

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places. When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health. It has benefited thousands and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you.

You can't make a mistake in taking

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything." Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

AUSTRIA HUNGARY SEVERES RELATIONS

RANGES HERSELF UNRESERVEDLY ALONGSIDE HER ALLY IN GREAT STRUGGLE.

CUBA FOLLOWS U.S. INTO WORLD WAR

FIRST OF LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES TO JOIN WITH UNITED STATES.

WAR DECLARATION EXPECTED

United States Seizes Austrian Merchant Ships Intended Here—Nothing Has Been Heard From Turkey and Bulgaria.

FORMALLY DECLARES WAR

Vote Was Unanimous—Wild Cheer Follows Speeches of Leaders in House.—Her Duty to Follow U.S.

Washington—Austria-Hungary, ranging herself unreservedly with Germany, has severed diplomatic relations with the United States, precipitating a situation which is expected here to lead to war.

Berlin, March 12.—The Austrian Charge, asked the State Department for passports for himself, his staff and the Austrian consular force in this country; and simultaneously American Minister Stovall reported from Bern that Austria had announced the break in relations to the American Embassy in Vienna.

Immediately the Treasury Department ordered the seizure of all Austrian merchant ships in American harbors, and sent to immigration stations and American guards put on board. The measure was explained as purely one of police caution, but it is realized that it may be interpreted by Austria as an act of war. In a similar situation after the break with Germany, no ships were seized until a state of war actually had been declared.

Whether Bulgaria and Turkey are preparing to follow suit still is unknown, but officials generally believe that sooner or later they will do so. Bulgarian Minister Panaretov called on Secretary Lansing to ask if this Government had any information from Sofia, but was told none had been received. Both Bulgaria and Turkey are believed to be weary of the war, but German domination of the Central European alliance is expected to drive them, as it drove Austria, to a break with Germany's new enemy.

Havana.—Cuba, not yet out of her teens as a Republic, is at war with Germany, the first of the Latin American countries to range herself alongside of the United States, her liberator and protector.

President Menocal affixed his signature to the joint resolution passed unanimously by both the Senate and House without a dissenting voice being raised, thus putting into effect the declaration that a state of war exists between Cuba and the Imperial German Government.

The joint committees appointed by the Senate and House agreed upon the phraseology of the resolution to be passed and the stage was set for quick action before either branch of Congress convened.

"Article 1.—Resolved, that from to-day a state of war is formally declared between the Republic of Cuba and the Imperial Government of Germany, and the President of the Republic is authorized and directed by this resolution to employ all the forces of the Nation and the resources of our Government to make war against the Imperial German Government with the object of maintaining our rights; guarding our territory and providing for our security; prevent any acts which may be attempted against us, and defend the navigation of the seas, the liberty of commerce and the rights of neutrals and international justice.

"Article 2.—The President of the Republic is hereby authorized to use all the land and naval forces in the form he may deem necessary, using existing forces, reorganizing them or creating new ones, and to dispose of the economic forces of the Nation in any way he may deem necessary.

"Article 3.—The President will give account to Congress of the measures adopted in fulfillment of this law, which will be in operation from the moment of its publication in the official gazette."

Word Flashed Abroad.

Telegrams prepared a week ago in anticipation of the declaration, have been sent to American diplomatic and consular officials abroad instructing them to wind up their conduct of Entente interests in Austria, and of Austrian interests in Entente countries. Spain will take over American interests in Austria and Sweden will assume Austrian interests in Entente countries.

Departing Americans.

In a similar situation after the break with Germany, no ships were seized until a state of war actually had been declared.

Chief Inspector of the Port Panama notified Eusebio Azizian, Secretary to the President here, that he had observed large volumes of smoke pouring from the funnel of the self-interned German ship Bavaria. Port police went aboard the ship and were informed by her commander, Captain Grafias, that in compliance with orders from his Government, had attempted to damage the machinery in order to render the ship useless.

PRESIDENT SENDS REPLY TO POINCARÉ'S MESSAGE.

Washington.—In response to President Poincaré's congratulations upon the entrance of the United States into the war, President Wilson sent this message:

"In this trying hour when the destinies of civilized mankind are in the balance, it has been a source of gratification and joy to me to receive your congratulations upon the step which my country has been constrained to take in opposition to the relentless policy and course of imperialistic Germany."

