

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places. When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health. It has benefited thousands and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you. You can't make a mistake in taking

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything." Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

Has Helped Thousands.

AFTER JERSEY SHARKS

Dynamiting Creek for Man-Eater; Fishing for Monsters.

Photo by American Press Association.

REFUSE TO LET CASTRO ENTER U.S.

The Board of Inquiry Orders Him Deported.

HAS A PRIVATE HEARING

Wife of the Former President of Venezuela Also Is Excluded From the Country.

General Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, and his wife, arrived at New York from Port of Spain, Trinidad, on the steamship Vauban, were ordered deported from the United States by a special board of inquiry at the Ellis Island immigration station.

The hearing, which lasted fifty minutes, was private. The charge against General Castro was said to involve moral turpitude. The order as applied to Mrs. Castro was characterized as technical.

General and Mrs. Castro, who had been permitted to spend the night on board the Vauban, are detained at Ellis Island.

After similar action was taken against General Castro on his former wife, arrived at New York from Port of Spain, Trinidad, on the steamship Vauban, were ordered deported from the United States by a special board of inquiry at the Ellis Island immigration station.

The hearing, which lasted fifty minutes, was private. The charge against General Castro was said to involve moral turpitude. The order as applied to Mrs. Castro was characterized as technical.

General and Mrs. Castro, who had been permitted to spend the night on board the Vauban, are detained at Ellis Island.

SHARK'S VICTIM FOUND

Lester Stillwell's Torn Body Recovered from Matawan Creek.

The body of Lester Stillwell, twelve-year-old victim of a man-eating shark, was recovered from the waters of the Matawan creek, at Matawan, N. J., by Harry Van Cleave, an engineer on the Jersey Central railroad, and William H. Clayton, Jr., who had been patrolling the bank of the creek, saw the body rise to the surface not more than 300 feet from where Stillwell was attacked Wednesday.

The right and left breasts had been badly torn. Apparently the shark had bitten at the flesh several times. An other gaping hole was torn in the boy's abdomen. The fish from the calf of the leg was missing from the bones.

KILL JAILKEEPER AND ESCAPE

Two Gunmen Fire on Warden, Seize Keys and Flee.

Two gunmen serving sentences in the Camden, N. J., jail lured the keeper of the prison to their cell and when he entered shot him to death and escaped by using his keys to open the iron-barred doors that had barred their progress.

Another keeper tried to stop them and both convicts fired at him with revolvers which were taken into their possession. This keeper is said to be dying.

The dead man is Isaac Hibbs, chief jailer. He was killed almost instantly by three bullet wounds in the abdomen caused his death. The dying man is Joseph Ellis.

One of the gunmen is Wilson C. Ash bridge, who murdered Mabel Dunbar in a chorus in Camden. The other is Frank Murphy, alias George Thompson, in jail for issuing fraudulent checks.

Word of the shooting was sent to police headquarters by Ellis, who crawled to a telephone, although mortally wounded, and talked to the detectives in charge.

This is Ellis, keeper at the jail, he said. "Two prisoners killed Hibbs and escaped. They shot me, too."

Alarms were telephoned to all the outlying districts in Camden, and the police of Philadelphia were notified to be on the lookout for any persons who resembled the two escaped convicts.

"Take no chances," were the orders issued. "Shoot at sight if they make any suspicious moves."

Policemen in automobiles and others on motorcycles took up the chase after the gunmen, but no leads have been found to their whereabouts. It is believed they are still in the city, however, as the ways of egress were as carefully guarded.

Kills Himself When Jilted

Despondent because he saw Miss Margaret Snyder, a girl with whom he had been keeping company walking with another young man Maylin Weidman, twenty-one year old, of Enola, Pa., shot himself on Saturday night and died in the hospital. Myrtle followed Miss Snyder and her companion, and when they reached the United Brethren church, he fired a bullet into his head.

Man Killed by Belt.

William Meyer, in charge of the trim ming process at Britton Shoe works Danawauque, Pa., was instantly killed when caught in a belt which, contrary to orders, he attempted to fix without stopping the motor. At the time he was all through the plant putting in belt guards at a cost of $10,000.

BRITISH DENT TEUTON LINE

Capture Second-Line Positions and Two Villages.

