

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caton, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me to a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

URGES MOOSE TO SUPPORT HUGHES

Roosevelt Finally Declines Progressive Nomination.

PARKER FIGHTS SEGREY

Progressive Nominee for Vice President Quits National Committee Meeting When Newspaper Men Are Barred.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, in a letter sent to the Progressive national committee, in Chicago, declined the party's nomination for the presidency, strongly endorsing Charles E. Hughes, and urged "unshrinking" support of the Republican nominee by the Progressives.

It is impossible for the Progressives to abandon their convictions, he says, but these convictions can be furthered more by electing Hughes than by supporting a third party ticket, which would give an easy victory to the Democrats.

The present administration, he charges, "has been guilty of shortcomings more signal than those of any administration since the days of Buchanan."

As to the German-American Alliance's support of Mr. Hughes, Mr. Roosevelt says he believed their attitude is due, "not in the least to any liking for Mr. Hughes, but solely to their antagonism to the present administration."

Most Americans of German ancestry are loyal citizens, he asserts, but the professional German-Americans "are acting purely in the sinister interest of Germany."

In his tribute to Mr. Hughes the colonel says: "We are in favor of continuing in office an administration which has proved a lamentable failure or of putting into office an administration which we have every reason to believe will function with efficiency for the interest and honor of all our people."

During the meeting of the committee, Bainbridge Colby nominated Victor Murdock, of Kansas, for president. In a heated debate that followed, Colby called Raymond Robins a liar. Robins had intimated that Colby had given a pledge to support Wilson after Roosevelt had been withdrawn from the race.

Dying Mother Asked Son to Enlist. In compliance with his mother's deathbed request, Willis Brattman, nineteen years old, has enlisted in Company F, Third Infantry, at Mellina.

The mother, when told by a physician she was dying, called the youth to her and bade him enlist and return to her in uniform. This he did, having obtained a leave of absence for two days when he explained the circumstances.

An uncle of the boy, whose name she refused to give for personal reasons, is high in United States army circles, he asserts. Since the lad's action has been made public at Mellina other youths have flocked to enlist.

Virginia Bank Robbed. The Bank of Crockett, at Crockett, seven miles west Wytheville, Va., on the Norfolk and Western railway, was robbed by two strangers, who, on entering, covered the cashier, Arthur Housh, and a patron of the bank, Roy Groseclose, with guns.

The robbers forced the cashier and Groseclose to go into the vaults and remain until the robbery was completed.

Four thousand dollars was obtained. The bandits then got away in an automobile stolen from a neighboring farmer after tying him to a tree.

New Naval Program. A building program including four superdreadnaughts and four battle cruisers for the coming year was agreed upon by the senate naval subcommittee after a conference with Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Rear Admirals Taylor and Bliss.

The subcommittee also decided to recommend an increase of 20,700 in the enlisted strength of the navy, bringing the total up to 74,700.

Makes Record for Berries. All previous records for shipments of strawberries from Federalburg, Md., have been broken this year, as there have been shipped seventy-five carloads, or 600,000 quarts. The price averaged 7½ cents a quart, which means $45,000 for the growers, while the pickers shared $9,000.

$1,000,000 Lost by Rain. As a result of the heavy rain storm at Kalamazoo, Mich., dams at the Bryan and Monarch Paper mills burst. Twenty-six blocks in the residence district were flooded. Damage is estimated at $1,000,000. There were no casualties.

Hail Damages Maryland Crops. The crops of Caroline county, Md., were damaged hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth by recent hailstorms. The greatest destruction occurred Wednesday and Wednesday night.

U. S. Orders 67,000 Horses. In submitting an amendment to add $3,000,000 to the pending army appropriation bill for the purchase of horses, Mr. Hay, chair man of the military committee, announced that the war department already had ordered 67,000 horses in preparation for Mexican service. The amendment was adopted.

COTTAGE WITH AN UP TO DATE PIAZZA

Design 1019, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

This cottage plan provides for a large piazza, screened in for summer use. The living room is entered through the vestibule, with the coat closet at the left. This room has a doorway leading to the second story. Between the living room and dining room is a bookcase archway. In the dining room is a large buffet, with windows above. The kitchen has ample space for built-in cupboards; pantry in the rear. Size, 20 feet wide by 30 feet deep, exclusive of projections. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, about $3,100.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will furnish a copy of Saxton's book of plans, "American Dwellings," which contains over 300 designs costing from $1,000 to $5,000; also a book of interiors, $1 per copy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson I.—Third Quarter, For July 2, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xvii, 1-15. Memory Verses, 11, 12—Golden Text, Acts vi, 31—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In the lesson of two weeks ago we saw Paul and Silas leaving Philippian for the night of wonderful events. Before they departed they comforted the household of Lydia and the brethren, who had no doubt been much in prayer for them (chapter xvi, 40). He would no doubt comfort them, as he did in his letter to them, by the assurance that all that had happened had fallen out rather into the furtherance of the gospel, and as his great desire was "by all means to save some" he could and did rejoice in spite of all his sufferings and shameful treatment (Phil. i, 12, 18; 1 Cor. ix, 23).

