in Him forgiveness and the gift of the Holy Spirit (verses 24, 44). Note the agents.

LESSON IV.—The risen Christ, I Cor. xv, 1-11. Golden Text, I Cor. xv, 20, "Now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep." Our salvation and the world in it depend upon a risen Christ who waits for a company of people in redeemed bodies like His own. Then shall He begin His reign on earth, and we shall reign with Him till He hath subdued all things unto Himself.

LESSON V.—Peter delivered from prison, Acts xii, 1-19. Golden Text, I Cor. xii, 7, "The angel of Jehovah came down upon them that they should be delivered from prison, and the gift of the Holy Spirit (verses 24, 44). Note the agents.

M'CORMICK TO RUN CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg Man Selected by President

Vance McCormick, of Pennsylvania, has been selected by President Wilson to succeed William F. McCombs as chairman of the Democratic national committee.

It is believed that Mr. McCormick will be able to solidify the party and harmonize different elements. The president looks upon him as progressive and thoroughly in harmony with his ideas in the coming campaign. The Democratic national committee elects its chairman, but there is no doubt the president's choice will be formally ratified.

Mr. McCormick announced several weeks ago that he would not undertake the direction of the campaign this year, and party leaders have been awaiting with keen interest the president's selection of a man for the task.

MAKING STATE ROADS SAFER

A bill authorizing the purchase of parcels of land at highway intersections on the house calendar is of interest to all travelers on the state roads. Any reasonable plan for improving the safety of these roads has the approval of real estate in the country towns, outside the villages, is inexpensive. The cost of eliminating right angle turns should not be excessive, and the gain in safety will be appreciable. Many accidents have occurred at these abrupt turns, particularly where the dangerous conditions were not revealed by lights.

At such points the best remedy is in the relocation of the highway lines, and it may be said that the remedy is to have a road worth more than the price of a few square feet of uncultivated farm land.—Providence Journal.

Descended From the Crusaders.

The Touaregs, a Sahara desert tribe, whose members wear veils so continually that near relatives are said not to recognize each other if the garment in question happens to be removed, are direct descendants of a party of crusaders who were lost on the way to conquer Jerusalem and Mecca.—Detroit Free Press.

Pined Him Financially.

An esteemed citizen went into a shoe store in a metropolitan town and asked to see some leather goods. Another minute an obliging salesman was hauling out some boxes.

"That's a nice looking shoe," remarked the customer as the salesman pushed his foot into a shiny right and started to lace it. "What is the price?"

"This pair is $8," responded the salesman as he finished the lacing and ran his hand across the vamp. "Does it pinch you any?"

"Well, I should say that it does" was the prompt rejoinder of the customer. "Give me something about $5 cheaper."

Renominated by the Democrats for Vice President.

Reach Eight-Hour Agreement. Three thousand miners of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, at Pottsville, Pa., were directed to return to work. It is believed the numerous strikes in the lower anthracite region will be called off as a result of the company and the miners' leaders reaching an understanding on the interpretation of the eight-hour work-day clause.

Donald McLean Arrested. Donald McLean, formerly an attorney of New York city, and husband of the late president of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was arrested by Bruchey, chief of police in Frederick, Md., at the instigation of a New York detective bureau. He is charged with larcenies amounting to $8000. He was released for a hearing under $2000 bond.

Would Hold Judges on Bench. A constitutional amendment to disqualify federal judges from holding any elective office for at least two years after leaving the bench was introduced by Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado. Two weeks ago he made a speech in the senate deprecating the efforts to nominate Justice Hughes as a presidential candidate.

Asks $3750 for Finger. Just $3750 per finger was demanded of the Pennsylvania Railroad company by George E. Fornwalt, a former employe, in an action for damages filed in Harrisburg, Pa. Fornwalt says two of his fingers were crushed at No. 2 roundhouse while he was drilling a drill press on June 14, 1914, and he wants $7500 damages.

P. Morgan & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co. and Lee, Higginson & Co.

New Device to Stop Ship Collisions. Waynesville Postoffice Contract. Washington.—The treasury department has awarded the contract for the construction of the Waynesville, N. C., postoffice building to Algonquin Blair of Montgomery, Ala. The building will cost $52,780, and the contract calls for its completion within four months. Work on the building is to begin at once.