"It is very delightful to us that France, who stood shoulder to shoulder with us of the Western world in our struggle for independence, should now give us such a welcome into the lists of battle as upholders of the freedom and rights of humanity.

"We stand as partners of the noble democracies, whose aims and acts make for the perpetuation of the rights and freedom of man and for the safeguarding of the true principles of human liberties. In the name of the American people I salute you and your illustrious countrymen."

JACKSONVILLE PIER DESTROYED BY FIRE

Jacksonville, Fla.—One of the New York piers of the Clyde Line Steamship Company was destroyed by fire here. A second pier was damaged, and a lighter laden with rosen and considerable freight was burned. The steamer Huron, lying in the slip, was moved to safety. The origin of the fire was unknown. The loss was estimated by company officials at $150,000. The pier was discovered in a corner of the pier warehouse.

Turkestan is inferior.

The commercial Turkestan alfalfa has been tested quite thoroughly in all parts of the United States and in nearly every case has proved inferior to American-grown strains.

GOOD CONCRETE FOR FLOORS

Mixture of Oil and Cement is Useful Where There is Dampness—Resists Water Pressure.

Oil-mixed concrete is useful for basement floors, walls, sills, etc., where there is more or less dampness as it resists low water pressures. From 5 to 10 per cent as much by weight of a special petroleum wax of cement is used in the mixture.

Famous Polish City.

To the tourist the most interesting building in Galata is the Church of St. Mary's, which contains the tomb of the celebrated Cossack chief, Matveev, whose intrigues with the wife of a noble at the Polish court and his dire punishment (being bound naked to the back of a wild horse and set adrift on the desert) have been immortalized in Byron's poem. The tomb is supposed to have been rifled of its remains by the Russians during one of their several descents upon the city, for the memory of Matveev is revered by the soldiers of the czar, inasmuch as he became an ally of Charles XII of Sweden. He died of poison in the same year that Peter the Great defeated Charles on the field of Poltava.

PLANS FOR FEEDING SOUTHERN CATTLE

MORE CATTLE OF THIS TYPE NEEDED IN SOUTH.

(By CHARLES A. WHITTLE, Georgia State College of Agriculture.)

A campaign in beef-cattle raising in Georgia is being waged from the college of agriculture, with particular reference to helping the farmer who has only a few head of cattle to feed and who has not yet reached the point of building a silo.

In the spring directions were given for the planting of the kinds of crops that could be grown most economically and be marketed most profitably in feeding cattle. At the present time the important phase of the work is in getting the cattle on feed in proper shape. To this end specific information has been put in the hands of every feeder in the state. The schedule of feeds and feeding embraces cottonseed meal, sorghum, oat straw or corn stover, cottonseed hulls, cowpea hay and corn.

The period covered by the schedule is from November 1 to January 29. The rations recommended are to be broken into two feeds, one for morning and the other for evening.

The schedule for cottonseed meal recommended is as follows: November 1-5, 1 pound; November 6-10, 2 pounds; November 11-20, 3 pounds; November 21-29, 4 pounds; December 1-10, 5 pounds; December 11-20, 5½ pounds; December 21-30, 6 pounds; January 1 to January 9, 6½ pounds; January 10-20, 7½ pounds.

But little corn enters into the ration. The schedule calls for beginning with corn in the feed December 1 at the rate of 3 pounds per day from the beginning of 2 pounds until December 31, when it is increased to 4 pounds and continued during the remainder of the feeding period.

Sorghum hay is scheduled to be fed at the rate of 20 pounds per day from November 1 to November 30. It is then decreased to 15 pounds until December 30, and is further decreased to 10 pounds for the remainder of the period.

Oat straw or corn stover is fed at the rate of 10 pounds from November 1 to December 1, when it is reduced to 7½ pounds until January 1, when it is further reduced to 5 pounds for the remainder of the period.

Cowpea hay is not fed until December 1, when it is introduced at 3 pounds per day, at which figure it remains until December 30, when 6 pounds are required for the remainder of the period.

Cottonseed hulls are fed at the rate of 3 pounds per day from the beginning to the end of the feeding period.