WERE TAKEN BY STORM

New Russian Force Has been Landed in France—Kaiser Reported on Somme Front.

The British captured a German trench in the neighborhood of Pozieres and made other important gains. German second-line positions along a 1500-yard front near Basentin-la-Petit wood and a position strongly held by the Germans east of Longueval were taken by the British. The Germans also have been completely driven out of Ouillevillers and La Pole-see.

Capture of the trench near Pozieres greatly strengthens the new British line in this vicinity. In Ouillevillers and La Boisselle, the British cleaned out nests of German machine gun operations, who had been holding out in cellars and behind barricades.

A total of about 100 officers and men surrendered to the British, who had steadily closed in upon them, using bombs and trench mortars, the Germans being spent of force.

In an enormous machine gun operation, the British found several hundred dived wounded Germans who had taken refuge there. It was tragic business for the British litter-bearers bringing them back through the German shell fire, which was meant for the British reserves and gun positions. There were cases where a litter-bearer was wounded and put on a stretcher empty when a wounded German on it had been killed by the same shell. The British persisted until all who had not received a final wound in transit were safe in the rear.

A captured record of a German bat talion shows that 600 of its members were killed or wounded by the British shell fire bombardment before the attack began.

Reports from the area of the allied offensive in the Somme region indicate one of the usual periods of infantry inactivity incident to operations of this sort. The attacking forces meanwhile are consolidating their newly won positions and bringing up heavy artillery preparatory to renewed attacks.

Emperor William is reported at the Somme front. The emperor, according to Reuters' Amsterdam correspondent, has received reports from the chief commander, visited hospitals, distributed iron crosses and made speeches in the Verdun region the French have been on the aggressive. Following up successes yesterday west of Fleury, southwest of Vaux, they gain of additional ground in the same region, capturing three machine guns in their advance. In Lorraine, south east of Nancy, two German attacks were repulsed.

The landing of an additional contingent of Russian troops in France, supplementing the force estimated at 25,000 sent late in April and early in May, was announced. These will be sent to camp from Brest and later to the front.

HAY GETS JUDGESHIP

Virginia Congressman Named for Federal Bench.

President Wilson nominated Representative James Hay, of Madison, Va., chairman of house military affairs committee, for judge of the United States court of appeals to succeed Judge George W. Atkinson, who retired for age.

Mr. Hay has represented the seventh Virginia district in Congress for twenty years, and since his youth has been a power in the Virginia Democratic political organization.

Sharks Spoil Florida Fishing.

The schooner W. D. Cash, of the Tampa, Fla., fishing fleet, returned to port because fishing, the captain said, is made impossible by schools of huge sharks. The sharks take fish that are hooked before they can be brought into the boat.

Congress Adjournment by Aug. 20. Adjournment of congress not later than August 20 was tentatively agreed upon by the senate Democrats in caucus to revise their legislative program with a view to bringing the session to an early close.

Two Canoeists Drown.

W. M. Bernard, Reading, a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad, and H. R. Heiney, Portville, were drowned when their canoe overturned in the Schuylkill river, near Norristown, Pa. Three other men, one of whom admitted that he was partly responsible for the overturning of the canoe, and was arrested, reached safety with difficulty.

Bernard and Heiney, together with Horace Overdorf, Spring City; Harry T. Rittenhouse and Harry T. Rittenhouse, Jr., Norristown, entered a canoe belonging to the Vesper Boat Club of Norristown.

According to Rittenhouse, Jr., the men were laughing and joking when they entered the craft, and Overdorf started rocking the canoe. Already overturned, the canoe shipped water and in an instant had overturned throwing the men into the river.

Bernard and Heiney were caught under the canoe overturned in the river. Heiney was struggling to get out from under the craft, but the drowning man grasped him around the neck and he was forced to free himself to prevent being dragged down. The other men, except Bernard, had in the meantime reached shore and spread the alarm.

Heiney appeared on the surface and bystanders pulled him ashore. Doctors put the pulmotor to work, but he could not be resuscitated, dying a few minutes after being brought to shore. Overdorf was arrested and held in $1000 bail.

Lightning Kills Farmer.

