DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION CALLED.

The Democratic Convention for Alamance county, North Carolina, for the nomination of a member of the House of Representatives, and for all of our county offices, except the Clerk of the Superior Court, is hereby called to convene at the Court House in Graham, N. C., at 12 o'clock, noon, on Saturday, August 19, 1916.

Plans for the reorganization and perpetuation of the Progressive party as a National political organization were adopted at Indianapolis, Ind., Thursday, at a conference of Bull Moose representatives.

Plans for the reorganization and perpetuation of the Progressive party as a National political organization were adopted at Indianapolis, Ind., Thursday, at a conference of Bull Moose representatives. The conference, after a heated discussion, decided it would be impracticable to reassemble the Progressive National Convention and fill the vacancy on the national ticket caused by Theodore Roosevelt's declination of the nomination for President.

REFLECTIONS ON THE FLOOD.

Most of us would never do any thinking at all, if we were not started out of a vegetative existence by massive and spectacular events.

The recent flood disaster in our mountains are an illustration in point.

The recent flood disaster in our mountains are an illustration in point. They are so appalling and appalling as to arrest popular attention; but commonplace, cumulative cause have been for years setting the stage for this tragedy and no warnings whatsoever have been sufficient to arouse general public interest and set in play policies for adequate prevention and protection.

Bad Farming and Bad Forestry.

The commonplace causes are two: (1) bad forestry methods on the part of our timber companies and (2) bad methods on part of our farmers. Together they have decreased the amount of slow and safe underground drainage that is promoted by wooded areas and year-around cover crops.

The lumber companies have savagely stripped our mountain slopes bare of timber and left the slashes ready for forest fires from any chance spark.

The lumber companies have savagely stripped our mountain slopes bare of timber and left the slashes ready for forest fires from any chance spark. Our Hill Country farmers have failed to make this region what nature intended it to be—a pasture land paradise, an area of ham and bacon, beef and mutton production, a dairy farming region filled with silos, cheese factories, creameries and condenser, a live stock region protected by permanent pastures to the mountain tops, and by well built terraces for crops that require clean culture.

Inevitable Penalties.

These are the causes that have decreased underground drainage in this region and increased the swift, destructive, overrun in seasons of heavy rainfall. As a result crops are destroyed and in certain areas the people face starvation. But also the hill side farms are gone and unprotected spaces set in clean cultured crops are bare to the rocks below.

Defensive Intelligence.

Has not the time come to regulate our timber companies with reasonable statutes and adequate supervision, and to develop a well supported, effective forestry policy? If ten million dollars in bond issues will prevent a repetition of such a disaster it would be a wise investment.

And intelligent, self-interest will surely bring organized big business into co-operation with the mountain farmers, to establish a proper system of hillside farming, and to reward them with abundant market facilities and reasonable profits in the required new order of mountain agriculture?

Farm and home demonstration agents are needed in every mountain county; baby-beef clubs, pig and poultry clubs, ham and bacon factories, cheese factories, creameries and condenser, stock breeding associations, county fairs, cattle shows, improved highways, co-operative market and credit unions, railroad facilities, conveniences, and advantageous rates.

All those forms of agriculture can flourish in our mountain regions; but not, unless the farmers can market their products at a fair price and profit.

All those forms of agriculture can flourish in our mountain regions; but not, unless the farmers can market their products at a fair price and profit. Which is to say, a proper hill country farm system waits upon the intelligent assistance of organized big business—railroad companies, power companies, timber concerns, banks, mill and factory owners.

"Safety First"—What it Means in the Home.

Solomon said: "Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom, and with all thy getting, get understanding." In what better manner can this wisdom be used than in getting a good understanding of the best ways in which to safeguard our home?

A home to be perfectly safe should have a good foundation.

A home to be perfectly safe should have a good foundation. First of all, it must be built on the principle of cleanliness. Cleanliness should be practiced by every housewife. The house should be kept clean. Care should be taken that no decayed vegetables are allowed to remain in some secluded corner of the pantry.

In a home where there are children, care should be exercised to keep matches out of the reach of inquisitive little fingers.

In a home where there are children, care should be exercised to keep matches out of the reach of inquisitive little fingers. In a neighboring city the mother of two little tots left them alone in the house for a short time. On her return she was horrified to see her 3-year-old boy enveloped in flames, from which he died a few hours later. Had she put into practice the principle of "Safety First," by putting the matches under lock and key, if need be, the parents would not now be mourning the loss of that little life.