CREATION OF MUNITIONS BOARD IS ANNOUNCED

WILL BE CHARGED WITH SUPPLYING ARMY AND NAVY WITH MUNITIONS AND EQUIPMENT.

Washington.—Creation of a general munitions board was announced by the Council of National Defense. It will be headed by Frank A. Scott, a Cleveland manufacturer, and will be charged with supplying the army and navy with munitions and equipment. One of its chief functions will be to decide between the country's military and industrial needs.

The board's establishment puts into the hands of a group of army and navy officers and industrial leaders virtually the same task given the British Munitions Board. It creates machinery for a government department of munitions, with its head a Cabinet minister, if conduct of the war brings the need.

Twenty men, fifteen of them army and navy officers make up the board. Besides Mr. Scott, its civilian members are Bernard M. Baruch, Howard P. Coffin, Julius Rosenwald and Dr. Franklin Martin. From the army there are Brig. Gen. Thomas Cruise, Col. F. G. Hodgson, Col. H. Fisher, Lieut. Col. J. E. Hoffer, Major J. E. Pierce, Maj. Charles Wallace and Capt. A. B. Parker and from the navy, Rear Admiral H. H. Rousseau, Rear Admiral W. S. Capps, Commander H. Leigh, Commander T. A. Kearney, Dr. R. C. Holcomb, Paymaster J. H. Hancock and Lieut. W. B. Lemly and L. McHowe.

The board will be expected to equip and arm forces called into service, said the Defense Council's announcement, with the least possible disturbance of normal industrial conditions or interference with shipments to the Entente Allies. Its immediate efforts will be directed towards coordinating army and navy purchases and in assisting in acquisition of raw materials for manufacturing facilities and will establish precedence in army and navy orders.

BUILD UP TIRED LAND

Grasses, Cornstalks and Other Growth Add Humus.

Nothing is to be gained by burning materials.—Fire Will Destroy Seed of True Clovers—No Hastens Erosion.

Help nature build up the fields that have worked too hard and have been turned out to rest. If grasses, cornstalks, leaves and other organic materials are left on the land, they will add humus to the soil. Where these materials are burned off, however, all the organic substances are given off in the form of gases, and only the mineral matter is left. In the ash this is blown away by the wind and dissolved and washed away by the rains.

The improvement to the land, if all grasses and other growth are allowed to rot instead of being burned, would be worth millions of dollars to every southern state.

The destruction of useful plants is another harmful result of burning off the fields, and Dr. H. B. Brown of the Mississippi A. and M. college cautions against this. Fire will destroy the seed of all the true clovers, which are invaluable as soil builders. Many of the most valuable grasses can be killed by burning; even Bermuda will die if burned repeatedly. Perhaps the greatest harm is done in the woods by the killing out of seeds as they drop from the trees and by killing the young trees, thus preventing the reproduction of forests.

Besides the damage done by fires, in the removal of plant food and killing out of vegetation, they greatly hasten erosion. On the other hand the cornstalks and grasses in the fields, and the large masses in worn-out soils prevent the rains washing out gullies and help to hold the water as it soaks into the ground.

PRUNING WELL EACH WINTER

Hand-Picking of Fruit in Summer Can Be Made Unnecessary—Operation Stimulates Trees.

Many letters are coming to the horticultural workers at Clemson college from people who ask whether it is better to prune peach trees to thin the fruit, or to give the trees but a light pruning at this season and thin the fruit by hand-picking next summer. They are advised that in every instance it will be found better to give the trees a good pruning each winter. This will not only do away with the necessity for hand-picking during summer, but will also stimulate the trees and cause them to put on a better crop of fruit buds for the next season.

Healthy peach trees always put on more fruit buds than they can support, provided they all set fruit. There is no better way of thinning these trees than by correct winter pruning. Moreover, there is no little labor attached to hand-pruning in summer and a man saves much by avoiding the necessity of it except in the few cases where it is absolutely necessary.—Clemson College Bulletin.

STORAGE HOUSE FOR ONIONS

Building Must Be Dry and Constructed to Permit Fairly Even Temperature and Ventilation.

A large part of our onion crop is not marketed immediately after harvest, but is stored and disposed of gradually during the winter. Storage houses are of different types, from a single shed in which fire is kept to prevent freezing in extreme weather to well constructed structures which keep an almost constant temperature during the storage period. A good storage house for onions must be dry and so constructed that a fairly uniform temperature may be maintained. Good ventilation, freedom from moisture and uniformity of temperature are all important, and onions will stand considerable frost without injury and may be kept well even if frozen.