His next place of testimony was Thessalonica, where in the Jewish synagogue for three Sabbath days he reasoned with them out of the Scriptures, working between times at his trade night and day that he might not be any expense to them (Thess. ii, 8, 9). The gospel he preached was in the power of the Holy Spirit, for he spoke not as pleasing men, but God, who trieth our hearts, and they received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth the word of God, and it effectually worked in those who believed, leading them to turn to God from idols to serve the living and true God, and to wait for His Son from heaven, who had delivered them from the wrath to come (1 Thess. i, 9, 10; ii, 13). Judging from the two epistles to the Thessalonians, probably the first that Paul wrote, we cannot help but think that he must have been instructed in the coming again of the Lord Jesus, both His coming for and His coming with His saints (1 Thess. i, 9, 10; ii, 13; 1 Cor. xv, 23).

Then in his second epistle he cleared up for them some difficulties which they had concerning His coming in glory and the great and dreadful day of the Lord. The effect of this sadly neglected but glorious doctrine is always, as I have seen it for over forty years, to make people more eager to tell out the glad tidings and to labor more earnestly to bring the kingdom (1 Thess. i, 3, 8). In verse 3 of our lesson we note that Paul opened to them the word concerning the necessity that the Messiah should suffer and rise again from the dead, but can you teachers who read this do that?

Do you see the promise of a deliverer and the way of salvation and the assurance of resurrection glory in Gen. iii, 15, 21, 22? Do you see the death and resurrection of Christ foreshadowed in the story of Isaac in Gen. xxii? Do you see it in Ex. xii, Lev. xvi and xvii? Have you seen His sufferings, as if written by one who saw it all in His own person (John ix, 42)? Believe that He will never be well established nor grow as they should unless they hear God speak to their own hearts directly from His own word. Our hearts should say, "I will hear what God the Lord will speak;" then His message will come expressly to us, as it did to Ezekiel (Ezek. i, 3). In verses 4, 12 we read of some results at Thessalonica and Berea. At the former place some believed and of the devout Greeks a great multitude and of the chief women not few; at the latter many believed, also some honorable women who were Greeks and of men not a few.

The results in every place are briefly summed up in chapter xxviii, 24. "Some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not." We will always find the four kinds of soil of the parable of the sower, but whether results are great or small or adverse we should never be discouraged, for He is not, and His word will not fail to accomplish His pleasure, whether for life or death, but He is not willing that any should perish (Isa. xli, 10; 1 Pet. iii, 9).

The adverse results at these two places are seen in verses 5 to 7, 13. When anything is accomplished for God the devil is ever ready to oppose and blind and deceive, and so it will be till he shall be shut up in the pit (Rev. xx). Being persecuted, Paul and his friends brought him to Athens, leaving Silas and Timothy at Berea. But Paul sent back word by his conductors that they should come to him with all speed (verses 14, 15). "True believers should be able to say, 'Truly our fellowship is with the Father and with His Son, Jesus Christ,' yet the fellowship of human beings who can say so with us is often very refreshing. On one occasion Paul wrote, 'God, who comforteth those who are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus.' And again, 'I had no rest in my spirit because I found not Titus, my brother' (1 John i, 3; 11 Cor. ii, 13; vii, 6).

23 TROOPERS WERE SLAIN

Captain Morey, Wounded in Carrizal Fight, Is Rescued.

Twenty-three American soldiers are known to have lost their lives on the battlefield at Carrizal, according to a report to Brigadier General John J. Pershing from Major Jenkins, commanding the Eleventh Cavalry command, ordered to scour the country in the vicinity for survivors.

The report told of the rescue in after of Captain Lewis S. Morey, after he had made a daring start in the face of heavy Mexican odds and heroic personal sacrifices, in an effort to save the lives of his men. Major Jenkins said he had evidence that nine American troopers, in addition to those previously reported dead, had been killed.

Captain Morey was brought to Carrizal in a motor car. He is in splendid condition physically considering the privation he endured before he was found. His wounds were treated, and it is believed he will be on his feet again in a day or two.

A note found on the body of Captain Charles T. Boyd, the American commander, who lost his life in a charge on the Mexican machine gun trench, proved that General Felix Gomez the Mexican commander, invited him into the town of Carrizal, and that he had refused, and afterward conferred with Gomez outside the town.