Jacob Bond, of Effort, near Stroudsburg, Pa., and his two horses were instantly killed by a bolt of lightning. With his three sons he was at work getting in hay. He was driving a two-horse hay rake and his sons were following up. When the bolt struck the driver was thrown several feet from his seat, the two horses dropped dead, and the hay rake was torn and twisted into a score of pieces. The sons were momentarily dazed. Not a mark on a man or beast was to be seen.

FOUR TRACKMEN KILLED

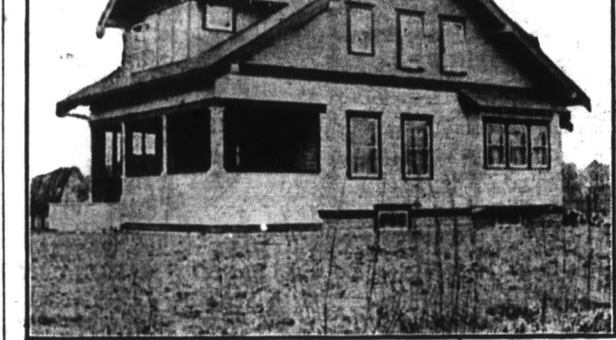

Step Out of Way of One Train in Front of Express.

Through an accident, four track men were killed and one was injured on the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania railroad, just east of Whitford Station, near Coatesville, Pa.

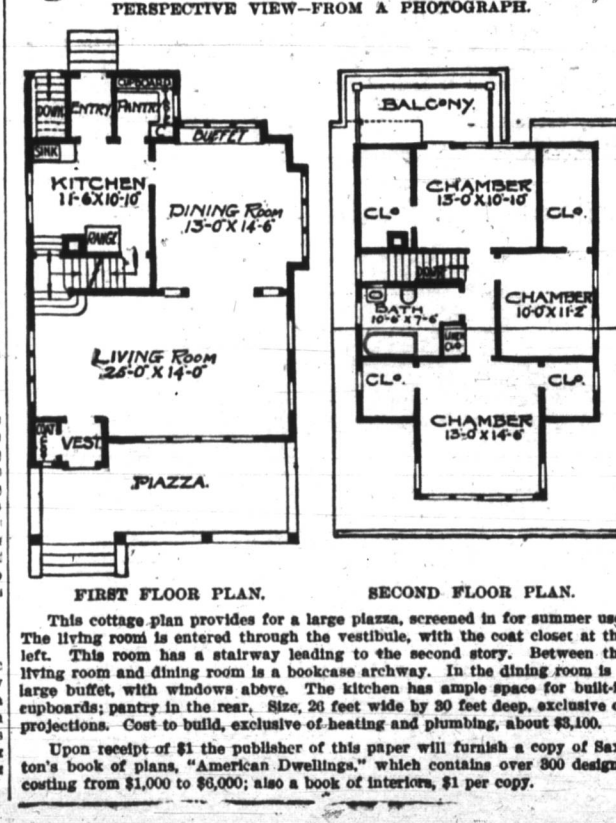

The four track laborers, in charge of an assistant track foreman, were

COTTAGE WITH AN UP TO DATE PIAZZA

Design 1010, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

30 MAY BE DEAD IN SOUTHERN FLOOD

Hundreds Made Homeless When Streams Overflow.

LOST TEN TO FIFTEEN MILLION

Heroic Attempts at Rescue—Some Are Saved From Tree Tops, Others Swept Away.

Flood waters which swept parts of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and West Virginia, taking a toll of at least nine lives, with the death of twenty-one others reported but unconfirmed, rendering hundreds of persons homeless and doing property damage estimated at from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, are receding.

The worst conditions obtained in western North Carolina, where the flood was described as the most disastrous in the history of that section most heavily, but with train service at a standstill, with washouts, slides and bad bridges. Telegraph service badly crippled and roads almost impassable. It may be several days before the full extent of death and destruction will be determined.

A despatch from Asheville says the body of Miss Charlotte Walker, a nurse, was found at Biltmore. Miss Mabel Foster, another nurse, and Miss Louise Walker, also lost their lives. These with the death of Lonnie Trexler, a white laborer, and Luth or Frasier, a negro, brings the list to eight. Two more were drowned carrying food to persons marooned in a hotel.