PROFITABLE FEEDING OF COW

Thorough Knowledge of Individual Animals as Well as of Value of Feeds is Essential.

The feeding of a dairy cow should be governed by the cow's capacity to produce milk. By keeping a daily record of each cow's production the skillful feeder soon finds that some cows in the herd respond to an increased allowance of feed and return a good profit on it, while others are limited in milk capacity and overfeeding them is unprofitable. Profitable feeding requires a thorough knowledge of the individual cows as well as of the value of feeds.

LIVE STOCK HELP FERTILITY

Wealthiest States of Country Grow Legumes—Stay Pretty Close to the Bank Account.

Did you ever reflect on the relation of live-stock and legumes to community prosperity? Legumes and live-stock stay pretty close to the bank account and they are closer still to the fertility of the soil. Think of the wealthiest states in the Union and then see if they do not grow a great many legumes and a great deal of live-stock.

HELP FOR GIRLS DESIRING EDUCATION

We have on our campus an apartment house, a two story building of 25 rooms, with a frontage of 100 feet which may be used by girls who wish to form clubs and live at their own charges.

Pupils can live cheaply and comfortably in this way, many of them having their table supplies sent to them from their homes.

Lesson III.—Second Quarter, For April 15, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, John x, 1-18—Memory Verses, 11, 12—Golden Text, John x, 11—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The Golden Text seems to be the heart of the lesson this time if not always. While in our lesson He is the Good Shepherd laying down His life for the sheep and giving unto them eternal life, with the assurance that they can never perish nor any power take them from Him (verses 11, 15, 27, 28), in Heb. xiii, 20, He is the Great Shepherd risen from the dead, living His life in us and working in us that which is well pleasing in the sight of the God of Peace. In I Pet. v, 4, He is the Chief Shepherd who shall give account to His faithful followers of His appearing. In Gen. xlix, 24; Ps. lxxxv, 1, He is the Shepherd of Israel. This last shall be fully seen when Ezek. xxxiv, 11-16, and verse 31 shall be fulfilled, and then shall be seen the significance of Ps. xxiii as never before in the history of the world. In our lesson chapter He is talking to Israel, but He spoke of other sheep whom He must bring (verse 16), and some of those we are now gathering to complete His body, the church, but the full gathering of the nation to Him shall be after Israel has learned to say, "The Lord is my Shepherd," according to Zech. ii, 10-13: "Many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day and shall be my people." Also Jer. lii, 17, "At that time they shall call Jerusalem the Throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the Lord to Jerusalem."

He had been dealing with and was in the midst of thieves and robbers, who sought to enter the fold, but not by the door. They were persistently robbing God and making His house a den of thieves (Mat. xiii, 12; Matt. xxi, 13). He is the door as well as the Shepherd, the only way of access to God, God's own appointed way, and it is not possible to come to God but by Him (verses 7; chapter xiv, 6). But by Him, the door, any man may enter in and be saved and in Him find pastures green and waters of quietness (verse 6), peace as a river and righteousness as the waves of the sea (Isa. xlviii, 17). All who are not Christians are in the employ of the leader of all thieves and robbers and liars and murderers, the devil, of whom He said in a recent lesson that these religious hypocrites were his children (verse 10; viii, 44). With righteous wrath He denounced them in these words: "Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?" (Matt. xxiii, 33).

The Spirit through Paul said to Elymas, who tried to turn a man away from the door to life, "O full of all subtilty and all mischief, child of the devil, enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord? And now I will lay down His life for us, that we may be saved, and He abundantly for all who will receive Him. He gives freely that which He has purchased at so great a price, even the sacrifice of Himself. Life, eternal redemption, and all that is included in such expressions become the sure and everlasting possession of all who receive Him, and there is nothing in the Bible that in any way conflicts with the positive assurance of verses 27-30. See Heb. 1, 3; ix, 12, 26; Rom. vi, 23; I Cor. 15, 50-54). Contrast the Good Shepherd, who is laying down His life for us, has provided life, and life abundantly for all who will receive Him.
