IN CHARGE TO GRAND JURY IS CHARLOTTE.

The following is from the Char lotte Observer of April 3rd:

"In this time of stress no man has a right to individual opinion, there should be but one opinion and that is the winning of the war, and after that, when liberty and freedom are on a firm foundation, again the individual will have the right to express his view on mattere of comon interest," declared Judge Jas. E. Boyd in a magnificent and stirring charge to the grand jury upon the convening of the federal court here Tuesday morning.

Speaking quietly, plainly and in a dignified manner Judge Boyd told ress of military affairs for the alles the jury, while the large audience listened intently, that this is a time for the people to stand behind the government, and he said that if ever there was a place in this state or the United States that should be given compeletely to the preservation of erican liberty, it should be in Mecklenburg county, where the first Mecklenburg county, where the first declaration of independence in this if Amiens itself is held by the allies. country was drawn up.

Early in the day, President Wilson eral Pershing placed at the disposal of the French commander the American forces now on French soil. General Foch is given supreme command over all the men on the battle lines, and, in addition, has a strategic resional, Judicial and Senatorial serve force, the size and location of conventions.

After eight days, during which it has swept forward over the rolling hills of Picardy, at times like a tidal wave the German offensive has slowed down. Instead of a sweeping advance, its progress has been checked at all but one sector of the front, and there it has been merely creeping for the last two days-this fact even admitted by the German war of which usually concedes nothing.

FRENCH MAKE DRIVE INTO GERMAN LINES

Slowly assuming the shape of giant ploughshare, the German drive in Picardy has come almost to a half except at the very tip of the salient driven into the lines of the entente allies. As this area covered by the Teutonic offensive stands now, it runs on the south, in an almost straight line from Landricourt, on the old "Hinden from Landricourt, on the old "Hinden burg line," to Montdidier, well behind the allied positions as they stood in 1916.

Savage fighting has taken place of man attempts to advance on the ex treme tip of the salient driven into the French positions have been fruitless and they have been driven back at the point of the bayonet. My words are not powerful enough to do even scanty justice to the most heroic figure in the modern world, and of past ages—the woman of France of the healthy men who are engaged in the military service in France, practically all are engaged either in transportation or in the manufacture of munitions, leaving the agriculturs absolutely to the women. Not only this, but they have stepped into the place of work animals; you can go into any section of France today and see women of magnificent, noble womanhood see the difference this first bottle but they have stepped into the place of work animals; you can go into any section of France today and see women of magnificent, noble womanhood hitched to the plough and cultivating the soil. All of the agriculture rest upon their shoulders. The home, always an extremely efficient home, main tains a few old men, the wounded and the tubercular. The American army in France to fight shoulder to shoulder with the British and French troops who now are engaged in the titanic struggle with the Germans in Picardy. eral Pershing's entire force has been the new generalissimo, who is to use the men where he desires.

More than 100.00 Americans, inten sively trained and fully accoutered, are available or immediate use in aiding to stem the tide of the German hordes, and large numbers of them, on railroad trains and in motor trucks, and even afoot, already are on their way to the battle front, eager to do their part in defeating the invaders.

The miserable weather which has broken over the country is proving no deterrent to the Americans as they push forward from all directions toward the battle zone

The acceptance by France of General Pershing's offer for all American men and material for the presen emergency has in effect virtually re-sulted in a unified army command, so far as the French army and American forces are concerned. This is shown by the fact that the orders is-French origin. Great activity continued throughout e zone where the American troops are quartered, etc., as sent.

Even more activity was observed behind the German lines opposite the American front on the Toul sector An entire battalion was seen on the march. Infantry at other points was being shifted about, while the cavalry also was seen again. Numerous automobiles of members of the Ger-man staff made their appearance be-hind the lines.

Three American patrols penetrated the enemy's lines. One patrol went in until electrically charged barbed wire was encountered. This was cut. Enemy sniping posts took warning and opened fire on the Americans, who were forced to retire. No casualties were suffered.

Another patrol inspected German front line trenches, but did not en counter a single German. The third patrol penetrated the enemy's wire field to a French airplane which fell there last week. The engine of the plane was found to have been re moved.

The enemy gas-shelled the American batteries without effect.

The sending of General Pershing's fighting troops to places in the British-French line has been expected by military experts to follow the creation of a unified command under the French chief of staff, General Foch, and General Pershing's formal offer of all the available American resources.