Captain J. C. Lipe was drowned when his home was washed away at Biltmore. Miss Nellie Lipe and Mrs. Lee Mulholland, daughters of Captain Lipe, were found in the tops of trees. Seventy-five families, mostly cotton mill workers, in the lower sections of Asheville, lost their homes and are being cared for by a citizens' relief committee.

Between Asheville and Salisbury railroad bridges were washed away and the Catawba river. Similar conditions obtained down the Swannanoa river, around Lexington, N. C., and dead animals wreckage from mills, cotton, tobacco oil and other debris floated down the stream.

In the Piedmont section of South Carolina crops suffered great damage. Highway bridges were washed away and railroad service was badly interrupted. From Georgetown, S. C., came reports of damage to water from property and stores.

The immediate cause of floods around Asheville was the bursting of the dam at Hendersonville, N. C., and that of Kanuga. Volumes of water swept down the Swannanoa river, on gulfing portions of the Vanderbilt estate and the village of Biltmore, laid out twenty-five years ago by George W. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt has taken an active part in the rescue work.

The rescuers brought in Joseph Kilian and three other employees of the Southern railroad who had been lodged in trees in the Catawba river, a mile below where the railroad bridges went down with them.

A boat containing four men who were trying to save Kilian and his companions capsized, and it is feared the men are lost.

All hope of saving any of the other eleven railway employees swept away with a bridge has been given up. A tree holding some of the men was swept down the stream and the men abandoned. The Union Telegraph company are also reported lost.

The Southern railway bridge near Rock Hill was swept away, cutting all traffic southward over the Southern lines. Mecklenburg county has lost three bridges, costing $150,000. The Southern Air Line and Piedmont and Northern railway bridges are both swept away.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson IV.—Third Quarter, For July 23, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xviii, 1-22. Memory Verses, 9, 10—Golden Text, Acts xviii, 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

I do not know that we can tell how long Paul remained at Athens, but he gave a faithful testimony, and some believed (chapter xviii, 34). The messenger of the Lord is apt to be discouraged if he finds opposition to his message and seemingly few, if any, believing, or if after a faithful testimony there is neither a "thank you" nor a word of appreciation. It is true that we must never speak to please people nor covet their approval, but most of us are so awfully human that a word of gratitude from one who has been helped by the message is very cheering (1 Thess. II, 4; 1 Tim. II, 15). The devil will be sure to tell you that you have accomplished nothing and had better seek some other occupation, and messengers have been known to heed his suggestion. I am thankful that some one said to me many years ago, as I wondered if my good work was being done by not being a burden to them (1 Cor. xii, 13-16). It does sound a little like sarcasm. The Lord Jesus Himself was known as the carpenter (Mark vi, 3) and no doubt helped to make a living for the family till He began His public ministry.

When the Sabbath days came round Paul was ready to testify to the Jews in the synagogue that Jesus was the Christ, their Messiah (verses 4, 5 and margin). Silas and Timothy, whom he had left at Berea and for whom he had sent from Athens that they might come to him, reached him here at Corinth (Acts xviii, 14, 15). The phrase "pressed in spirit" (verse 6) is translated in the R. V. "constrained by the Word." Weymouth says "Paul was ready to burst and he had to speak that he might be refreshed (Job, xxxii, 18-20).

When the Jews opposed Paul and blasphemed he turned from them to the gentiles and found an open door in a house close by the synagogue, owned by a man named Justus, who worshiped God (verses 6, 7). When God wants His message proclaimed He will provide a place. I held a class in one town where all the churches were closed against me for the truth's sake, but a hotel proprietor invited us to meet in his parlors, and so we continued. Paul said concerning one place, "A great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries" (1 Cor. xvi, 9). Notwithstanding the opposition at Corinth there was much encouragement for the chief ruler of the synagogue and all his house believed and also many of the Corinthians (verse 8). No doubt it was, as always, because of the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this city" (verses 9, 10). The day that the Lord appeared to him on the way to Damascus He said, "I have appeared unto thee, and I will appear unto thee" (chapter xxvi, 16), and this was the day when the manifest work of the Holy Spirit—that the devil stirred up such opposition. How Paul must have been strengthened to continue by that most gracious visit of the Lord Jesus Himself, who came to him in the night and said, "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace; for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee. For I have many people in this