Neither the note-book of Captain Boyd nor that of Captain Morley, both of which they recovered, threw any new light on the clash, according to the report. After General Pershing said forty-three members of the command engaged had been counted, he said that one other was known to be alive, but is lost in the desert. The remainder of the eighty-four men who made up the detachment are believed to have been killed or made prisoner.

AUSTRIA INVADED

Russian Troops Cross Carpathians Into Transylvania.

Russian troops have crossed the Carpathian mountains into Transylvania, it is stated in official dispatches received from the headquarters of General Brudhoff.

Austrian frontier forces defending the Carpathian passes were hurled back by the relentless sweep of the Russians and are again in retreat.

The penetration of Transylvania (the plains of Hungary lying west of the Carpathians) is the most serious blow struck at Austria-Hungary since the war began. During their offensive in the winter of 1914-1915, the Russians got no farther than the mountain wall. But now, with the way open into the Hungarian plains, the Russians are in a position to menace Budapest.

TO CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

Mr. Wilson Will Issue Appeal for 250,000 Soon After War Begins.

The plan of campaign which the United States will pursue in case of war with Mexico is understood to call for 250,000 volunteers in addition to the regular army and the state troops. It is said that the president will issue the call for volunteers shortly after the outbreak of hostilities.

The campaign in a general way will then be carried out in two distinct phases. First, will come the establishment of an effective defensive, destined particularly to protect the border, while the state troops and volunteers are being brought into shape.

Second will be what army officers describe as the "cleaning up" phase of the campaign, when all is ready for an advance calculated to subjugate speedily the country. This latter phase, it is explained, would probably not start in earnest until autumn.

CONNECTICUT TROOPS OFF FOR BORDER

The national guard of the state of Connecticut was the first to leave for the Mexican border, according to a telegram received at the headquarters of Major General Wood, commanding the department of the east. The contingent, comprising virtually all the units of the state's militia, left on a special train of eight sections.

PRESIDENT PLEASED.

The President expressed his appreciation of the announcement of the business houses throughout the country that their employees would be permitted to serve with the National Guard without loss of salaries or positions. Several employers have sent such announcements direct to the White House. To one New York company whose offer reached him he wrote:

"The patriotic response of the business men of America in the present unusual circumstances of the country has been what I personally, confidently expected it would be, and it affords me genuine pleasure to have this opportunity to express my admiration and gratification."

Boyd, I came under Captain Boyd's command and marched my troop in rear for Carrizal at 4:15 a. m., reaching open field to southeast of town at 6:30 a. m.

"Captain Boyd sent in a note requesting permission to pass through the town. This was refused. Stated we could go to the north, but not east. Captain Boyd said he was going to Ahumada at this time.

"He was talking with Carranza commander. General Gomez sent a written message that Captain Boyd could bring his force in town and have a conference. Captain Boyd feared an ambush. He was under the impression that the Mexicans would run as soon as we fired.

"We formed for attack, his intention being to move up to the line of about 120 Mexicans on the edge of the town. We formed C Troop on the left in line with skirmishers, one platoon of K Troop platoon on extreme right, achieved a little to the rear.

OPENED FIRE AT 300 YARDS.

"When we were within 300 yards the Mexicans opened fire and a strong one before we fired a shot; then we opened up. They did not run. To make a long account short, after about an hour's fire in which both troops had advanced C Troop to position of Mexican Bay, while K Troop closed in slightly to the left. We were very busy on the right, keeping off a flank attack. A group of Mexicans left town, went around our rear and led our horses off at a gallop.

"About 9 o'clock one platoon of K Troop which was on our right fell back. Sergeant said he could not stay. Both platoons fell back about 1,000 yards to the west and then together with some men of C Troop who were there these men scattered.

"I was slightly wounded. Captain Boyd, a man told me, was killed. Nothing was seen of Lieutenant Adair after fight started, so men I saw stated.

"I hid in a hole 2,000 yards from field and have since. I was wounded man and three men with me.

"Morey, captain."

COMMENT BY PERSHING.

In transmitting Captain Morey's letter General Pershing said:

"The three men referred to by Morey are the three men who had above message in their possession. The wounded man was from C Troop shot through the knee. Lieutenant Meyer reports that the three men were rather vague as to where they had left Captain Morey, but stated that on the night of the twenty-first they carried him two miles, that Morey became weak, could not go further and told them to leave. Meyer reconnoitered 20 miles east of Santa Maria, but found nothing. Out of grain and forage, horses in bad shape, had to return."

Colonel Stanley received orders to go into the open market and buy at the lowest price anything needed. Shoes are needed more than anything else, he said, but it was stated there was little likelihood of any adequate supply being available in less than thirty days.