Allegheny Votes Railroad Bonds. Stateville.—The bond election held in Allegheny county Saturday to decide the question of an additional issue of $60,000 in bonds for the Elkins and Allegheny Railroad, was decided in favor of the issue. The bonds were voted with the understanding that the railroad would be extended across the county, a distance of 30 miles. Bonds to the amount of $40,000 had been previously voted by the county for the railroad and the $60,000 just voted brings Allegheny's stock in the company up to $100,000.

Rain Hata in Korea. Korea is a country of strange head-dresses, but perhaps the most curious headgear of all are the immense ruffs worn by the farmers' wives while working in the fields during the rainy season. These extraordinary coverings are often as much as seven feet long and five feet broad and protect the head so effectively as any umbrella could do.

Different Ceremony. "He slept well and ate a hearty breakfast, apparently, wholly unconscious of his fate. He was attired in the conventional black and—"

"What hour did they electrocute him?"

"Electrocute him? They don't electrocute a man for getting married. He was the groom, not a criminal!"—Pack.

Long Time Arriving. "Some stars are so far away that the light from them hasn't reached us yet. But it will arrive eventually."

"Reminds me of my hired man coming from the postoffice," commented Farmer Heck.—Exchange.

K. OF P. ADJOURN ANNUAL MEETING

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED. McBRIDE HOLT, OF GRAHAM, GRAND CHANCELLOR.

HOLLAND DECLINES HONOR

Grand Lodge Abolishes the System of District Deputies and Employs State Organizer.

Waynesville.—With the selection of officers for the coming year, and the choice of Rocky Mount as the next convention city, the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias at recess ended its work for the session. Installation of officers, final reports from standing committees and various odds and ends of unfinished business were transacted at the closing session.

When the election of officers was called Grand Vice Chancellor A. H. Holland of Winston-Salem was about to receive the unanimous vote of the Grand Lodge for grand chancellor when he arose to decline the honor, worthily earned. On account of the condition of his health, he stated, he could not possibly serve the order. McBride Holt of Graham was thereupon elected grand chancellor. "Hold the Holt" was adopted as the slogan for the year, amid cheers.

Other officers are Grand Chancellor Rev. Byron Clark of Salisbury, Grand Prelate Rev. R. B. Owen of Rocky Mount, re-elected. Grand Keeper of records and seal W. T. Holloway, re-elected; Master of Exchequer George W. Montcastle of Lexington, who was appointed to this place at the death of John C. Mills of Rutherfordton recently; Master at Arms C. G. Sasser of Mount Olive; Inner Guard W. W. Branch of Rhodius; Outer Guard E. M. Grier of Canton.

As supreme representative to succeed Alf S. Bernard of Asheville, who has removed from the state, Thomas H. Webb, of Duke, was elected.

The Grand Lodge abolished the system of district deputies and decided upon the employment of a state organizer to work in conjunction with the grand chancellor. The Pythian Home at Clayton, High Point and Rocky Mount extended invitations for the next Grand Lodge, and it required a second ballot to decide, Rocky Mount winning by 68 to 36 over High Point.

Textile Convention At Asheville. Asheville.—With over 400 delegates in attendance, the ninth annual convention of the Southern Textile Association opened here with President W. M. Sherard of Wilkesboro, S. C., presiding. The meeting was marked by the address of President Sherard, in which he referred to pending Federal and State legislation regulating the hours of children in textile mills and the need of a rigidly-enforced compulsory education law, and by the address of Gordon Cobb of Inman, S. C., in which the speaker stressed the fact that increased efficiency in the mills must come from its operatives and not from improved machinery.

After a warm discussion the association voted to continue its semi-annual sessions to hold the November meeting at Columbia, S. C., while the spring meeting will be held at the Isle of Palms, S. C.

The committee on organization reported favorably on the establishment of a permanent textile exposition at Greenville, S. C., and the exposition will open there during the fall of 1917. Practically all of the $75,000 necessary for the exposition has been subscribed.

The delegates were given a smoker and dance at the Langren Hotel, and a drive through Blittmore estate.