The practice of filling the gasoline stove while burning is very dangerous.

The practice of filling the gasoline stove while burning is very dangerous. Many lives are lost each year in that way. The gasoline stove, at its best, is a dangerous convenience. The day is not far distant when it will be discarded for the electric device, which are being perfected in such a manner as to make the cost of operating nominal.

Compliance with the laws of the State by painting the gasoline can red would prevent the mistaken use of gasoline for kerosene, which is another cause of the loss of a great many lives and the burning of many homes.

The practice of keeping poisonous drugs in the household medicine chest is another source of many accidents.

"Safety First" should occupy a prominent place in every home. It is as necessary there as it is in the largest factory or shop.

BUMPER BABY CROP.

75,612 Babies Reported Born in North Carolina Last Year.

According to preliminary statistics compiled Aug. 1st by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, there were 75,612 babies born in North Carolina in 1915, says State Board of Health Bulletin. This is equivalent to a birth rate of approximately 31 per thousand of population. This birth rate is considerably above the average birth rate reported in the United States and is particularly gratifying when we note that during the same period, 1915, there were only 6,807 deaths reported from babies, less than one year of age, or approximately 9 per cent. of the babies born during the year.

Some interesting facts about the baby death rate are that the counties having the highest death rates were in general those counties having the lowest death rates following conditions: First, a low percentage of white population; second, a low per capita wealth; third, a high percentage of illiteracy and, conversely, those counties having the lowest baby death rate in general have the greatest per capita wealth, the best schools and the largest percentage of white population.

It is predicted that it will be nearly three weeks before trains will be running into Lenoir again, says The Landmark.

VICTORY FOR CARDUI.

Hamilton County Herald, Chattanooga, Tenn., June 23, 1916.

We are rejoiced at the great victory won by Z. C. Patten, Jr., and the Chattanooga Medicine Co., at Chicago.

Thyru returned a verdict in favor of the makers of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and held the American Medical Journal guilty of libel for publishing that Cardui is a nostrum without merit.

In short, the United States Court has played the seal of its approval upon the remedy Cardui after one of the most exhaustive trials in the history of the country.

All Chattanooga will rejoice, and the verdict will attract nation-wide attention.

Shoot Clerk, Steal $37,000.

Five motor car bandits held up pay clerks entering the plant of the Burroughs Adding Machine company, in Detroit, Mich., and after shooting one of the clerks, escaped with bags said to have contained $37,000.

Employees of the Burroughs plant, in another car, gave chase, and a running fight ensued down Second avenue.

Stork Visits Woman on Train.

A baby was born between Harrisburg and Lancaster on a Pennsylvania railroad train. The mother, wife of a German clergyman, was on the way from Chicago to Rahway, N. J., where she and her husband planned to spend their vacation. The visit of the stork was made in a Pullman car. Physicians on the train attended the woman. Arrangements were made to take the mother and child to a hospital in Philadelphia.

Baldwins Get Big War Order.

Officials of the Baldwin Locomotive works, in Philadelphia, declined to confirm or deny a report from New York that the company had received an additional order for shells for the allies, totaling $15,000,000. The report had it that the shells were of the six-inch and twelve-inch sizes and were to be delivered as fast as made along with shipments of other orders placed by the allies some time ago.

Baby Bites Golf Ball; Dies.

Marie Vitacuro, 14 months, was crossing the dining room of her home in Nutley, N. J., when she discovered a portion of a golf ball. She crawled over to seize it in her little hands. Her teeth cut into the acid-filled core and the preparation spurted down her throat. She was unconscious when she was found by her mother.

Boys Catch Big Bass.

William Kantner and Harold Meek, aged 11 and 12 years, of Schuylkill Haven, caught a ten-pound bass at the Red pond. The giant fish, measuring over thirty inches, was seen by the boys coming into shallow water and wading in they cut off its retreat and threw it out on dry land.

Lightning Kills Woman.

Mrs. Frank Pardoe, forty-three years old, of Sunbury, Pa., was instantly killed by lightning. A nine-days-old baby in a crib nearby was unharmed and the woman's husband and two other children who were in the same room escaped injury.

W. Va. Democrats for Suffrage.

Woman suffrage in West Virginia is believed by suffrage workers to be a strong probability following receipt of a telegram from Clarkburg, where the state Democratic convention is in session. The convention came out flatly for woman suffrage.
