The Lone Star Ranger," an Intense Interesting Narrative of Life and Adventure in the Southwest.

Of the picturesque and turbulent life along the Mexican border back in the seventies, Zane Grey writes entertainingly in his latest work of fiction "The Lone Star Ranger," which we have secured as our next serial. Book reviewers almost in unison have declared it the best story of its kind ever written. This is what some of them say:

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Rev. i, 17, 18-Commentary Prepared

Memory Verses, 4-6.—Golden Test, Rev. i, 17, 18—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

It is certainly a rare privilege to have some studies in this last and in some respects best and most wonderful of all the sixty-six books of the Bible, the only one that has a special biessing pronounced upon those who read and hear and keep its preclous words, (1, 3). The correct title of the book is found in verse I. "The Revelation of Jesus Christ," and it is the summing up and unfolding of all things concerning Him and His Kingdom. It tells of that which God gave Him to show unto us, and He sent it by His messenger unto His servant, John. It does seem most unkind to and rebellous against such a God and Father to turn away from such a book and refuse to read it or refer to it, as many, even among preachers, do. It was John's business, as it is ours, to bear record of the Word of God and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, whose goings forth have been from old, from the days of geterality who the fulliness of time came as God man firest in the fiesh, the Word made flesh and is comling again to set up His kingdom on this earth (verses 4; chapter xil, 11; xx1, 5; xxii, 0. He sit has power and testimony of the Spirit verse 6; 1, 20. The has pruchased by His own blood (verse 4; chapter xil, 1; xx, 1; xxii, 0. He sit the first heap of the Revention of the God which He has purchased by His own blood (verse 4; chapter xil, 1; xx, 1; xxii, 0. He sit the first begotten of the dead, Christ the first fruits (verse 6; chapter xii, 1; 4; xx, 1; 1; xxii, 5; xxii, 0. He sit the first begotten of the dead, Christ the first fruits (verse 6; chapter xii, 1; 4; xx, 1; xxii, 4; xx, 1; xxii, 5; xxii, 0. He sit he first provided the provided with the above boundary consisting the provided with the above boundary consisting the provided with the above boundary and and all His words are true and faithful (verse 6; chapter xii, 1; 4; xx, 1; xxii, 4; xxii, 6. (verse 5; chapter xvii, 14; xix, 16; I Tim. vi, 15; Ps. lxxii, 11). How glori-ous He is and will be! Does not your heart cry out, "Yea. He is altogether lovely; this is my Beloved, and this is my Friend?" (Song v, 16.) As John thinks upon these things he by the Spirit breaks forth with the ascription, "Unto Him that loveth us and washed us from our sins in His own blood," reminding us of much we have so recently written in the lesson have so recently written in the lesson concerning all believers being washed, sanctified, justified (I Cor. vi, 11). In John xili, 10, He said, "He that is washed is clean every whit." It is our standing in Him which is perfect because of His come liness (Ezek, xvi, 14). Then, as to our future, see the wonders of His grace and glory in making us kings and priests unto God to reign in His kingdom (verse 6; chapters v, 9, 10; xx, 6) "Behold, He cometh with clouds" (verse 7). This is His coming in glory with His saints, as the Sun of Right-eousness, of which Enoch prophesied before the deluge; His coming to judge the nations, when they shall wail and be angry because of Him, when Israel shall look on Him whom they pierced and become a penitent nation and re-ceive Him as their Messiah (Jude 14; Zech, xiv, 5, l. c.; Mal, iv, 2; Zeph, Hi, 8; Zech. xii, 10; xiv, 1-3; Rev. xi, 18; vi, 15-17). He is Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, the first and the last (verses 8, 11; chapters iii, 14; xxi, 6; xxii, 13; Isa, xii, 4; xiiv.

6; xlviii, 12) Not all His titles can tell of Him as He should be known, and it will al-ways be true of Him, at least while we stay here, that the half has not been told. John, being in the Spirit heard behind him a great voice as of a trumpet, and, turning to see the voice, he saw seven golden candle sticks, which, he was told, represented seven churches, of which we shall hear more in our next lesson (verses f0-12. more in our next lesson (verses f0-12.

20). In the midst of the candlesticks he saw Him on whose bosom he had leaned when He was on earth, but he had never seen Him like this, not even when He was transfigured, and he was so overcome that he fell at His feet as dead (verses 13-17), but the same right hand was laid upon him, and the same right hand was laid upon him, and the same transfigured as the same or same transfigured. The same right hand was laid upon him, and the same or same transfigured as the same or same trans the same voice said so kindly. "Feat not; I was dead, but I am alive for not; I was dead, but I am alive for evermore."

In studying this book I have always used the following outline: Chapter I.—
Christ in the midst of the churches, It and III.—His last messages to the churches. IV and V.—The church gone from the earth. VI to XVIII.—Between the repulse and tween the rapture and the return.
XIX.—The marriage and the return.
XX.—The thousand years. XXI and XXII.—The New Earth. I would urge all to memorize the description of Hir in verses 13:16 until you can close your eyes and see Him somewhat as John saw Him. Memorize also the description of Him as given in xix:
11-16, for then we shall be coming with Him in His glory.
